ALL YEAR CLUB FUND GROWING

Total of $10,000 Reported Donated Yesterday

As Much More Promised by Workers Today

Many Former Subscribers Increase Amounts

Subscriptions totaling more than $10,000, from approximately fifty contributors, were reported yesterday at the regular luncheon meeting, at the Alexandria, of the workers in the campaign of the All-Year Club of Southern California, for a minimum advertising fund of $350,000 for 1924.

The business men, who are assisting in the campaign, pledged themselves to more than double this amount in reports that will be made public today. They were especially enthusiastic following the announcement of many increases in subscriptions by former subscribers. One of these increases was accompanied by a notable letter of indorsement from W. H. Harrison, general manager of the Los Angeles Investment Company.

MR. HARRISON'S LETTER

Mr. Harrison wrote:

"I am forwarding herewith this corporation's subscription for the year 1924 to the support of your All-Year Club. This is an increase over what we subscribed in the last year or two, and in doing so I want to voice the belief of myself as well as the board of directors of this company that your work of exploiting the desirability of Southern California as a summer resort has resulted in a great deal of benefit to the community.

"We are only too glad to assist in this very worthy civic undertaking."

TWO WORKERS ENROLLED

Edgar Lloyd Hampton and J. Lowell McAdam were added to the corps of workers yesterday. More assistance is urgently needed, it was stated by H. W. Keller, chairman of the club, and volunteers are requested to get in touch with C. G. Milham, executive secretary, at the Chamber of Commerce.

Subscriptions announced at the meeting included: Allen Heat Supply Company, Bolton Printing Company, Cline Stewart Company, E. Clarke Comer, Eagle Rock Lumber Company, Electric Corporation, Elliott & Horne Company, Forbes Brothers Company, Fern, Pettibone Company, Fraze Electrotype Company, Fullerton Oil Company, Giles Publishing Company, Gilmore Oil Company, Hansen Desk Company, Kierulf & Ravencroft, Los Angeles Brick Company, Los Angeles Investment Company, Los Angeles Railway Company, Lyday Printing and Lithograph Company, John C. Lynch Company, Lyon Fireproof Storage Company, W. H. Mannerviam Brothers, Paulin, Pelton, Inc., W. E. Pierce Desk Company, Craft Realty Company, Trosper Ornamental Iron Works, E. P. Twomey Company, Rodeo Land and Water Company; Union Lithograph Company, Western Ammunition Supply Company, Western Furniture Manufacturing Company, Western Light and Fixture Company, Western Lithograph Company and The Yamatoya Company.

Miles of Water Piping Ordered by City Board

Sixty miles of cast-iron water pipe, to be laid during 1924 as part of the city's distributing system, were ordered yesterday by the Public Service Commission. The Pacific Pipe and Supply Company, which was low bidder, according to Chief Engineer Mulholland, will supply the pipe. The pipe will be of four, six and twelve inches in diameter and will weigh more than 5000 tons. The extensions planned by the water bureau for the coming year will amount to $328,000.

During the last twelve months, Mr. Mulholland said, 229 miles of mains and laterals have been laid by the water bureau. Of this, 191 miles were laid in the city proper, thirteen miles in the Harbor District and twenty-five miles in the San Fernando Valley. The city now has 1886 miles of water mains and laterals, serving 146,000 separate water services in homes, stores and factories.

Fruit Shower for Orphans Is to be Started

The annual fruit shower by the Los Angeles Orphans' Home Society for the children at the orphans' home will be conducted from the 15th to the 20th inst., according to an announcement yesterday by Mrs. E. P. Johnson, heading the committee in charge.

Liberal donations of all kinds of canned and preserved fruit or vegetables are expected to be received this year, as in the past, the committee stated. There are at present in the home 104 children between 18 months and 16 years of age who will benefit.

Donations should be left either at the home, 515 El Centro street, or at the headquarters of the society, 606 South Grand avenue.

DRUM CORPS PARADE

Crack Legion Players Will Be Here the 20th Inst.

Racine, Wis., will be represented at Los Angeles on the 20th and 21st inst. by members of her American Legion Drum Corps, which will attend the convention of the American Legion in San Francisco. The information has been received in a letter from the advertising Club of Racine by the local organization yesterday.

The letter, signed by Frederick T. H. Van Horn of the Racine club states that more than $10,000 was raised by Racine organizations to send the drum corps to the convention.

According to plans, the Legion drummers will parade Los Angeles' downtown district on the morning of their arrival. The drum corps is the official drum corps of the national organization of the American Legion.

Ten-Year Attack Is Launched

Washington Conference Called to Give Moral Support to Dry Enforcement

Plan to Build Up Strong Public Opinion Against Lawbreakers

BY ROBERT HARRY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

Portions 1923, Public Ledger

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—An effort to accomplish through organization of the moral forces of the country what it has not been possible to achieve through constitutional enactment and the police power will begin here tomorrow. A three-day conference of politically, industrial and religious leaders will seek to devise methods to render prohibition effective.

The militant "dry" leaders announced the conference would be followed by similar sessions in a number of cities. They propose to enter upon a "stand-up fight" for respect for law. They are ready to spend a ten-year campaign to make America dry. Through organization they brought Congress and the legislatures of forty-five states to act and they believe that through organization they can make drinking unpopular in the United States.

The leaders of the conference are not setting out to attack bootlegging and high jacking and rum running and moonshining. They will weaken the evil on the other hand. They propose to so create public sentiment for respect for law that a citizen of respectability who now admits a bootlegger through a rear door, who abhors murder and theft and immorality, will come to see in the last analysis it is a crime to the law that is at the bottom of all these evils.

BRIDGES' VIEWS

Senator Frederick Bridges, who was a close friend of President Harding, who is given credit today as the "father" of the conference, sought to carry that thought in his address last speech at Denver, June 26.

Senator Bridges, in addressing the conference, said: "I am not asking any pussyfooting sentimentalists to come believing the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead Act are largely distorted and unenforceable. They come feeling that there has been an impression created which has brought about the passage of these laws has subsided.

"I am here to declare that I believe the fact and are prepared to believe less than a ten-year campaign that the laws can be enforced to represent the moral point and moral aspirations of a great people shall not fail."

Cologne and Capital Menaced by Throngs Angry Over Excessive Prices

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

DUESSELDORF, Oct. 12.—The French authorities conferred today with German officials and representatives of the employers and unemployed regarding plans for relieving the distress of the people here.

After obtaining approval from Berlin, the city agreed to increase the amount of relief for the unemployed to 350,000,000 marks each daily, with an additional 50,000,000 to heads of families, but as even this is admittedly inadequate, the city officials are trying to induce Berlin government to augment it. Free soup kitchens are being considered.

The French cavalry today was patrolling the streets and the population was forbidden to move about after 10 o'clock at night.

An unemployment demonstration accompanied by rioting and plundering of stores at Solingen, in British occupied territory, last night, resulted in the killing of two persons and the wounding of seventeen others, according to reports received at French headquarters here today.

FATALITY IN COLOGNE

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

COLOGNE, Oct. 12.—A number of casualties, including at least one fatality, occurred here late yesterday when crowds aroused because of the high prices began attacking and plundering warehouses and food shops and became engaged in clashes with the police. Wagons and automobiles hauling food supplies were attacked and provisions carried away.

BERLIN, Oct. 12.—Food riots occurred this morning in two of Berlin's densely populated sections, where the population is without potatoes or meat.

BOLSHEVISM UNAMERICAN SHAW SAYS

Ex-Cabinet Member Declares Country Should be "Unsafe for Democracy"

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

STOCKTON, Oct. 12.—"Our fight is to make America unsafe for Democracy," was the declaration of Leslie M. Shaw of Washington, D. C., former Secretary of the Treasury and hoe-time Governor of Iowa, whose address was the feature of the California Bar Association's session this morning.

Mr. Shaw contrasted the difference between representative government as set up by the republic created by the forefathers of our nation and the Russian soviet, which he pointed out as an example of true democracy.

Passage of the La Follette amendment designed to empower Congress to veto decisions of the Supreme Court on constitutional questions, would enable Congress to snap its fingers at the rights of individuals, the rights of the States, the rights and powers of the President and of the Courts, Attorney Hugh Henry Brown of Tonopah, Nev., asserted in an address today before the California Bar Association convention here.

A coterie of Senators and Representatives, as well as various organizations, are behind La Follette and his proposed amendment, the speaker charged.

"The decisions of the Supreme Court," Brown asserted, "show that from time to time, in peace and in war, executives and Congresses and Legislatures have tried to jump the traces, usually urged on by some impetuous factions. In every instance the Supreme Court has rebuked the error."

The speaker closed with an appeal to "let the organized bar of California stand at the gates and keep the State sound on this question."

Murder Charged in Deaths From Poison Whisky

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PANA (Ill.) Oct. 12.—John Tokoly, proprietor of a soft drink parlor, his two sons, Paul and Stephen, and Robert A. Smith, a chemist, tonight were ordered held without bond on charges of murder for the grand jury by a Coroner's jury which investigated the deaths of five men, presumably from poisonous whisky, here Wednesday and yesterday.

The jury returned a verdict that the men died as a result of drinking fusel oil in beverage sold to them by John Tokoly.

RAIL BANDITS EVADE POSSES

Gang That Killed Four in Espee Hold-up Sought in Woods; Miner Reports Cabin Robbed

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TRUCKEE, Oct. 12.—Bandits who yesterday murdered four trainmen in the holdup of Southern Pacific train No. 13 in a tunnel seventeen miles south of Ashland, Or., still were at liberty tonight, having succeeded for more than thirty hours in dodging California and Oregon posses in the wooded districts of the Siskiyous.

Al Whitmore, a miner living in Kalmath River north of here, reported to the Sheriff's office that three men broke into his cabin last night in search of food. Whitmore did not know at the time that the train robbery had been committed and he supposed the trio were ordinary marauders, he said.

STRANGERS AT HILTS

It became known today that three strangers spent several days in the town of Hilts, Cal., and vanished from there on the day the robbery took place. These men were not known in Hilts and their presence there has not been explained.

Bloodhounds today failed to pick up the scent of the desperadoes. Other hounds from Seattle, Salem and Treka are to be given trials later.

Contrary to first belief that the bandits fled empty-handed, it was said today by W. G. Chandler, special agent of the Southern Pacific Company for this division, that they undoubtedly obtained some loot from the mail car before it was consumed by fire caused by the explosion.

THREE HOURS TO WORK

"They had almost three hours in which to operate before officers arrived," Chandler pointed out, "and we have evidence that tends to show they shot the mail clerk before they dynamited the car. They probably took everything of value they could find, but as yet we are not in a position to check up on contests of the mail car."

Two suspects were detained here today, but authorities admitted they have no evidence against either of them.

USED MAGNETO EXPLODER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Reports today from Daniel O'Connell, chief special agent of the Southern Pacific Company, who is investigating yesterday's hold-up of train No. 13, indicate that the explosion in the mail car was set off by means of a magneto exploder equipped with long wires.

Two men believed to have taken part in the hold-up boarded the train as it was leaving Siskiyou. One wore a duck-hunting coat and the other wore a slicker. Each apparently was not more than 30 years of age and of medium height and weight.

Gen. Frank T. Hines of the Veterans' Bureau was a passenger on the train. It was erroneously reported earlier that Brig.-Gen. Charles G. Dawes was aboard.

AMERICAN CONCORD HAILED

Secretary Hughes Asserts Relations of United States and Sister Republics Were Never Better

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Relations between the United States and its sister republics to the south were never more satisfactory or carried better promise of mutual good will, Secretary Hughes said here tonight, speaking at the Columbus Day conference of the Pan-American International Woman's Committee.

"I say this," he said, "after taking into account the complaining utterances that find place from time to time in the press and the criticism of those mentors and publicists who supply the tans which gives relish to our intellectual repasts. The millenium itself would turn out to be a tame affair if no fault could be found with it."

Mr. Hughes said he was happy "to say that there are no controversies with any of our sister republics which have not been settled, or are not in process of adjustment."

GRIEVANCES ABSENT

He called attention to the resumption of diplomatic relations with Mexico, the establishment recently of "an accord with Columbia," and added:

"We are entering upon a period in our relations with Latin-American States notable for the absence of serious grievances."

The Secretary referred also to the aid the American government had been able to give to "the promotion of peace and stability among the countries of Latin-America," pointing to the arbitration agreement between Chile and Peru worked out in Washington, and also to the conference of Central American republics and to the plans for withdrawal of American military forces from Santo Domingo.

DEFENDS BRAZIL MISSION

Mr. Hughes referred to the sending of an American naval commission to Brazil, his statement being obviously in answer to criticism of that action.

"If such a mission were to be had," he said, "there was no reason why we should not furnish it, not that our influence should be thrown in the direction of competition in armament; or in the stirring up of strife, but decidedly to the contrary, that our influence should be most helpful in avoiding waste and provocative outlays and in having necessary training conducted in accord with the aims of peace."

PROBLEM EUROPEAN

The Secretary expressed regret that the recent Pan-American conference at Santiago, Chile, has been unable to agree on a program for limitation of armament. He pointed out, however, that the problem of armed force was

STATE FIGHT ON CRIME

Bar Association Opens Drive

Committee to be Appointed to Aid in Revision of Penal Code

Convention Promises Active Help in Obtaining More Speedy Justice

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STOCKTON, Oct. 12.—Definite action to bolster up the penal laws of the State and so revise criminal procedure that the punishment of felons will be expedited and made more effective has been taken by the California State Bar Association, in annual session here.

The association late last night, after a stirring appeal by Maj. Walter K. Tuller, chairman of the Los Angeles Crime Commission, voted to appoint a committee to co-operate in revising criminal laws and procedure and authorized an appropriation for this work.

The findings of this committee, which will be named in a short time, will be placed before the next Legislature for incorporation in the penal code of the State.

FIRST ATTEMPT

The action of the association is the first real attempt by the lawyers of the State as a unit to correct the present deficiencies and contradictions in the penal code and to inject vigor into the processes with which these laws are administered. The action came almost as a direct answer to the statement of Maj. Tuller that unless the attorneys of the nation take the lead in bringing criminals to justice the American public will take the law into its own hands.

Visibly stirred by Maj. Tuller's dramatic plea for forceful action on the part of those who more than any others can encourage respect and proper appreciation and fear of the law, the delegates adopted the resolution calling for the appointment of the committee by an overwhelming majority.

To insure that the committee will not be handicapped in its work, the members also voted to appropriate what is believed to be a sufficient sum for the undertaking.

In his address, Maj. Tuller pointed out that the crime wave was in large part due to faulty administration of the law and urged that sweeping amendments to the penal code be drafted and submitted to the next Legislature.

CHANGES URGED

A number of these proposed changes in the code are indicated in a report of a committee of five appointed last year and submitted yesterday.

The committee recommended:

That the penal statutes be amended to permit the trial jury or prison board to determine whether sentences shall run concurrently or consecutively.

That the minimum sentence of a convicted felon be set at two years instead of one as at present.

Establishment of psychopatic hospitals by the State.

Completion of the Folsom institution for the criminally insane.

Amendment of the penal statutes to cover insanity and alibi as defenses in criminal cases to be especially pleaded.

Trial judges to be empowered to appoint experts to be paid by the State in criminal cases in which insanity is an issue.

Increasing the powers of the State Bureau of Criminal Identification to enable it to collect data in regard to crimes and to coordinate the efforts of local officers.

The association will continue in convention through today.

SLAYER OF UNCLE DIES OF WOUNDS

Suicide Attempt, After Murder, Robbery and Gun Fight, Succeeds

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

REDWOOD CITY, Oct. 12. — James Moore, who shot himself yesterday after beating to death his uncle, James H. Doolittle, wealthy retired hotelman, in an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Doolittle home, died in a hospital here today.

Moore was found in a closet in the Doolittle home with a bullet wound in his head after he had engaged in a pistol fight with the police and deputy sheriffs. Near by was a satchel filled with silver plate and jewels.

An investigation disclosed the body of Doolittle tied to a chair in a downstairs room with the skull crushed in, Mrs. Doolittle was found later in an upstairs room, tied to a bed, but uninjured.

The police had been given the alarm by J. Carroll Doolittle, a relative of the murdered man, who was also bound and gagged by Moore, but escaped from the thongs, dropped from a second-story window and went to a nearby residence, where he telephoned for help.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BOISE (Idaho) Oct. 12.—Approximately 200,000 tons of sugar beets were grown in Idaho this year, according to W. T. Scilley of the Amalgamated Sugar Company. In the Twin Falls district alone approximately 4000 acres of sugar beets were grown.

WEEKS'S REPLY SPIKES HENRY FORD'S CHARGE

War Secretary Shows Government Was Obliged to Sell Shoals Plant to Power Company

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Secretary Weeks, in replying today to an attack on him by Henry Ford concerning the sale of Gorgas steam plant of the Muscle Shoals project, said the Detroit manufacturer's statement was "filled with reckless assertions."

Officials close to Mr. Weeks indicated that he resented the statement of Mr. Ford and considered it sufficiently grave to take up directly with the President.

Mr. Coolidge is known to be thoroughly in accord with the action taken by the War Department in selling the Gorgas plant to the Alabama Power Company for $3,472,487. The President's position, as it has been stated at the White House, is that Mr. Ford be given every opportunity to buy and lease the Muscle Shoals properties and that his offer, still before Congress, has not been affected by the sale of the Gorgas project.

Mr. Coolidge, after the recent sale of the Gorgas plant, told visitors that the government did not regard the plant as essential to the purposes which Mr. Ford had stated he had in view in acquiring Muscle Shoals. As the President put it, the administration feels that the Gorgas plant bore about the same relation to Muscle Shoals as the stem does to an apple after the fruit has fallen from the tree.

ADMINISTRATION VIEW

Administration officials, including the President, have asserted that Mr. Ford could build an auxiliary steam plant for less than the $5,500,000 represented in the Gorgas plant sale, which sum, it has been announced, would be credited to Mr. Ford on his $5,000,000, for the entire property. The view of the administration is that the Ford offer still is before Congress, and that body must determine the matter.

Although Mr. Weeks would not comment upon Mr. Ford's statement beyond issuing his own formal reply, there was every indication that he felt strongly on the charges that political influences working through alm had prevented the Detroit manufacturer from obtaining Muscle Shoals. During the day he twice discussed the situation with President Coolidge, the last time after he had prepared his answer which he carried with him to the White House.

The full text of Secretary Weeks's statement follows:

WHAT WEEKS SAYS

"Muscle Shoals was a development for nitrate purposes in the war, which included the construction of a large dam on the Tennessee River, and the construction of air-fixing nitrate plants, with large quarries and as an adjunct to these plants in order to supply power pending the completion of the water power plant a steam plant was erected ninety miles away on the Warrior River, known as the Gorgas plant.

"The total expenditures on these properties were about $182,000,000, of which less than $5,000,000 was spent upon this isolated and temporary steam plant. The steam plant was erected on the property of the Alabama Power Company, which reserved title to the land on agreed conditions with the Wilson administration for which this administration is not responsible, and which gave to them the right to purchase the Gorgas steam plant.

"The proposal made by Mr. Ford for the purchase of this entire equipment involved the payment by him of $5,000,000 for the entire plant, including the above and isolated temporary steam plant. They also involved many other conditions with regard to the completion of the water power, etc. No disposal of government property can rightfully be made by any administrative officer without the approval of Congress and I, as the responsible official in this matter, referred Mr. Ford's offer to Congress, which has so far not acted upon it.

POWER COMPANY ACTS

"In the meantime, the Alabama Power Company, under their rights in the old contract, notified the government that the lands must be vacated on or before October 15, this year. They offered to pay $3,500,000 for this comparatively small item of the whole equipment.

"At the time of the sale, in a desire not to disturb the status quo, the administration stated to Mr. Ford that this amount could

WOMAN IS STRANGLED IN HER BED

New York Police After Occupant of Next Room, Believed Minister's Son

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Police tonight broadcast descriptions of a man believed to be the son of a Montreal minister, who occupied a furnished room on West Ninety-seventh street, adjoining that of Miss Estelle Phillips, attractive department store executive, whose mutilated and almost nude body was found today on the floor near her bed. Police believe the assault was committed by a man who entered the room while Miss Phillips was asleep and strangled her in the bed before she could call for help.

A handbag containing 4 cents, found open at her feet, investigators think, was left by the murderer to give the appearance of robbery as the motive of the crime. A towel was knotted about the dead woman's throat and there were evidences of a desperate struggle.

Miss Katherine Meitria, friend of the murdered woman, and an occupant of the same house, gave the best description of the suspect after she had found Miss Phillips dead when she entered the room to arouse her this morning. She said she was awakened shortly after midnight by "smothered, gurgling sounds" from the direction of Miss Phillips's room. Alarmed, she arose and lighted the gas.

She said she heard steps in the hall a half hour later. Opening her door, she peered out and saw the man starting downstairs. His room separated hers from Miss Phillips's. The man wore a cap and carried a suit case and an Army overcoat on his arm, she said.

TO FIGHT AMERICAN FASCISTI

Conference of Peasants in Moscow Warned Against Spread of Doctrine

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MOSCOW, Oct. 12.—Organization to combat Fascisti tendencies in the United States was advocated by W. H. Green, American delegate, speaking today at the peasants' conference here in the name of the Farmer-Labor party of the United State. He said the situation in America was extremely difficult and he quoted the chairman of the steel trust as expressing approval of Fascism on his recent trip abroad and as advocating a similar organization in the United States. The workers and farmers of the entire world, he said, must unite to combat these tendencies.

Senor Galvan, president of the Mexican Peasants' League, said that every delegate on his return home must prepare the country for a new struggle; he particularly hoped the Mexican masses would be able to assist the German workers.

The French delegation proposed a resolution against the occupation of the Ruhr.

Although foreign correspondents were not admitted to the galleries, the descriptions of it in the Russian press say it is a picturesque assemblage of the peasants of many countries in their national garb, meeting in an elaborately decorated hall in what was once the Czar's palace in the Kremlin.

BOYS CONFESS TO KILLING

Four Clear Up Mystery of Michigan Farm Murder; Beat Aged Man to Death to Get Guns

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BENTON HARBOR (Mich.) Oct. 12.—The mystery of the murder of 86-year-old Henry Gearling, recluse, of Watervliet, Mich., has been cleared up with the confessions of four boys, Leon and Howard Long, brothers, 16 and 14, sons of a Watervliet farmer; Alvin Keller, 16, and Rhinehold Trichet, 16, to Sheriff G. C. Bridgman.

The boys are in the Berrien County Jail. The Gearling murder, which shocked Michigan for its cruelty, occurred in March, 1921.

NOTE THOUGHT JOKE

A note scrawled on the mail box, "Until Henry Gearling," discovered April 1, 1921, was thought an April fool joke.

The Sheriff will not say how the confessions came to be made at this time. At the time of the murder the boys were all on hand before Probate Judge Hammond, and the Berrien county juvenile officer, Rev. T. W. Bellingham, and the Long boys were sent to the Lansing Michigan Industrial School.

FOUND FARMER ASLEEP

It develops now the boys merely wanted guns. They watched Gearling's house until the lights went out, crept in, found him asleep, tied his body to the bed with a broken telephone wire and hit him on the head with a sledge hammer.

With a chisel they tried to get the safe open. They thought Gearling had money. They left him tied, but assert they did not believe him dead. They took an oath of secrecy.

BETTER TOKIO IS TO BE BUILT

Japanese Leaders Hope to Improve City

Deep-Seated Prejudices Are Only Obstacles

Movement Already Afoot for Reconstruction

Following is the fifth of a series of intimate pen pictures of the Japanese earthquake disaster, as drawn by Alfred E. Pieres, newspaper correspondent, who was in Tokio at the time of the devastating temblors.

BY ALFRED E. PIERES,
"Times" Staff Representative
[SPECIAL FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

TOKIO, Sept. 6.—As people gazed over the heart-rendering scenes of destruction that once was Tokio a question uppermost in the minds of many was: "Will Tokio revert to its pristine state of a cluster of small villages and will the future capital of the Japanese Empire be moved elsewhere?"

Of course the Imperial Palace, which has been only slightly damaged, one of the greatest links between the Throne and the Palace and a landmark in the history of Japan, both ancient and modern, will remain in Tokio. Those who figured on a possible change of capital for the Japanese Empire visualized a situation like that of India today where though Delhi is the seat of the government, Calcutta and Bombay far outstrip it in commercial, economic and even political importance, or as Australia where Camberra, the capital, is hardly to be talked of in the same breath as Sydney or Melbourne.

All speculation on this score, however, has been set aside as an official announcement declares that, phoenix-like, Tokio will arise from its ruins and will be succeeded by an even more beautiful city, which will continue to be the first city of the Mikado's realm. In other words, the history of other great cities that have been victims to earthquakes and fires is to be repeated again, like those of Lisbon, Naples or San Francisco, and Tokio will have a new lease of life as one resurrected.

The new Tokio, it is stated—and all join in the hope—will be a model city, provided the authorities can convince the people that what was good for their fathers and grandfathers is not necessarily good enough for them. This is the rub, and civic idealists will run up against difficulties as did Sir Christopher Wren when he tried to rebuild a London beautiful after the fire of 1666.

CONSERVATIVE PEOPLE

On whether the average Japanese will prefer old ways or will frown disapprovingly on them will depend the nature of the new capital of the Japanese Empire. Japan today has the opportunity that London had 250-odd years ago—of using her tremendous calamity to some good and useful purpose in constructing a beautiful, modern, model and hygienic capital city.

Left to themselves the people would undoubtedly rebuild their homes in much the same manner as they were before the quake reduced them to dust and ashes and to tender memories, for the average shopkeeper fears his customers will not find or recognize his shop unless it is a replica of its predecessor. And Tokio's wife would like to have her kitchen and washtub in precisely the same place as they were before the quake.

Tradition and prejudice are the life-blood of Tokio and these characteristics do not incline them toward a new version of the destroyed city. The authorities however, are hopeful, while reconstructionists are even optimistic, that on the ruins will spring up a new city that will combine modernity with the charm that is so striking a characteristic of the typical Japanese city.

While every train and motor lorry, steamer and sail-boat are taking streams of people out of Tokio, others are emerging from their temporary shelters and are erecting hastily-built shacks. A common sight at this time is a parent aided by his wife and children in the process of making a little, zinc-roofed structure. The wants and needs of the average Japanese are very few and thus they are able to weather the aftermath of the difficulty considerably better than could foreigners.

Those shaking the black dust of smoke-sodden Tokio off their feet today and hurrying to get away from the destroyed capital are the nonindigenous people of Tokio, who were attracted here during the war boom and prospered on Tokio's prosperity. Those slowly filtering back and putting up little zinc-and-wood huts are the real inhabitants of Tokio. When to the appalling list of dead now estimated at 200,000 is added the stream of people quitting the city for good and all, the population of Tokio will easily be reduced by 500,000, a reduction that will help a great deal in the birth of the new city.

CITY COUNCIL'S VIEW

"Our city has been completely destroyed," reads a message from the members of the City Council to their constituents, "and must be rebuilt in its entirety. Let us set aside the blemishes of the vanished Tokio, profit from the stern lessons we have learnt and rebuild a new Tokio, with wide avenues and safe houses, abundantly provided with the essentials of a modern city, with no more fire-trap alleys and side streets."

The rocks of prejudice have yet to be overcome, however, and the habits of generations will need to be upset if the defects of the old city are to be got rid of. The scheme of widening streets and abolishing the byways leading out of the highways—an unpleasant feature of the old city— may entail encroachment upon, and interference with, private property, and there is bound to be grumbling. The path of the civic idealist is thus not bestrewn with roses. Will the citizens of Tokio submerge personal sentiment for the good of the whole community or refuse to acquiesce in any such plan? On this will depend, in large measure, the success or the failure to rebuild a model Tokio on the present smoking and ruined site.

Work has already commenced in the way of reconstructing Tokio, though it is yet, necessarily, in the preliminary stages. The Emperor has given instructions to do everything possible in this direction and several stately and beautiful cryptomeria trees, for decades the pride and joy of Tokio, have been felled for more utilitarian purposes. The order to cut them down was issued direct by the Emperor, through the imperial household department.

Today, the city undertook the task of collecting dead bodies and immediately cremating them in huge heaps. Thus there is no possibility for friends and relatives to identify the corpses, and for a considerable time, perhaps indefinitely, one will not be able to say exactly whether a missing person is living or perished in the dread days of one week ago.

The River Sumida, on which Tokio stands, presents a ghastly sight, thousands of dead bodies, downward, being carried out to sea. What navigation there is at the mouth of the stream is all but halted by the immense number of corpses and the huge accumulation of debris. The bodies are being fished out and burnt with all possible haste.

THE GOOD SAMARITAN

Supplies are being rushed to Tokio from all directions. A chain of American destroyers extends between Manila and Yokohama and supplies are coming in. Warships of the Japanese Navy are transporting sufferers to Kobe and Osaka free of charge, while the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and the Osaka Shosen Kaisha have placed several vessels on the Shinagawa (southern extremity of Tokio) to Kobe route for the same purpose.

American destroyers are maintaining a service between American vessels in Yokohama Harbor and Tokio and have been the medium through which a large number of foreigners have been extricated from a very unenviable situation in Tokio and conveyed to United States Shipping Board boats which have indefinitely postponed their sailing schedules in order to relieve the distressed.

The President Pierce left on September 10, full of refugees, mostly American, for the United States by Honolulu. She was scheduled to leave September 6 but stayed four days in Yokohama to render assistance.

The President Wilson, on which boat your correspondent happens to be at present, is also full of refugees, most of whom desire to go to Kobe, Shanghai or to Manila. Both the passengers and the crew have done everything possible to aid the refugees, about 200 of whom are aboard at the time of writing. They are of all nationalities. Capt. January, the popular skipper of the President Wilson, in a written communication has enjoined the crew to render all aid to the refugees and to assist them to the height of their power. He has also asked the passengers to assist him by putting up with whatever inconvenience this sudden influx of refugees may occasion. Both the passengers and the crew have responded splendidly to the skipper's wishes. The refugees are full of gratitude for the kindness and courtesy shown them on all sides. They have been made quite at home and even the most bashful now realizes that there is no need whatsoever to stand on ceremony.

"BIRTH OF A NATION" CENSORED IN PARIS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The authorities have again forbidden showing of the motion picture "The Birth of a Nation" until all scenes containing negroes or the Ku Klux Klan have been eliminated. Such censorship of the picture, which was to have been exhibited today, would make it valueless, say the film men, as quoted by the Herald. Unless the government's decision is reconsidered, they intimate they intend to enter suit against the government for an indemnity of 2,000,000 francs, inasmuch as they have entered into contracts to the amount of 2,000,000 francs.

Chicago City Commission Says Total Cost Less Than 2¾ Cents

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Ten cents for a cup of coffee is too much, according to Joseph Rushkewicz, secretary of the City Council's high cost commission.

Investigation, he said, shows the actual cost per cup to be: Coffee bean, ¾ cent; cream, ½ cent; sugar, 3-10 cent. Total less than 2¾ cents.

Five cents would be a fair price, he said.

OBREGON IS TO PURGE TIJUANA

Co-operista Party Chief is Behind Move

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TIJUANA, Oct. 12.—Orders to prohibit gambling and prostitution here immediately have been received by Gov. Jose I. Luga of Lower California from President Obregon, according to Ricardo Romandia, district president of the Co-operista party. The orders are said to affect all gambling clubs in Tijuana except the Foreign Club, which is operated under a special license.

In a recent telegram to Gabriel H. Munoz, chairman of the workingmen's committee of Tijuana, President Obregon stated that lack of co-operation from government officials in Lower California was responsible for the delay in cleaning up the town. Obregon, who announced shortly after his election that he would abolish all open gambling and prostitution in Mexico, has forbidden the national army to protect institutions harboring them.

Thus safe from interference, the Co-operista party, which is Socialist in nature, has recently staged several demonstrations in Tijuana in an attempt to enforce saloon and club managers to employ the legal percentage of Mexicans in place of foreigners. The Tivoli Club, owned and operated by Americans, was raided, and street riots have become a common occurrence.

CHARGES GRAFT

It is charged that these demonstrations have been financed by several saloon keepers who are trying to injure the business of the better class of clubs. Managers of those clubs are said to refuse to employ Mexicans.

The Co-operista party in Lower California is headed by Romandia. He and Munoz, also a leader of the party, accuse Gov. Lugo of willfully abetting the gambling interests in defiance of the Mexican government. Romandia says that he learned on good authority that the clean-up orders have been received by Lugo.

"Under pressure of the Co-operista and Labor parties, President Obregon has promised his immediate support to abolish gambling and prostitution in Tijuana," said Romandia yesterday. "Gov. Lugo will be forced to act at once on the matter if, as reported, he is actually in receipt of the telegram from Obregon. Gambling games of all kinds are forbidden by law in Mexico; Gov. Lugo has deliberately mocked the law."

SOCIAL CANCER

The telegram to Munoz from President Obregon, in reply to a message from the workingmen's committee complaining of conditions in Tijuana, stated in part:

"I assure you that the government will take the necessary steps to end gambling and prostitution in the northern district."

The northern district, which includes Lower California, is under direct control of Gov. Lugo. Another message from Obregon to Munoz termed Tijuana as the "social cancer" of Mexico, and said that co-operation in remedying the condition has not been received from officials of the district.

Only three gambling games are now played in Tijuana: Ecarte, poker and poker-dice. They are said to be more profitable to the club owners than roulette or "twenty-one," which were formerly played. The Tivoli and Foreign clubs, owned by Carl Withington and Frank Byers, win an average of $500,000 a month from the three games, according to Romandia. Of this amount, large sums are said to be paid for protection.

RACING NOT HIT

Prostitution is not carried on flagrantly. There are no disorderly houses, and prostitutes are not allowed to solicit in the streets. When the clean-up takes effect, it is expected that American girls employed by the saloons will be deported.

As horseracing at the Hippodrome, like the Foreign Club, is protected by a long concession, betting on the races will not be affected by a general purging of the town. No word has as yet been received by Gov. Lugo regarding what action he will take.

PAN-AMERICAN PEACE HAILED

"chiefly a European problem" and quoted statistics to show that of the total of active armies in the world "we find that in this hemisphere, including the United States and Canada, we have but 6 per cent of the whole."

"Europe has 57 per cent of the total active armies and 74 per cent of the total organized forces," he said. He added that if the nations of the Old World, with their long training in statecraft and "experience of the disastrous consequences of the great war" had been unable to agree on a plan of limiting their armed forces, it was "hardly strange" that there had been difficulty among the newer republics in working out such a plan.

Sure Columbus Would Notice Some Changes

PHENOMENAL TEN-YEAR RECORD

The subjoined table giving the circulation of the Los Angeles Times each September for the past decade, shows that during this period the Sunday circulation of The Times increased approximately 100 per cent, while the everyday circulation made an even more remarkable increase, amounting to over 125 per cent.

Today the circulation of The Times is increasing at a faster rate than ever before. The past twelve months show an everyday gain of over 18,000 copies, and a Sunday gain of over 20,000 copies.

It has always been a strict policy of The Times not to seek nor develop circulation in Texas, Oklahoma or any other southwestern area outside its natural newspaper field. By concentrating a home-delivered circulation in Los Angeles and in the area contributory to it, The Times has been able to best serve the interests of its readers, and has won its place as the largest advertising medium in the world.

EX-PREMIER SEES WILDS OF CANADA

Lloyd George Impressed by Wealth in Primitive Regions of North

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ON BOARD LLOYD GEORGE'S SPECIAL TRAIN, CHAPLEAU (Ont.) Oct. 12.—On a 1400-mile jump from Niagara Falls to Winnipeg, Lloyd George, war-time Premier of Great Britain, today went through a region little removed from primitive wilderness. Passing on his special train to the north of Lake Superior, he made a few stops at isolated points where the log house is still used and where big game is plentiful. At Hudson Bay Company points, Indians were drawn up in silent lines beside the train. The former Premier enjoyed the experience to the full with its fascinating scenery of woods and quiet lakes.

"It is like passing through an endless picture gallery of a first-class artist," he said. "Why there should be slums in Europe when there is so much wealth here, I don't know."

Peter B. Kyne, the American novelist, has left the party after having joined it at New York to assist in the making of arrangements, especially in the United States. Although there has been no official word as to a disagreement, it is understood that Kyne left of his own will when he and Mr. Lloyd George were found to hold different views on the question of some speaking arrangements.

Lloyd George will leave Winnipeg Sunday afternoon.

be credited on his original offer of $5,000,000 if it was so wished. Mr. Ford's declared purpose in purchasing the Muscle Shoals is the manufacture of nitrates for fertilization purposes.

KEENLY INTERESTED

"I have the keenest interest in the development of air-fixation of nitrates for the assistance of the American farmer and in the adaptability of Muscle Shoals for this purpose. As evidence of the government's desire to promote this end, it is carrying forward today the construction of hydraulic works on the Tennessee River with a view to making that great water power available for the purpose.

"I have never opposed Mr. Ford's securing the use of this water power or any other equipment we have, provided he is able to give such assurance of its being devoted to this particular purpose as will satisfy Congress and properly protect the public interest. That he could have economically made nitrates by the use of steam power is denied by every expert adviser.

"The fact that he says his offer is still open would seem to indicate that he does not regard the Gorgas steam plant as necessary to him in the carrying out of his plan to purchase and develop Muscle Shoals water power."

pared to negotiate a separate agreement with Germany on the reparations proposition if the British accept a similar policy.

This statement was obtained today from a high official of the government following the publication in a London newspaper of a dispatch from Berlin stating that Downing Street was making overtures to Chancellor Stresemann for an Anglo-German agreement if Premier Poincare remains obdurate.

The French regard this as an English bluff, as they are well aware that Downing Street is unable to reach any positive results with Germany as long as the Poilus hold the Ruhr and Rhineland.

On the other hand, there were indications that German industrial as well as political leaders have been sounding out Gen. De Gouette and Premier Poincare regarding the possibility of reaching a direct Franco-Belgian-German accord on the reparations problem among the three powers principally concerned.

ROCKWOOD CASE STILL IS MYSTERY

Iowan at Phoenix is Held Normal by Physicians but is Unable to Explain Plight

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 12.—Charles A. Rockwood of Des Moines, today was declared normal by his physicians, yet can throw little light on his adventures since leaving Mason Lake, Wis., three weeks ago. He cannot account for the money belt he carried, with $941 in it, stating that he never had worn such a belt and that he had only about $250 when at Mason Lake, "enough for any sane man to carry."

Nor could he account for the rough clothing he wore on arrival or for his registration at a hotel under the name of R. L. Burt of Kansas City. He remembered slipping on a rock at the lake, has faint recollection of crossing a bridge and of a horse race and believes that he was at Tijuana. A laundry label indicates that he had been in Portland, Or., but he remembers nothing of that city.

Paralysis is lessened in his limbs and a wound on his head is healing. He was believed to have been drowned in the Wisconsin lake. His wife will be here tomorrow.

FORCES DEMOBILIZED

It was not doubted tonight that efforts would be made to commit President Coolidge to as radical a "dry" stand as was taken by Mr. Harding in his Denver speech. Mr. Smith declared that in the early summer he conferred with Mr. Harding on prohibition enforcement and that the President had stated the Federal enforcement agencies were doing the best they could under the circumstances.

"I am not violating a confidence when I tell you," Mr. Smith continued, "that President Harding frankly told me that he felt the religious and educational organizations of the country were not doing their part in aiding enforcement. He said that the church organizations and civic leaders had helped put over prohibition but then had demobilized."

As a result it was decided to undertake a campaign to arouse public sentiment to stand for the enforcement of all law, Mr. Smith said, adding that a conference of 200 prominent men and women, planned at the outset, expanded so rapidly that the call for it was signed and more than 1000 would be in Washington.

A preliminary meeting was held tonight among the leaders now in the Capital to outline a program for the conference. President Coolidge is to receive the delegates at the White House Monday. Thus far he has given no indication he would address them beyond a formal greeting. A exposition of his views at this time is not anticipated.

MANY SPEAKERS

Gov. Pinchot will be honorary chairman of the conference and is scheduled for an important address Sunday. Former Gov. Milliken of Maine will be active chairman of the conference. Gov. Sweet of Colorado and former Gov. Trinkle of Virginia, are vice chairman as are Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; Dr. John Willis Baer of California; Bishop Darlington of the Protestant Episcopal church; Bishop Wilson of the Methodist Episcopal church and Justice Florence Allen of the Ohio Supreme Court.

Roy A. Haines, Federal Prohibition Commissioner is scheduled to deliver the most important address of the first day's session. He has promised to "tell the truth about enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act."

Bishop William F. McDowell, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, will deliver an address of welcome. Col. Guy D. Goff, former assistant to the Attorney-General of the United States, will speak on "Problems of Enforcement." Results of a general survey of enforcement conditions are to be given by special investigators.

PASADENA GETS REALTORS NEXT

H. P. Barbour of Long Beach Chosen President

Realty Association Fails to Act on Membership

Question of Eligibility of Board Goes Over

BY EDWARD G. LEAF
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 12.—A spirited fight on the floor of the convention, selection of Pasadena as the 1924 convention city and election of Henry P. Barbour of Long Beach as president, marked today's session of the annual convention of the California Real Estate Association.

The controversy on the convention floor developed out of the report of the committee of nine which recommended that only one realty board in each town be recognized by the State association. The plan to permit only one such board in each city of the State to hold membership in the State association was broached some time ago and a committee of nine directors and officials of the association was appointed to prepare a plan which would be generally accepted.

Recommendations that the constitution of the association be amended to this effect were made this morning, but when Fred E. Reed, retiring president, called for a vote, opposition developed from the Van Nuys board, the San Pedro board and Southwest board. The Santa Monica board also opposed the measure on the ground that the annexation of Santa Monica to Los Angeles is now under consideration and that if annexation was carried the Santa Monica board would lose its identity.

MATTER GOES OVER

After spending the entire morning in discussion of the proposed constitutional amendment and disrupting the regular convention program, a motion put by Mr. Reed that the matter be laid over for further investigation by the committee of nine, putting the final decision over until the 1925 convention, was adopted, with the provision that no new boards be created in the State pending the final decision.

The election of Mr. Barbour followed one of the most hotly contested fights in the history of the organization. C. A. Vickery of Los Angeles, vice-president of the Los Angeles Realty Board, was nominated for the presidency by C. C. C. Tatum, and he was vigorously supported by the Los Angeles delegation and by several of the northern and central delegations. When it was apparent that Mr. Barbour had obtained the greater number of votes, the convention, at the request of Mr. Tatum, made his election unanimous.

Other officers named were: C. A. Vickery, Los Angeles, vice-president (re-elected;) Everett A. White, Santa Ana, vice-president (re-elected;) Charles B. Guthrie, Glendale, vice-president; John G. Mulholland, Long Beach, treasurer, and Glenn D. Willaman, Los Angeles, secretary and managing director (re-elected.)

LOS ANGELES MEN NAMED

Los Angeles men elected to the board of directors were Edwin G. Hart, Frank Ryan, William H. Akin and C. A. Vickery.

Pasadena, represented by Robert A. Swink, won the five-minute home-town talk contest for the Fred E. Reed trophy. Peter Hansen of Glendale took second place and Harvey M. Porter of Los Angeles, third place. Fullerton was represented by Lenny Tanner, five years of age, who was not eligible, but whose talk was so well given that he will be awarded a special cup.

Prior to the opening of the morning session of the convention a breakfast conference of the California Association of Realty Board Secretaries was held and resulted in the naming of the following officers: R. B. Dunlap, Oakland, president; N. E. McFadden, Santa Barbara, vice-president; R. C. Huntington, Redlands, vice-president; Walter Edwards, Stockton, vice-president; Robert H. Poole, Long Beach, secretary-treasurer.

During the afternoon session,

President Barbour announced that the war against unscrupulous land dealers and promoters will be continued with ever-increasing energy by the new administration.

"The policy of the organization will be based on two principles," he said, in his inaugural address. "The first will be the strict observance of the State License Law and the second application of the word 'realtor' as meaning high ideals and business ethics. It is the duty of every member to live up to these principles."

TWO OUSTED FROM POSTS BY WALTON

State Officials Lose Jobs After Disagreement With Oklahoma Governor

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 12.—Alridge Blake, the executive counsellor, and Dr. E. T. Bynum, State Bank Commissioner, were removed from office tonight by Gov. Walton.

It was understood that the Executive Counsellor had broken with Gov. Walton over the latter's recent policies, particularly with regard to his military activities against the Ku Klux Klan.

Dr. Bynum's administration has been "entirely unsatisfactory," the Executive declared in a communication to the bank commissioner.

No explanation was given of Blake's removal.

Blake told the Associated Press that he would go tonight before a special investigating committee appointed by the Lower House of the State Legislature to inquire into impeachment charges against the Governor. He declined to make known his purpose and likewise would make no statement as to his removal.

He declared he would "have something to say tomorrow."

Dr. Bynum is before the legislative investigating committee now, members of his family told the Associated Press, when an effort was made to locate him for a statement.

American Flag Put on Columbus Statue in Madrid

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MADRID, Oct. 12.—Ambassador Alexander P. Moore placed a wreath and large American flag on the statue of Christopher Columbus on Castellana Boulevard this morning.

Two years ago Columbus Day was made a national fete in Spain, known as "The Fete of the Spanish Race," and when the great procession reached the statue at 11 o'clock with Spanish flags and flowers, it was discovered that a beautiful wreath and big silk United States flag had been draped around the foot of the statue. The Spanish flags were draped at the edges.

Ambassador Moore had hoped to go to Seville and place a flag on the tomb of Columbus in the Seville Cathedral as an American tribute to the discoverer, but he was obliged to remain in Madrid on account of important treaty negotiations.

MASONS CLOSE STATE MEETING

Crites Installed as Head of Grand Lodge

New Leader Presented With Gold Gavel

Past Master's Pin Given to W. A. Sherman

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Election and installation of officers headed by Arthur S. Crites of Bakersfield as Grand Master, today concluded the seventy-fourth annual communication of the Grand Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons of California, in the Masonic Temple.

On being inducted into office, Crites received from William A. Sherman of San Francisco, Grand Master of the last year, the Grand Master's pin, the gift of Charles Albert Adams of San Francisco, Past Grand Master.

Sherman was then presented with a Past Grand Master's pin by Crites, who instituted a new ceremony by presenting to the newly elected Deputy Grand Master David J. Reese of Ventura. Senior Grand Warden Albert E. Boynton of San Francisco and Junior Grand Warden George L. Jones of Nevada City, pins that they are to pass on to their successors.

GOLD GAVEL GIVEN

As a token of their high esteem, the Masters and Past Masters' Association of the South San Joaquin Valley presented a gold gavel to Grand Master Crites, who was the first president of their organization. The presentation was made by Frank M. Mixter of Exeter.

In acknowledgment of his service and as Grand Master during the last year, Sherman was presented with a twelve-piece silver service, appropriately engraved, by the Grand Lodge. Past Master Charles Albert Adams of San Francisco made the presentation.

Grand Master Crites tonight constituted seven new San Francisco lodges in the Masonic Temple. Tomorrow night he will constitute three at Berkeley, and Monday night he will constitute six new lodges at Oakland.

Crites is a banker of Bakersfield, being vice-president and manager of the Security Trust Company there, one of the largest independent banking concerns in the State. He also is president of the First Bank of Kern, Bakersfield, secretary and manager of the Kern County Building and Loan Association; vice-president of the Bakersfield Home Building Company and is interested in the San Joaquin Valley Securities Company.

OTHER NEW OFFICERS

Other officers elected today, who will participate in the seventy-fifth communication at Los Angeles on October 8, 1924, are William P. Filmer of San Frnacisco, Grand Treasurer; John Whicher of San Francisco, Grand Secretary, and Thomas J. Baker of Sacramento, Grand Lecturer.

DESPAIR FOR CAPTIVES OF BANDIT GANG

Hope Given Up of Saving British Women Seized by Chinese Outlaws

BY JOHN POWELL

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1923, by the Chicago Tribune.]

SHANGHAI, Oct. 12. — All hope of rescuing two British women missionaries, Miss Dalroch and Miss Scrap, carried off by Chinese bandits in Honan province on September 23 last, has practically been abandoned, according to word received here by the China Inland Mission yesterday afternoon.

The women were captured in the little town of Shiwain, Honan province, and from Hankow. It is stated that soldiers sent in pursuit of the bandits are reported to be in league with the bandits and helped the bandits to escape.

The British have sent a consul to the scene, and a member of the China Inland Mission is bending every effort to rescue the captives. Much anxiety is felt here for the safety of the women prisoners in the hands of the outlaws, owing to the roughness of the country and the further factor of cold weather now setting in.

THIRTY-FIVE TEXANS FACE FRAUD CHARGE

INDICTMENTS RETURNED IN MISUSE OF MAILS HEARING

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DALLAS, Oct. 12.—Thirty-five indictments charging misuse of the United States mails were returned by the Federal grand jury here yesterday. J. J. O'Malley and four others were indicted in connection with alleged fraudulent sale of stock of the O'Malley Oil Company, organized with a capital of $2,000,000.

Thirty others were indicted for alleged bogus stock sales in the Richard Rader Mineral Deeds Corporation. Some of those indicted have been placed under bond, while others have not been arrested.

in manner so abrupt, not the old days when he purposely endeavored to make her dislike him.

She walked along the ledge and timidly bent over him.

"Forgive me!" she whispered; "I did forget for the moment, not only the goodness of Providence, but also your self-sacrificing devotion. I am only a woman, and I don't want to die yet, but I will not live unless you, too, are saved."

Once already that day she had expressed this thought in other words. Was some shadowy design flitting through her brain? Suppose they were faced with the alternatives of dying from thirst or yielding to the Dyaks. Was there another way out? Jenks shivered, though the rock was grilling him. He must divert her mind from this dreadful brooding.

"The fact is," he said with a feeble attempt at cheerfulness, "we are both hungry and consequently grumpy. Now, suppose you prepare lunch. We will feel ever so much better after we have eaten."

The girl choked back her emotion, and sadly essayed the task of providing a meal which was hateful to her. In doing so she saw her Bible, lying where she had placed it that morning, the leaves still open at the Ninety-first Psalm. She had indeed forgotten the promise it contained—

"For He shall give His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways."

A few tears fell now and made little furrows down her soiled cheeks. But they were helpful tears, tears of resignation, not of despair. Although the "destruction that wasteth at noonday" was trying her sorely she again felt strong and sustained.

She even smiled on detecting an involuntary effort to clear her stained face. She was about to carry a biscuit and some tinned meat to the sailor when a sharp exclamation from him caused her to hasten to his side.

The Dyaks had broken cover. Running in scattered sections across the sands, they were risking such loss as the defenders might be able to inflict upon them during a brief race to the shelter and food to be obtained in the other part of the island.

Jenks did not fire at the scurrying gang. He was waiting for one man, Taung S'Ali. But that redoubtable person, having probably suggested this dash for liberty, had fully realized the enviable share of attention he would attract during the passage. He, therefore, discarded his vivid attire, and, by borrowing odd garments, made himself sufficiently like unto the remainder of his crew to deceive the sailor until the rush of men was over. Among them ran the Mohammedan, who did not look up the valley, but waved his hand.

When all had quieted down again Jenks understood how he had been fooled. He laughed so heartily that Iris, not knowing either the cause of his merriment or the reason of his unlooked-for clemency to the flying foe, feared the sun had affected him.

He at once quitted the post occupied during so protracted a vigil.

"Now," he cried, "we can eat in peace. I have stripped the chief of his finery. His men can twit him on being forced to shed his gorgeous plumage in order to save his life. Anyhow, they will leave us in peace until night falls, so we must make the best of a hot afternoon."

But he was mistaken. A greater danger than any yet experienced now threatened them, though Iris, after perusing that wonderful psalm, might have warned him of it had she known the purpose of those long bamboos carried by some of the savages.

For Taung S'Ali, furious and unrelenting, resolved that if he could not obtain the girl he would slay the pair of them; and he had terrible weapons in his possession—weapons that could send "silent death even to the place where they stood."

CHAPTER XIII

Reality vs. Romance—The Case for the Defendant

Residents in tropical countries know that the heat is greatest, or certainly least bearable, between 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

At the conclusion of a not very luscious repast Jenks suggested that they should rig up the tarpaulin in such wise as to gain protection from the sun and yet enable him to cast a watchful eye over the valley. Iris helped to raise the great canvas sheet on the supports he had prepared. Once shut off from the devouring sun rays, the hot breeze then springing into fitful existence, cooled their blistered but perspiring skin and made life somewhat tolerable.

Still adhering to his policy of combating the first enervating attacks of thirst, the sailor sanctioned the consumption of the remaining water. As a last desperate expedient, to be resorted to only in case of sheer necessity, he uncorked a bottle of champagne and filled the tin cup. The sparkling wine, with its volume of creamy foam, looked so tempting that Iris would then and there have risked its potency were she not promptly withheld.

Jenks explained to her that when the wine became quite flat and insipid they might use it to moisten their parched lips. Even so, in their present super-heated state, the liquor was unquestionably dangerous, but he hoped it would not harm them if taken in minute quantities.

Accustomed now to implicitly accept his advice, she fought and steadily conquered the craving within her. Oddly enough, the "thawing" of their scorched bodies beneath the tarpaulin brought a certain degree of relief. They were supremely uncomfortable, but that was as naught compared with the relaxation from the torments previously borne.

For a long time—the best part of an hour, perhaps—they remained silent.

The sailor was reviewing the pros and cons of their precarious condition. It would, of course, be a matter of supreme importance were the Indian to be faithful to his promise. Here the prospect was decidedly hopeful. The man was an old sowar, and the ex-officer of native cavalry knew how enduring was the attachment of this poor convict to home and military service. Probably at that moment the Mahommedan was praying to the Prophet and his two nephews to aid him in rescuing the sahib and the woman whom the sahib held so dear, for the all-wise and all-powerful Sirkar is very merciful to offending natives who thus condone their former crimes.

But, howsoever willing he might be, what could one man do among so many? The Dyaks were hostile to him in race and creed, and assuredly infuriated against the foreign devil who had killed or wounded, in round numbers, one-fifth of their total force. Very likely the hapless Mussulman would lose his life that night in attempting to bring water to the foot of the rock.

Well, he, Jenks, might have something to say in that regard. By midnight the moon would illumine nearly the whole of Prospect Park. If the Mahommedan were slain in front of the cavern his soul would travel to the next world attended by a Nizam's cohort of slaughtered slaves.

Even if the man succeeded in eluding the vigilance of his present associates where was the water to come from? There was none on the island save in the well. In all likelihood the Dyaks had a store in the remaining sampans, but the native ally of the beleaguered pair would have a task of exceeding difficulty in obtaining one of the jars or skins containing it.

Again, granting all things went well that night, what would be the final outcome of the struggle? How long could Iris withstand the exposure, the strain, the heart-breaking misery of the rock? The future was blurred, crowded with ugly and affrighting fiends passing in fantastic array before his vision, and mouthing dumb threats of madness and death.

He shook restlessly, not aware that the girl's sorrowful glance, luminous with love and pain, was fixed upon him. Summarily dismissing these grisly phantoms of the mind, he asked himself what the Mohammedan exactly meant by warning him against the trees on the right and the "silent death" that might come from them. He was about to crawl forth to the lip of the rock and investigate matters in that locality when Iris, who also was busy with her thoughts, restrained him.

"Wait a little while," she said. "None of the Dyaks will venture into the open until night falls. And I have something to say to you."

There was a quiet solemnity in her voice that Jenks had never heard before. It chilled him. His heart acknowledged a quick sense of evil omen. He raised himself slightly and turned toward her. Her face, beautiful and serene beneath its disfigurements, wore an expression of settled purpose. For the life of him he dared not question her.

"That man, the interpreter," she said, "told you that if I were given up to the chief, he and his followers would go away and molest you no more."

His forehead seamed with sudden anger.

"A mere bait," he protested. "In any event it is hardly worth discussion."

And the answer came, clear and resolute—

"I think I will agree to those terms."

At first he regarded her with undisguised and wordless amazement. Then the appalling thought darted through his brain that she contemplated this supreme sacrifice in order to save him. A clammy sweat bedewed his brow, but by sheer will power he contrived to say—

"You must be mad to even dream of such a thing. Don't you understand what it means to you—and to me? It is a ruse to trap us. They are ungoverned savages. Once they had you in their power they would laugh at a promise made to me."

Beautiful Bellehurst Park

ONE MORE BIG CHANCE FOR YOU TO PROFIT HERE!

One more TREMENDOUS opportunity to invest in the fastest selling tract of its class in Southern California FOR YOU if you hurry.

Glance at the location of Bellehurst Park, in the very shadow of the business center of Glendale, convincing proof of rapidly increasing values here for years to come.

You owe it to yourself to see this property at once, a visit EARLY TODAY or tomorrow will enable you to make a choice from a number of the best lots in the entire property.

Even in the pouring rain last Sunday, many of these lots were sold—because of the rain there are still a few left for you to choose from if you hurry—but you will have to come at once because Bellehurst Park today is the focusing point of the greatest demand for high class residential property ever known.

Think a moment and you will see why this is so.

Consider first the fact that Glendale is the fastest growing city in America and that Bellehurst Park is in the exact center of this area of phenomenal growth. Just 5 blocks south of Bellehurst Park, the Security Trust and Savings Bank is now erecting the steel frame of a $600,000 bank building at the corner of Brand Boulevard and Broadway because they see clearly what is happening in Glendale today.

Consider again that Bellehurst Park is actually closer in time to downtown Los Angeles than Hollywood, and that the first great subway to be built by the Pacific Electric will cut the running time between this tract and Pershing Square to 20 minutes or less. It's only 39 minutes now.

And last of all consider the superb beauty and desirability of this magnificent property, formerly world famous as the great Bellehurst Ranch, today rapidly becoming the most noted residential park in the south, because every bit of its matchless natural beauty has been retained and enhanced by the careful landscaping of our engineers working under the personal supervision of Mr. Walter H. Leimert. Glendale is built up solid to Bellehurst Park right now. New homes in the property are springing up like magic already, and almost 90% of this tract is sold. Reports of bona-fide resales already reaching this office show that several buyers in the first unit have realized over 400% on their investment.

Your great CHANCE FOR IMMEDIATE profit is HERE and NOW, the remaining fine lots are the best investment of all and they are going fast.

See Bellehurst Park while there is still time to make a purchase direct from us at exactly the same prices that prevailed when this tract was opened, prices more than 30% below surrounding values, giving you a chance to make a BIG PROFIT AT ONCE.

DON'T DELAY, tear out this advertisement and bring it with you to Bellehurst Park NOW

Charming 2-story, 7-room Italian type home in a setting of fine old olive trees and commanding a marvelous view. Price $14,750.

Save $1000 on Today's Building Costs

The two homes shown above are representative of a group of carefully planned homes in Bellehurst Park, built by us and now ready for immediate occupancy. Our builder states that these homes today would cost over $1000 more each to build because of the advance in cost of building materials. We pass this saving on to you. SEE THESE HOMES TODAY.

Quiz Court Members Inspect Damaged Submarine

Deeds of Heroism Related to Board of Inquiry

Hearing, Open to Public, to be Continued Today

Accounts of high heroism, performed by officers and men of the submarine S-37 in rescuing injured comrades from a burning compartment field with gas and acid were told aboard the U.S.S. Canopus at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday during the second day's proceedings of the court of inquiry. Lieut Paul Glutting, commander of the R-37, told of making repeated trips into the blazing hold.

"I can see no culpability," said Commander Jonatnan S. Dowell, Jr., senior member of the court. "These explosions are something that we have to contend with in the submarine service and to reduce the chances for another such accident we are going to determine how it happened.

"We have found plenty of evidences of heroism, but so far I can't see where any man was to blame."

The court, convened by Capt. George C. Day, commanding submarine divisions of the Pacific, to investigate into circumstances connected with the explosion and fire in the after battery room of the submarine S-37 will be open to the public. Proceedings will be continued at 10 a.m. today, but will not be completed until the U.S.S. Beaver and Submarine Division No. 16 return from San Francisco on the 22nd inst. Several important witnesses are with that force.

Lieut. Glutting was the first witness yesterday, followed by other members of the S-37's crew, all of whom gave personal accounts of the accident. The craft is moored alongside the Canopus, where an inspection of the wrecked compartment was made by the court of inquiry.

The court consists of Commander Dowell as senior member, Lieut. D. K. Dey as judge-advocate, and Lieuts. E. E. Haslett and James A. Scott as junior members.

WIFE ACCUSES DOCTOR

On complaint of his wife, who said he was drunk and was abusing her, Dr. J. C. Ham was taken yesterday by police from his home at 4732 South Hoover street to a cell at University Police Station. Dr. Ham, the police say, has offices in the I. W. Hellman Building and is prominent in his profession.

AMERICA LAGS WITH SHIPS

Led World Four Years Ago, Now Stands Sixth on List of Tonnage Producers; Great Britain First

Slowly but surely the United States is losing its place as a top rank shipbuilding nation. Great Britain, Germany, Italy, France and Holland are crowding to the top, and in the last four years this country has fallen from first to sixth place among the shipbuilding nations of the world.

This is the gist of a statement just issued by Lloyds Register of Shipping, giving returns for the quarter, year just ended. In the last three months, the statement says the aggregate of American construction decreased 34,000 tons.

Returns from all countries on construction work being done under the supervision of Lloyds Register show a total of 1,268,571 gross tons, of which 976,446 tons represent orders in Great Britain and Ireland. Despite these figures there is also shown a decrease of more than 100,000 gross tons in the volume of new work as compared with that in the previous quarter. Comparisons of launchings also show sharp decreases during the last three months in all countries.

In the construction of tankers, which has been decreasing steadily for a long period, the report shows virtually no falling off during the last quarter, the small decline in British tonnage being almost offset by the increase for foreign countries. There has been no change in the figures for the United States, this country building 19,800 tons during both three-month periods.

There were several changes in the construction ranking of the various countries during the quarter just ended, says the statement. British and German yards still lead, but France, which was third three months ago, has changed places with Italy and is now fourth. Holland has taken the position of the United States, which was then fifth. Now America ranks sixth. Japan and the British dominions continue to rank seventh and eighth respectively.

Almost without exception the various countries are building less tonnage now than before the war. Italy has more than doubled her pre-war figure and the British dominions show very small increases. All the other nations show decreases. The following table given in the statement gives an accurate idea of the changing status:

	Oct. 1, 1923	June 30, 1914
Great Britain and Ireland	1,271,195	1,722,000
Germany (with Danzig)	345,295	547,000
Italy	140,423	69,000
France	142,668	227,000
Holland	784,491	116,000
United States	59,383	148,000
Japan	79,012	93,000

HOME SOCIETY TO MEET

The Children's Home Society will meet in annual session at Receiving Home, 901 East Twenty-fifth street, at 2 p.m. today. Reports of the society's work during the year will be submitted. During the year just closed the society has cared for 642 children, the largest number in its history.

PICNICS FOR STATES ARE ANNOUNCED

Many Gatherings Are on Program for Former Easterners This Month

Former Pennsylvanians at a monster picnic reunion will frolic at Sycamore Grove the 29th inst., the special feature of the week in State society circles.

Erstwhile Keystone State residents are expected to attend in groups of hundreds. Picnickers will carry basket luncheons, but President R. W. McCrea of the Pennsylvania Society will provide hot coffee for the merrymakers. Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Hiner, cornet player and vocalist, will provide the musical entertainment.

Other picnic events of the Federation of State Societies in the near future includes a rally of Massachusetts people the 16th inst. in Victory Post Hall, 327 1-2 South Hill street. South Dakota folk will open their winter meetings the 20th inst., while former citizens of Indiana will meet the 16th inst. in the Fraternal Brotherhood Building, 845 South Figueroa street.

Winter plans of Missouri folk call for a meeting the 19th inst. in the Disabled Veterans' Hall, 246 South Hill street. The Arkansas contingent meets in Denishawn Hall, 932 South Grand avenue, the same date. Oregonians meet in Garfield Hall, 730 South Grand avenue the 27th inst.

READS DIVORCE NEWS TO MATE, THEN SUES

The reading to him of divorce court items in the daily newspapers by his wife served as a warning to him that she was planning to bring proceedings for divorce against him, John Quirt Shand asserted in a cross-complaint to his wife's suit, on file in the Superior Court.

Mrs. Shand based her suit on charges of cruelty. Shand also charged cruelty in his cross-complaint, asserting his wife frequently went out to dances without him and remained away from home until late at night.

Requests for recipes will be answered in this column every Tuesday and Saturday. Address all requests to Chef A. L. Wyman, Laboratory Kitchen, 424 Arden avenue, Glendale.—Ed.]

By Chef A. L. WYMAN, M.C.A.

F.A.S., city, is from Missouri and wants to know if the Belgian hares sold in the markets here can be used to make a rabbit pie as made in his native State.

The Belgian hares sold in the local markets can be used in any dish that wild rabbits are used in and can also be used in any dish that calls for chicken. To make a Missouri rabbit pie with Belgian hare clean and disjoint two young Belgian hares, place in a stew pan, cover with boiling water, add two slices of bacon cut in small pieces, one bay leaf, one chopped onion and a seasoning of salt and pepper. Cover the pan and simmer until the hare is tender. Remove the hare and place in a deep earthenware baking dish or casserole. Stir into the gravy two tablespoons of flour creamed with two tablespoons of butter and stir until thick and smooth; strain the gravy over the rabbits and cover with a short biscuit dough. Cut a slit in the center of the dough, brush with melted butter and bake thirty minutes. Serve in the same dish.

VEAL LOAF

H.L., city, wants a recipe for an extra nice veal loaf to serve six.

Run two pounds of veal, from which all of the skins and bones have been removed, through the fine knife of the meat chopper with half a pound of fresh pork. Add one cup of bread crumbs softened in milk, the contents of one can of mushrooms, pieces and stems chopped and liquor drained off, one teaspoon of grated lemon rind, the strained juice of one lemon, two well-beaten eggs and a seasoning of salt and pepper. Mix thoroughly, shape in a long loaf, place in a shallow baking pan, dredge with sifted flour, and pour around the liquor from the can of mushrooms. Bake one hour, basting every fifteen minutes. Place the loaf on a hot platter; stir into the gravy two tablespoons of butter creamed with two tablespoons of flour and stir until thick and smooth; add one cup of tomato pulp and one teaspoon of chili powder, bring to a boil and strain around the loaf.

CHEESE BISCUITS

A. M. A., Long Beach, asks for a recipe for a small cheese biscuit to serve with salads.

Sift two cups of sifted flour with four level teaspoons of baking powder, and half a teaspoon of salt. Rub into these four tablespoons of butter and when like coarse meal work to a smooth dough with three-quarters of a cup of milk. Place on a floured board, pat out half an inch thick, cut with a small round biscuit cutter and spread the tops with a soft cheese creamed with paprika. Place three-quarters of an inch apart on a buttered packing pan and bake in a medium oven about twelve minutes.

SMOTHERED CHICKEN

E. D. is anxious to know how to prepare smothered chicken with oyster sauce.

Split a young roasting chicken down the back and lay it, breast side up, in a baking pan or casserole; spread over the chicken four tablespoons of creamed butter seasoned with salt and pepper. Pour over one cup of boiling water, cover closely and bake in the oven for one hour or until the chicken is nearly tender; pour over one cup of hot, thick cream, cover and cook ten minutes; add two cups of drained and washed small oysters, cover and cook five minutes. Place the chicken on a hot platter; thicken the gravy with a little flour, heat and pour over the chicken. Garnish with finely chopped parsley and strips of pimento.

INDIVIDUAL RICE PUDDING

M. B. L., Ventura, asks for a recipe for individual rice puddings.

Stir two cups of scalded milk into the slightly beaten yolks of three eggs and mix in half a cup of sugar and a seasoning of grated nutmeg. Place half a dozen raisins in the bottom of well-buttered individual molds, fill lightly with cooked rice, pour over the egg and milk mixture to fill the molds and set them in a pan of hot water. Bake until set in a slow oven.

ORANGE PIE

E. M., city, wants to know if we can supply a recipe for an orange pie in which bread crumbs are used.

We can. Beat to a cream six tablespoons of sugar and the yolks of three eggs, beat until light and lemon colored; add the grated rind and strained juice of two oranges and two tablespoons of lemon juice; beat well and add half a cup of cream or milk and one cup of bread crumbs and the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Pour the mixture into a pastry lined pie tin and bake thirty minutes in a medium oven or until set. Remove from the oven and sprinkle the top with sifted granulated sugar.

CAMP POT

R. Z., asks that we give the proportions of chicken and vegetables to use in a stew to be made over a camp fire.

Cut a chicken in six pieces after cleaning and place in an iron pot with one pound of salt pork cut in two-inch squares, add two cups of boiling water and simmer for twenty minutes. Add to the pot one sliced onion, six pearl onions, two chopped carrots, one stalk of peeled celery, half a head of young cabbage sliced, two tomatoes peeled and seeds removed, three potatoes peeled and cut in quarters, two cups of boiling water, one bay leaf, and a seasoning of salt and pepper. Cover pot tight and stew one hour. Serve with toasted French bread and a green salad.

HALIBUT, SHRIMP SAUCE

D. D., city, was served with a very delicious dish of boiled halibut with shrimp sauce at one of the beach hotels and asks that we give a recipe for preparing.

Remove the skin from a two-pound piece of halibut. Place two quarts of water in a stew pan, add salt and the juice of one lemon, bring to a boil and add the fish; bring to a boil and simmer twenty minutes or until the fish is cooked. Heat three tablespoons of butter in a sauce pan, add four tablespoons of flour and stir until it bubbles, do not brown, pour in one and a half cups of hot milk and heat until thick and smooth. Add half a cup of cream, one cup of cooked and cleaned shrimps, a seasoning of salt, and two teaspoons of lemon juice. Place the fish on a hot platter, pour over the sauce and sprinkle over all finely chopped parsley.

D. A. M., city, has a friend in Indianapolis who prepares a very delicious steak that is cooked in a sauce and asks that we tell him how it is prepared.

Have the butcher cut a nice round steak two inches thick and when it is sent home take a wooden potato masher and beat into it a cup of sifted flour. Place in a bowl four peeled onions, four peeled tomatoes, four pimentos, and four peeled sweet green peppers and chop all very fine. Heat three tablespoons of lard in a large iron skillet and when it is smoking hot lay in the steak, cover and cook three minutes, turn the steak, cover and cook three minutes. Pour the chopped vegetables over the steak, season with salt, cover the skillet and cook slowly for two hours. Place the steak on a hot platter, pour over the sauce and garnish with olives.

BRUNSWICK DRESSING

M. J., requests that we repeat the recipe for Brunswick salad dressing that was given in this department a year ago.

Press the yolks of two hard-boiled eggs through a sieve into a cold bowl that has been rubbed with a clove of garlic, add half a teaspoon of dry mustard, half a teaspoon of salt, one-quarter of a teaspoon of paprika, and two tablespoons of tarragon vinegar; stir until smooth and add gradually six tablespoons of olive oil. Stir until creamy and add one teaspoon of finely chopped chives. Fine for green salads of all kinds.

ADVENTURES OF FEDWELLS

How Mother Slimkins Learned to Systematize Her Food Problem and Add to Leisure Time

BY WINIFRED STUART GIBBS,
Food Specialist

Mother Slimkins was musing during an unexpected interval when she had nothing to do. Knowing that the precious minutes would be few she made the most of them and instead of relaxing for a well earned rest she let her thoughts play with her most pressing housekeeping problem.

"I wonder how I can manage not to feel driven and hurried all the time," ran her thoughts. "Mrs. Fedwell seems to have plenty of leisure and yet she works as hard as I do. I think I'll ask her and Mrs. Eatums to tea and talk things over."

The three housekeepers had a most enjoyable meal; husbands and children were safe in offices and school and this pleasant afternoon hour could be devoted to a real housekeeping conference.

After Mother Slimkins had stated her case Mother Fedwell took the floor, as the twins would have called it, and was able to make many valuable suggestions.

"I think your chief problem is one of systematizing your food work. Few persons realize how five minutes here and ten minutes there, if devoted to organized thinking, will help to straighten out a seemingly hopeless tangle of undigested tasks.

"Take the matter of meal planning; no one wishes to be extravagant, and yet the round of daily meals will become very flat, stale and unprofitable unless there is reasonable variety. I find that Florence gets many good ideas from her high school teacher; she came in the other day full of enthusiasm for a plan of Miss Bertha Terrill's. Miss Terrill is a well-known instructor and she has devised a scheme for tabulating the common foodstuffs according to season. This plan was explained by Florence's teacher and is worth passing on.

"Miss Terrill has arranged a 'food calendar,' showing the dates within which certain foods are most abundant. Such a calendar in no sense interferes with the housekeeper's freedom of choice, but it does serve as a guide, stimulating the imagination and helping the busy housewife in her always arduous task of providing attractive variety of foods at reasonable cost.

"Of course, canning and preserving and cold storage, as well as other forms of preservation, make it possible to partially disregard the seasons; the food calendar is planned, however, with the idea of regulating the service of fresh fruits and vegetables.

"Then there is the time budget; if you plan your marketing on a definite schedule, laying in a monthly supply of staple foods, and a weekly supply of smaller items, and a daily plan for perishables, you will find that you can accomplish a wonderful saving.

"Another time saver is a schedule of foods to be purchased based on your weekly menu plan. A week of breakfasts, dinners and luncheons spread out before you on paper is the first step toward what Mrs. Christine Frederick calls a 'purchasing sheet.' Such a sheet is a summary of the foods to be purchased, with quantities itemized."

By this time Mother Slimkins was feeling quite stimulated and before the tea party broke up the housekeepers had agreed to have a series of such informal meetings. The results of this "experience exchange" will be set forth in future issues of Our Family Food.

Entirely New Police Board Is Asked of Mayor

Appointment of a new Police Commission is urged in a resolution unanimously adopted by the executive committee of the Municipal League yesterday noon and forwarded to the Mayor.

The resolution reads:

"In view of the long-continued complications in the city police department and the recent appointment of a new Chief of Police, we believe that in the best interests of the city the Mayor should appoint a new Police Commission at once."

The resolution is) signed by all members of the executive committee.

TREASURER REFUNDING ON ABANDONED SEWER

The City Treasurer's office is prepared, beginning today, to refund the taxes paid in for the Bairdstown sewer project, which was abandoned. Property owners who can show their tax receipts will be given their money back. In all, $13,000 was paid in, which will be refunded in full.

Your family is at once "your best friend and severest critic." Thus it happens that little son will speak up, "Mother this isn't L. A. milk, is it?" All eyes turned upon you as you shamefacedly answer "No," and then the storm starts. Once a family has drunk L. A. milk nothing else will do, which is quite as it should be, for it is unsurpassed, being rich and pure and possessing a most delightful flavor. Let the kiddies have all they want, for nothing else is quite as good for them.

Leave the shells on hard-boiled eggs until you are ready to use them. They keep much better in the shell.

A delightful addition to an otherwise uninteresting meal is a dish of L. A. Cottage Cheese and as a filling for sandwiches, nothing could be more appetizing. A nice way to serve it is with paprika and chopped peppers added. There is one housewife here who is never without it; she has a great deal to say about its healthfulness and nourishment and her robust family seem to be proof enough. You can order it in sanitary wax cartons from your dealer. Why not try it today?

Milk Toast—Toast slices of bread one-half inch thick a light brown. Dip into thickened milk gravy and put into a deep dish and place one slice upon another, pouring gravy over it.

There are many men like "Morrie" whose disposition is always good, and when Clee Koe Coffee is served him he fairly "beams" on those around him. Now if this coffee can accomplish such wonders in one home, don't you think it deserving of a trial. Order a pound to day. Their address is 1442 Santa Barbara, phone Vermont 4851.

"Pumpkins and cats, ghosts and old hats, a night of spooks and witches and bats." You must have a bit of a Hallowe'en spread tonight if it is only in the dessert, which should be pumpkin pie. In Young's markets I found they had prepared for just such a need and in consequence have pumpkins of every conceivable size and shape. Big rosy cheeked apples and nuts, of course, have they. Fill a pumpkin with fruits and use it for your table centerpiece, placing gay-colored leaves around the base. It's so in keeping with the season, and unusually attractive.

When sewing on silk and satin it is a good plan to use fine needles in place of pins to fasten patterns in place, thus avoiding large pinholes.

In San Francisco the men speak of meals partaken at Herbert's Grill, of the juicy steaks and tender chops and all good things which hunger makes one long for. And all the members of the weaker (but no less hungry sex) bemoan their fate and wish that kind Providence would send them a Herbert's Ladies' Grill so that they, too, could rave of meals eaten therein. The wish has been granted for Los Angeles women for right here in our own city Herbert's have opened a grill especially for them. Conveniently located, too, on Hill between Seventh and Eighth.

Gravy—Melt one tablespoon butter, add one heaping teaspoon flour, then add two cups milk, stir all smooth and boil up.

One kind of olive oil isn't as good as another. If you have ever tasted Castruccio Brothers' Virgin Olive Oil (distinguished by the red cross in the gold seal,) you are perfectly convinced of its superiority in every way. You are certain to have no difficulty in securing it in the size can most convenient for your use, as all first-class grocers sell it.

If a tablespoon of turpentine is well stirred into the boiler full of water it will whiten the white clothes boiled in it without injuring them.

There will come a "some day" when you will think it necessary to desert your home because of it being over-run with ants. "Calpro" prevents this procedure because by using the system the ants "vamoose." There is a reason. Phone Beacon 1260 and you will soon learn why.

When cutting marshmallows, dip the knife in hot water and they will not stick to the blade or the fingers.

You would rather postpone washing your beloved sweater, treasured sports skirt, or silken lingerie a week than risk using any other soap than White King Washing Soap (in granule form.) Because why? Well, for this reason, the difference in the appearance of white garments is actually surprising, white garments are whiter after using this famous product of the L. A. Soap Company. Always remember, though, that its use is not limited to laundry work. It's one of the biggest adjuncts to cleaning everything in your home! By all means get a box to try at once.

If soiled handkerchiefs are allowed to soak in cold water into which a handful of salt has been dissolved they will be much easier to wash.

Perhaps it is because of the almost personal attention which is given each article washed, or a desire to improve upon the perfection of the work they have turned out in the past that make the CROWN Laundry an institution which we women have grown to rely upon so completely. Whatever the reason, the fact remains that your family washing, when sent to them, is scientifically washed, and if you were only able to see as I did the care with which that same bundle is handled you could then better appreciate why you are so completely satisfied when giving them your patronage. The Crown asks only that you give them one trial. It is sufficient to convince you of their ability to please.

When sewing on a velvet garment use silk thread with which to baste. It will pull out leaving no traces, while cotton thread is apt to leave a mark.

DFUL FACTS ABOUT RICE

Product Easily Digested, but Much of Its Food Value is Lost in Process

teach the children that brown rice is more wholesome

The fact that rice contains less potash salts than other cereals accounts for its mild and nonirritating properties, it leaves little residue for disposal by the kidneys. So quickly does the stomach digest rice that a sensation of hunger soon follows a meal in which rice has been the principal food. Several authorities, however, comment on this as being of decided advantage since the sensation of hunger means a good digestion, and the energy of the rice insures a fund of working power.

Rice is low in protein or building material, but the quantity present is of a decidedly superior quality and in this respect rice compares favorably with wheat.

The nations of the world are only lately coming to appreciate the value of rice as a food, and the fact that the Japanese and Indian soldiers are able to perform exhausting marches on a diet of rice indicates that a peace diet may well include a generous supply of this valuable food.

SAVORY DISH

The addition of cheese and a carefully made brown gravy converts a dish of rice into a savory stew that is sustaining enough for a hard-working man.

That our readers may form some idea of the difference in composition between rice in the husk, after hulling and after polishing, we give the following table:

	In the husk.	Hulled.	Polished.
Water	10.50	13.00	13.40
Protein	6.80	7.30	6.90
Fat	1.60	2.00	0.40
Starch, sugar and gum.	68.10	76.30	77.40
Cellulose	9.00	1.00	0.40
Ash	4.00	1.00	0.50

In cooking rice remember that it absorbs nearly five times its weight of water. In boiling rice stir it into a large quantity of boiling water, which has been salted and keep it boiling rapidly. Do not stir the rice while cooking.

When the rice is quite soft, pour off the excess water and dry the grains in the oven.

Steamed rice should show each individual grain whole and soft; therefore, be sure to allow plenty of time for the process.

CHARGES INFRINGEMENT

An action was brought in the United States District Court yesterday by the American Gear Company, against August Wiebke, doing business at 1626 South Hill street, under the name of the American Gear and Axle Company, to restrain him from doing business or advertising under that name, asserting it is an infringement of a trade mark, the property of the plaintiff corporation. The defendant is a jobber in auto parts.

WOMEN RAP REMOVAL OF PLAYGROUND

Slauson-Avenue Club in Protest When Power Bureau Wrecks Place

Strongly protesting the taking over of the Slauson-avenue public playground by the Public Service Department for use as a storage yard for pipe and other materials, the Slauson-avenue Woman's Club yesterday issued a public appeal to prevent the destruction of the recreation center. On behalf of the club, Mrs. Viola A. Van Order, of 1510 Brooklyn avenue, president of the organization, issued the following statement:

I wish to protest against the destruction of the Slauson playground and ask that the people of Los Angeles be informed how far officials will go to carry a desired object.

The Slauson playground has been the only community center and recreation point in the extreme south end of the city.

The Power and Light Department desires to pile their poles on it and already have completely wrecked the wading pool, swings and beautiful trees, and further gave us to understand that the ground will be cleared by Christmas.

That means the removal of our clubhouse.

Is it possible that the Department of Public Service, which is a branch of our city government, can destroy property?

The Power and Light Department seem to want the earth as well as all public votes.

It has gone far enough to show us no mercy. It needs the money. Please help us save the children's playground!

[Signed]

VIOLA A. VAN ORDER.

President Woman's Club of Slauson, on behalf of the 190 members of that organization.

The other officers of the club are Mrs. H. Hamblin, first vice-president; Mrs. A. Malchow, second vice-president; Mrs. E. S. Collins, recording secretary; Mrs. Mae McAtee, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. I. Zillman, treasurer.

At the offices of the Public Service Department it was stated yesterday by W. W. Hurlbut, assistant to Chief Engineer Mulholland of the Bureau of Water Works and Supply, that the ten acres of ground on Slauson avenue, between Compton avenue and Fortuna avenue, was purchased by the water department in 1904 as a future storage yard for materials, but the water department, Mr. Hurlbut said, had permitted its use by the playground department for nineteen years. On account of the city's growth and the increase in activities of the water department, the property is now required for a storage yard, he said.

Mr. Hurlbut added that the property did not belong to the Bureau of Power and Light and was not to be used by that department.

NEW RULE ISSUED ON NARCOTICS

Federal Order Prohibits General Prescribing and Provides Penalties

New and stringent orders which revoke former regulations governing the prescribing of narcotics by physicians and outline new rules for the treatment of drug addiction under the Harrison Narcotic Act have been received by Internal Revenue Collector Goodcell.

The rules provide that a prescription must be issued for legitimate medical purposes. Insurance to an addict who is not under professional treatment, for the purpose of providing comfort to the user, makes not only the physician liable to arrest but also the druggist who filled the order and the addict as well.

Exceptions to this rule are allowed in the treatment of cancer and other incurable diseases where a physician is directly in charge, and in cases where the attending physician prescribes for an aged and infirm drug addict whose collapse from withholding the drug might result in death.

Responsibility for prescriptions is placed upon the druggist as well as the physician. Druggists who knowingly fill a prescription whereby an addict is supplied drugs for the mere purpose of satisfying his addiction will be prosecuted.

Physicians will be prosecuted if through carelessness a patient secures more narcotics than are necessary for medical treatment, and devotes part of his supply to satisfy addiction or disposes of his surplus of drugs.

Mere addiction is not recognized as an incurable disease. Addicts are divided into two classes by the Revenue Bureau, aged and infirm addicts and the ordinary addict.

The bureau has never sanctioned or approved the so-called ambulatory treatment of addiction for the reason that where the addict controls the dosage he will never be benefited or cured. Medical authorities agree that the treatment of addiction, with a view to effecting a cure, which makes no provision for confinement while the drug is being withdrawn, is a failure, except in a relatively small number of cases where the addict is possessed of more than ordinary will power. For this reason the regulations provide that in all cases where narcotics are prescribed the patient must be personally attended by a registered physician who regulates the dosage.

Sales of paregoric in quantities greater than necessary for legitimate medical uses are held to be violations of the Harrison Act and will result in prosecutions.

Protectionist Policy Being Sought by Colonies

Start by Mother Country May Cause Trouble

Free Traders Lining Up to Fight Increases

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Although there seems to be little possibility of the British government adopting a general protectionist policy the indications are that the dominions intend to give the mother country an intensive educational course in the principles of protection.

It is understood Premier Bruce of Australia intends to remain in England after the imperial conference has adjourned and will travel extensively through the provinces, explaining the details of the preferential program and pointing out the benefits which he considers England, as well as the dominions, would gain from it.

CHANGE NOT FEARED

The Liberal leaders do not fear any immediate change in the government's policy. They view any general increase in taxation on foodstuffs as unthinkable. They consider Prime Minister Baldwin's Cabinet is held by former Premier Bonar Law's pledge to maintain the general fiscal policy approved by the voters at the last general election. The free traders, however, are well aware that the government by attempting to placate the overseas protectionists with a few morsels of dried fruit, sugar and tobacco, have taken action with heads toward tariff mazes from which the government may have the greatest difficulty in receding.

Having met with partial success in receiving the promise of preference for fruits, the dominions are considered likely to continue to urge similar consideration for all of their products, for, although the expressions of gratitude from overseas have been numerous since Sir Phillip Lloyd Greame announced that the government had been converted to partial preference, there is no indication that Australia and New Zealand will be satisfied until meat is included in the list of preferred articles. For this reason the free traders throughout the country are actively preparing to repel the protectionists' attacks.

DRIVE ON HOUSEWIFE

One of the first steps they have taken along this line is to put their side of the issue before the English housewife, who, they urge, would be forced to pay increased prices for foodstuffs under the preferential policy. The executive officers of the Woman's National Liberal Federation have passed a resolution declaring that organization viewed with alarm the suggestions of a protectionist campaign and urging all Liberal women to reaffirm their faith in free trade.

Government officials, however, point out that the Liberal alarm is being fostered largely for fall political campaign material, as the government forces as well as the avowed free traders, realize that the adoption of any preferential scheme while the people are in their present state of mind concerning the prices of foodstuffs would be likely to prove suicidal to themselves.

KLAN ROBES BRING TWO-YEAR TERM

TEXAS COURT RULES WHITE CAPPING IS THREAT IN FLOGGING CASE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

AMARILLO (Tex.) Oct. 12.—T. W. Stanford, alleged Ku Klux Klansman was found guilty in District Court of a charge of white capping in connection with the recent flogging here of E. T. McDonald. He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Defense counsel immediately filed a motion for a new trial. The State charged that Stanford was the leader of a band of masked men who ordered McDonald to leave Amarillo before flogging him.

The verdict of guilty was based on the third count of the indictment against Stanford, the jury reported. The count involved the wearing of alleged Ku Klux Klan robes by the men, which the jury held constituted a threat within itself. The men wore Klan robes on the night they ordered him to leave the city, McDonald testified.

Judge Bishop had instructed the jury to return a verdict of guilty, if in their opinion, the wearing of such regalia constituted a threat.

WOOD'S VETO POWER TO BE PUT TO TEST

PHILIPPINE LEGISLATURE TO PASS BILL OPPOSED BY GOVERNOR

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MANILA, Oct. 12.—In order to obtain a definite ruling from Congress on the extent of the veto power of Gov. Gen. Wood, the commanding session of the Legislature will pass a bill Wood is expected to veto, it was announced today by a Coalitionist representative. The test will decide whether the Governor-General can veto purely local measures.

The Legislature will take up the matter of reduction of import duties on foreign goods to the Philippines which can be imported more cheaply from the United States. It is pointed out here that in case a bill on this subject is approved here it will be necessary to submit it to Congress for approval before it becomes a law. A monopoly on Philippine markets by America, it is contended, would not benefit the Philippines.

Terrible Explosión en Moscú

MOSCU, Obre. 12.—Por lo menos doce personas fueron muertas, y varias docenas heridas, por una tremenda explosión que ocurrió hoy en un almacén de artículos de caza, sito en el Prospekt Neglianni, una de las principales calles de Moscú. Dos edificios fueron dañados, y los escombros, las cápsulas explosivas y las cananas volaron y dieron contra los transeuntes. Arriba del almacén había viviendas llenas de gente.

NOTAS LOCALES

Pescadores Volados por una Explosión

Cuatro pescadores volaron a veinte pies de altura, habiendo resultado dos de ellos quemados, quizá mortalmente, al hacer explosión esta mañana a las 11, el tender de pesca "Columbia", en la isla Terminal. Los dos más graves recibieron terribles quemaduras en la cara y en la caja del cuerpo, y se les condujo al Hospital Hillside, en el puerto de Los Angeles. Quedó enteramente perdido el tender citado, cuyo valor calcula en $15,000 el Gerente Gilbert Van Camp.

Según declara Slaveo Ivancich, patrón de la embarcación, no se conoce la causa de la explosión. El tender acababa de regresar de Turtle Bay, donde se halla la flota de pesca, a 500 millas al sur de aquí, y estaba cargando 3600 galones de gasolina en la estación de servicio de Van Camp, como provisión para su viaje de regreso. De repente, se hendió el barco, abriéndose enteramente, y lanzó al aire todo el castillo de proa. El Capitán Ivancich y un amigo suyo, Peter Kerr, fueron aventados a lo alto, como si fueran en una alfombra mágica, y cayeron ilesos en un muelle, a veinte pies de distancia.

Baseball

NUEVA YORK, Octubre 12.—No sólo abandonó hoy a los Yanquis la fuerza bruta, sino que se pasó a los Gigantes y les permitió batir al equipo de Huggins en el tercer juego de la serie. Por otra parte, la estrategia no figuró para nada en el combate. Los Gigantes ganaron al lograr Casey Stengel un home run en el séptimo turno. Este fue el único tanto del juego, que fue ganado por 1 a 0.

Habiendo ganado los dos partidos de ayer, jugando en el parque Washington contra Vernon, Los Angeles llevan hoy la ventaja en la serie final de la temporada, por cuatro a dos. El primer partido, que arrojó 5 a 4, fue reñido duelo de tiradores entre Ponder y Cruz, sacando Ponder la ventaja. El segundo conflicto, ganado por 9 a 6, fue una contienda de fáciles y libres golpes, habiendo Vernon utilizado a sus lanzadores Repp, Tiner, File y Gilder; y Los Angeles a los suyos, Jones y Thomas.

Pláticas Diarias en Español por el Prof. R. Guerrero, del Departamento Español de "The Times"

En la noticia inserta en la Plática 72, "requisa" quiere decir "inspección de las dependencias de un establecimiento". Esta voz es muy empleada además en el sentido de "requisicion", o sea el embargo de efectos de particulares que, para el servicio militar, suele hacerse en tiempo de guerra. De esa voz se ha formado el verbo "requisar" que, aunque no figura en el Diccionario Académico, tiene mucho uso en el lenguaje oficial y periodístico: "Al declararse la guerra, fueron 'requisados' (commandeered) en Francia todos los vehículos automóviles".

Aunque el Diccionario de la Academia no señala la acepción especial en que está usado el vocablo "caseta", es éste de empleo general en el sentido de "una especie de garita, a las veces con ruedas, que se instala en las playas para que en ella se vistan y desvistan los bañistas".

Al fin del primer párrafo, estampó el tipógrafo, "su traje completo", en vez de "un traje completo". Recordemos que un traje de hombres se compone comunmente de tres prendas: "americana" (llamada "saco" en algunas partes de América), "chaleco" y "pantalón" ("pantalones"), y que, cuando las tres prendas citadas son de la misma tela, el traje lleva el nombre de "terno" (en América, "flux").

En la frase "Por si se trataba de algún accidente" se comete, en mi concepto, un solecismo, y debe reemplazarse el co-pretérito de indicativo "trataba" por el subjuntivo hipotético "tratare".

"Hacerse a la mar" se traduce en inglés por "to put to sea"; "hacerse a la vela", por "to set sail".

"Montar", refiriéndose en la milicia al servicio de guardias, equivale a desempeñar o cubrir dicho servicio. Aun cuando el Diccionario de la Academia no da esta acepción, en las Ordenanzas Españolas de 1728 puede leerse lo siguiente: "Los capitanes y demás oficiales que estuvieren de guarnición en una plaza, deberán 'montar' la guardia cada uno en su turno, sin reserva ni aun del oficial más antiguo, aunque tenga el comando de un destacamento de los que haya en la plaza".

"Las ropas interiores" o "la ropa interior" son expresiones que equivalen a las inglesas "underclothes" y "underwear".

Es muy frecuente en España llamar "botas" a lo que en América se llama siempre "zapatos", reservando los americanos el nombre de "botas" para el calzado de montar, cuyas cañas cubren la pierna hasta la rodilla, calzado que también lleva el nombre de "bota fuerte". Análogamente, en Inglaterra es común llamar "boots" a lo que se llama "shoes" en los Estados Unidos.

"Se hacen comentarios de todos los gustos". Yo habría escrito: "Se hacen comentarios para todos los gustos", evitando así el posible equívoco. ¿Conocéis el refrán español que dice: "De gustos (sobre gustos) no hay nada escrito"? Significa que, dentro de ciertos límites, cada cual puede tener lícitamente sus "gustos", por no ser posible discernir los buenos de los malos.

"Instruir diligencias" significa "to begin and carry on judicial proceedings", y "hacer o practicar pesquisas" es "to make an investigation".

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The Duke and Duchess of York narrowly escaped serious injury in a motor accident today while journeying to the city guild hall to attend the ceremony of the presentation of the freedom of the city to Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, Mrs. Mackenzie King of Canada and Stanley Bruce of Australia.

A brewer's cab dashed around the corner while the auto was passing through the suburb of Fulham and collided with the machine. A glass panel on the side on which the Duke was sitting was shattered and fragments of glass flew in all directions. Neither the Duke nor the Duchess was hurt.

STRIKE HAS CUT OFF VERA CRUZ RAIL LINE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 12. — The city was without rail communication with the interior as the result of a dispute between the maritime workers' league and the railway confederation, members of which latter organization quit work following a dispute over the rights of each labor union. The State Secretary of Industry arrived last night and is in conference with leaders in an effort to settle the dispute. It is believed the government will take energetic measures to avert complete paralyzation of the service out of Vera Cruz.

HARD SET-BACK

It was a heart-breaking setback for Jones, melancholy moundsman of the Yankees, who pitched even more brilliantly than did his southpaw rival, Nehf, in triumph. And, too, it was doubly disastrous for the Yankee machine, for with defeat they lost, at least temporarily, the services of their star first baseman, Wally Pipp, who wrenched again his weakened right ankle in sliding to second in the seventh inning, and was forced to leave the game.

Just how serious is Pipp's injury could not be determined tonight, but general belief prevailed that it might cost the Yankees his services for the remainder of the series and thereby jeopardize the chances of the American League champions.

His ankle swatched in bandages Pipp was able to hobble about after the game. He declared he would be ready to go back into the line-up tomorrow, but Miller Huggins,

Nevada-Trojan Argument at Coliseum Looks Very Interesting

BY BILL HENRY

When the Wolves of Nevada swoop down on the armor-plated Trojans of U.S.C. at the Coliseum today the first really good basis of comparison between the leading football teams of the Coast Conference will be available. In all probability after seeing the game between U.S.C. and the team that Stanford beat 27 to 0, the fans will decide as follows: "U.S.C. is good, Stanford is good, Nevada is also good, but not so much so."

In all probability Henderson's Trojans will beat Nevada by a small score today, partly because Nevada is good and partly because Henderson doesn't want to take any chance of hurting his stars, with Washington to be met a week from today and Stanford only two weeks agay. U.S.C. has no great surplus of stars this year, and one or two more or less will make considerable difference.

There is more than a small possibility that Henderson will spring something of a surprise in his backfield today by using Hayden Phythian at halfback. The Trojan end was a star halfback in his prep and freshman days, and hasn't forgotten how to carry the ball, as was demonstrated last Saturday, when he took a Pomona kickoff back to the middle of the field. He is the hardest man to stop on the varsity squad.

Nevada is touted as being stronger than last year, but this is to be taken with a very large and handsome dose of salt. Little Billy Hugg, last year's backfield star, is missing, and so are several others. There is nothing about the

Stars Run True to Form in Wilshire Golf Doings

Fred Barber Wins Hot Match From Elmer Ralphs

Wright, Hunter, Armstrong Eliminate Rivals

BY CHARLES WEST

From chilly dawn until Old Sol called it a day the Wilshire Country Club's links were densly populated yesterday with golfers out to win trophies in the invitational tournament now in progress. Those who failed to finish their qualifying rounds Thursday were out whacking around the course long before breakfast, and the first rounds in match-play consumed the rest of the day and part of the night.

Nothing startling happened either in medal-play or match-play. Wright finished his qualifying round with a safe seventy-seven, which surprised no one, and Spiers turned in a seventy-nine. Opening rounds found the favorite coming through as the much-abused dope had predicted, Fred Barber's match with Elmer Ralphs and Clark Spiers's affair with Owen Moore being the only close contests of the day.

RALPHS LOSES

Barber eliminated Ralphs 2 and 1. They played even almost all of the way around, being all square at the turn. Ralphs had the advantage of playing on his own course, and was very much in the running until his defeat on the seventeenth green. Both players were shooting cleverly, and although Barber held what slight advantages existed, he had to extend himself to dispose of his elongated opponent.

Owen Moore continued his top-notch golf of Thursday, but couldn't quite make the grade against Spiers, who was a big noise in the Pacific Northwest until he realized what a mistake he was making in spending his time outside of Southern California. Spiers trimmed Moore on the home green, 2 up, but only after a tough argument with his adversary, who shines on the links as well as on the screen.

Willie Hunter's clock-like golf put George Barmore out of the running, 6 and 5, the Southern California champ having the upper hand throughout the match. At the turn Hunter had an advantage of four holes.

Fred Wright ended his first nine with E. Cody, five holes to the good, and ended the match on the thirteenth green, 6 and 5. Scotty Armstrong and Harlow Hurley also came unscathed through the first round of play.

CONTINUE TODAY

Second rounds will be played today, with finals and semifinals being carded for tomorrow. Yesterday's results, with starting times for today are printed below. Matches in the defeated eights will tee off immediately after the undefeated players in each flight.

PANCHO VILLA WHIPS SCHWARTZ

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BALTIMORE (Md.) Oct. 12.—Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion, was awarded the decision over Benny Schwartz, of Baltimore, southern flyweight champion, at the end of their fifteen-round bout here tonight.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Jack Bernstein of Yonkers, N. Y., junior lightweight champion, won the decision over "Rocky" Kansas of Buffalo, in fifteen rounds at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Young Brown and Jordan Fight Draw

Young Brown and Johnny Jordan put on a fistic exhibition last night in the Hollywood American Legion stadium that had the pie-eyed fans howling with enthusiasm from gong to gong, the resulting decision of a draw satisfying everyone but the two principals. After the opening round, in which Brown's infighting offset Jordan's long-range work, Jordan stepped out and took the lead, swinging from the south side to Brown's features and poking a few to the tummy for variation. The third was a terrific slugging match, with Jordan having a slight advantage, but Brown's sensational finish earned him a draw.

Freddie Dean and Jimmy Hackley battled to a draw in the semi-wind-up, which was another fast affair, the majority of the fans favoring Hackley slightly.

The special event was more or less of a fizzle, Referee Blake being forced to give the decision to Johnny Spahr in the first minute of the bout on a foul, Bert Meyers having hit his opponent too low for official sanction, if not low enough to bother Spahr a great deal.

Buck Forrester clawed Young McLarren's ear almost off in the early rounds of their bout, and McLarren's seconds tossed in the towel to save their fighter's left cauliflower. Johnny Doyle trimmed Tony Moreya in a fast bout, Jimmy Pitten earned a decision over Jock Spencer, and Johnny Reno took his fight from Freddie Ellis.

Hutchison Is Victorious in Open Tourney

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Oct. 12.—"Jock" Hutchison of Chicago, veteran of many stirring battles on the green, added another laurel to his wreath of golfing fame today when, playing one of the greatest games of his career, he won the twenty-third annual western open championship on the links of the Colonial Country Club. Hutchison ran away from the field of sixty-six contestants and wrested the championship from Mike Brady, the Oakland Hills professional, with six strokes to spare.

Hutchison made the final round today in 67, the course record he established two years ago in exhibition play and which he equaled yesterday. His total score for the seventy-two holes of the tournament was 281.

Joe Kirkwood, former Australian champion; Leo Diegel, the Washington professional; "Bobby" Cruickshank, the wee Scot from Westfield, N. J., and Walter Hagen, the New York wizard, tied for the runner-up position with cards of 287, half a dozen strokes behind the victorious "Jock."

TOO MUCH CASEY

BY GUY LEE

We might have fought on Till the twilight descended.
And resumed it at dawn
So intensely contended
Was yesterday's game
In its calm quiet fury
Had we known how to tame
That Gazook from Missouri.

The Giants can't make Me succumb to their merit;
But they meet every break
With a horseshoe to snare it;
Lady Luck never yet
Had a thought for them shabby;
And their luckiest bet
Is that garrulous cabby.

I am not one to croak,
And my hide's fairly tough,
But this tragical joke
Has gone quite far enough;
A law ought to be Against Stengel constructed;
And if not, at least he Should be pinched or abducted.

Pioneers Hop on Franklin in Hot Game

BY BRAVEN DYER

A determined and energetic young man, playing under the handicap of the name of Randolph Janicki, put the punch and steam into the Los Angeles High School football team yesterday afternoon which enabled the Pioneers to open the 1923 interscholastic season with a 12-to-0 win over Sam Tenison's willing but inexperienced Franklin gridders. About 7000 fans saw the game.

For a new man,—that's what Janicki is as he didn't get to play hardly at all last year,—the Pioneer player was all to the good. He fooled around at fullback during the first half and as a result the Blue and White team came perilously close to losing the contest. In the second session Coach Herb White put Janicki at the quarterback berth and this lad did his part by injecting a world of pep into the hard-fighting Wilshire district team. The boy is a good passer, hits the line hard with a whirlwind twist rarely seen in an inexperienced high school player, and above all kept his eleven on top of the ball throughout the entire second half.

The first quarter of the tilt was an orgy of fumbling. Franklin's kick-off went plump into the arms of Razor, Pioneer center, and that gentleman somehow managed to hang onto the bullet-like drive, with the result that the winners came into possession of the ball in the very center of the field. Following a rapid exchange of kicks, and an even more rapid exchange of fumbles, Los Angeles brought the ball to Franklin's 12-yard line, a 15-yard dash by Dailey aiding materially in the advance. The Pioneers lacked the punch to put it over, however, and Franklin resumed her kicking game, having the advantage of a strong wind.

With Janicki at the helm in the second half the proteges of White looked like a different team. A forward passing game soon had Franklin wondering what it was all about. Janicki then got away around right end for a brilliant 15-yard gain, and Kerr, who had come in for Dailey, smashed the necessary two yards for a touchdown. Pabst failed to add the extra point.

The Pioneers kept right on pushing the Franklin team about, when Bert Jones, whose presence at left end must have given White and Kirkpatrick a great deal of joy, gathered in a fumble by Schweizer on the Kitefiyer's 23-yard line. Several good plunges by Pabst and a few more brilliant passes by Janicki put the ball on the Franklin 8-yard line, but here the home team rose up and stood off the attack. Schweizer dropped back to kick and Razor, who had been tearing things apart generally at center for the winners, rammed his short, stubby body through the line and blocked the boot. Sanders, who followed the ball like a Nick Harris detective after a missing poodle, flopped on the oval behind the line. There was something amiss, however, and the ball came back, the

Railsplitters Are Too Good for Jefferson

Staging a great last-minute finish which swept their opponents off their feet, the strong Lincoln High School gridiron aggregation copped the opening tilt of the City League yesterday from Jefferson by a score of 13 to 10.

It was a bitterly contested tilt, with both teams showing more than the usual amount of football knowledge for so early in the season. Lincoln was always on the long end of the score in the first half, only the strong fighting spirit of the losers keeping them in the running.

The Railsplitters scored first in the opening session when an attempted punt by Jefferson was blocked, Stiff falling on the ball behind the goal line. Goal was not kicked. The Democrats were not easily outdistanced, however, and Kerwin booted one through the posts from the 25-yard line in the same period.

In the third quarter it was all Jefferson, with the Democrats pushing the ball down the field on a series of line bucks. Rice smashed through the Lincoln defense and parked the leather in the goal zone. He also kicked goal.

The Lincoln team then started their powerful offensive, line bucks and end runs, completely upsetting their opponents. With only four minutes left to play Halfback Nolan pushed the ball over the line from the 5-yard mark. Goal was not kicked.

REDLANDS HIGH COPS GAME FROM CITRUS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

REDLANDS, Oct. 12.—Redlands High trounced Citrus Union in a practice game here this afternoon, score 7 to 0. It was a see-saw game up to the last quarter, when Mosso, fast Redlands halfback, dodged his way through the center of the mess and ran forty yards for a touchdown. Sutt kicked. The two teams were evenly matched. Redlands showed superiority in the passing game and in end runs. Citrus Union was strong on defense, but not consistent on the offense, and made first down but twice in the game. They held well when threatened, however.

The line-ups of the two teams were as follows:

Redlands.		Citrus Union.

California Faces Olympic Club Eleven at Berkeley; Stanford Meets Santa Clara Team

BRUINS TO GET REAL WORKOUT

Clubmen Expect to Give the Bears a Battle

California Offense Must be Opened Up Today

New Line-up Will Trot Out on the Gridiron

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—"I think that, man for man, we shape up every bit as strong as California. They are considerably weaker than last year, even though they are trying to build up a team 'on paper' that looks just as strong."

This was Bob Evans's statement on how he thinks the Olympic Club team will show up tomorrow.

Andy Smith rather agrees with Bob Evans, and therefore the verbal fireworks are pretty well eliminated.

As far as real action is concerned, when the Olympic Club meets the California varsity on California field at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow there will be plenty of physical hurricanes to think about.

TOUGH SEASON

The Olympic Club has already gone through a strenuous season of preliminary games.

California, on the other hand, has had an easy time with most of the teams that they have played. But in the Olympic Club they meet a team that will test their strength. So far California has devoted its attention to playing a defensive game and watching for the breaks, today it will begin to show in offense just how good a team it has this year.

Two familiar faces will be missing from the line-up of the Blue and Gold when they take the field tomorrow. The first is Jack Spalding, whose shoulder is still not right yet. Spalding may get a chance to show his ability a little later in the contest.

Dick Dunn's leg is not yet in fit shape for a game.

LARGE CHOICE

Bob Evans has a wide field of material to pick his team from. In the backfield he has the choice of Rowe, Patrick, Neonan, Needles, Savage, Smith, Dixon and West. His line consists of Logan, Hauser, King, Avery, Daly, Helser, Dickie and Mellington.

The line-up:

California.		Olympic Club.
Hall	R.E.	Logan
Sampson	R.T.	Helser, Avery
Cattle	R.G.	Daley
Harrell	C.	Hauser
Parry	L.G.	Dickie
Dixon	L.T.	King (C.)
Hufford	L.E.	F. Smith
Daley	Q.	Noonan
Dixon	R.H.	Needles
Nichols	L.H.	H. Smith
Witter	F.B.	Rowe

Sagehens Work Hard Preparing for Engineers

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLAREMONT, Oct. 12.—The Sagehen camp is the scene of great activity this week in polishing off the rough spots shown up by the Trojans last Saturday, in preparation for the Pomona-Caltech game a week from tomorrow. Especial attention is being given to the perfection of interference and defense.

Counting himself very fortunate in having no serious injuries from the U.S.C. game, Coach Nixon rewarded his gladiators with light practice the first of the week, but began Thursday with intensive training for the Caltech game, which is expected to be one of the hardest games of the season. Although Merritt, star signal-caller, suffered a broken nose in the Trojan game, he was able to play throughout the last half, and it is hoped that the two weeks' rest will put him in good shape to play.

Just at present Nixon has adopted a serious countenance caused chiefly by the failure of his backfield to come up to expectations. However, the individual material is good, as anyone of the quartet composed of Bell, Merritt, Clark and McCully can be counted on for consistent gains, and if they can achieve some semblance of teamwork should give the Engineers something to worry about.

An open date for Saturday was indeed fortunate for the Sagehens as it gives them time to work out some of the rough spots which invariably go with a green team. Scrimmaging and intensive practice will be the order of the day from now on, with Hod Chambers's frosh team furnishing the opposition. Nixon is devoting much time to the perfection of his regular plays, without attempting new ones, and in building up the line for better defensive work—a quality much needed by the Claremonters. He promises a much smoother working team than that which met U.S.C. last Saturday.

TULARE ELEVEN TO MIX WITH VISALIA

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

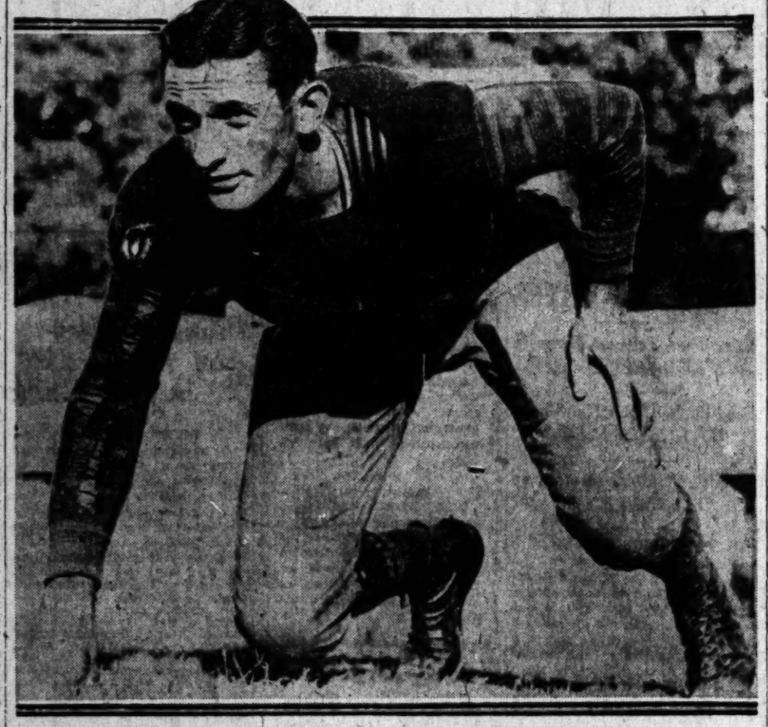
TULARE, Oct. 12.—With a stiff reputation to uphold as result of the big double victory over Dinuba here last Saturday afternoon, the unlimited and lightweight football squads of Tulare High School have practiced with more zest each day since. Coaches McCart of the unlimited and Cobb of the lightweights will attempt to iron out the few weaknesses before the conflict with Visalia tomorrow. The boys have several days of hard work before them preparatory to opening the league season on October 20. Training rules will become effective immediately.

"CRIP" TOOMEY WELL LIKED AT HANFORD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Oct. 12. — Irving "Crip" Toomey, four years on the California football and baseball teams, and now coach at the Hanford Union High School, is putting pep into athletics and other school activities. Last Saturday the Hanford football team won from Selma and yesterday the team celebrated its victory with song.

SCORED COLISEUM'S FIRST VARSITY TOUCHDOWN



Introducing Young Mr. Dorsey, Weighty and Fast U.S.C. End

This large young man—he weighs about 180—is a star punter, drop-kicker and forward-passer in addition to being a good end as ends go. He will play for the Trojans against the Nevada Wolf Pack at the Coliseum this afternoon.

ANGELS COP BOTH TILTS

Krug's Lads Depress Vernon by Winning First Game of Double Header, 5-4; Second, 9-6

By winning both games of a double-header from Vernon yesterday afternoon at Washington Park, the Angels now lead in the final series of the season, four games to two. The first game, 5 to 4, was a tight affair—a sort of heaving duel between Ponder and Cruz with Ponder having the edge. The second clash, 9 to 6, however, was a free and easy hitting contest, Vernon using heavers Reppy, Tiner, File and Gilder and the Angels Jones and Thomas. The second game was called in the middle of the eighth on account of darkness.

The first game went to the Angels, 5 to 4, in ten innings. It was a nip-and-tuck affair throughout. Marty Krug's double in the last half of the tenth deciding the day. Cruz was on the mound for Vernon and did fairly well, being taken out in the eighth to allow Pete Schneider to bat for him. Ponder mounded for the Seraphs and, although the Tigers nicked him for a quartet of tallies, he kept his hits pretty well scattered.

MORMONS SLAM FITTERY'S CURVES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 12.—Salt Lake bunched four hits off Paul Fittery in the seventh inning here today, thereby administering a second straight defeat to Sacramento and evening the count of games on the series at two-all, score 8 to 6. There was plenty of slugging staged by both Solons and Bees with Les Sheehan leading the swatsmen with four safe blows in four trips to the plate. Art Koehler was runner-up with a double and two singles in four times at bat. Score:

CONFERENCE GRID SEASON OPENS

The Southern California Intercollegiate Conference football season opens this afternoon with two games carded. Occidental and Redlands go into action at Patterson Field, and California Tech and Whittier hook up at Whittier. There will be a preliminary game to the Oxy-Redlands tilt, the Tiger frosh meeting the Dinuba High School outfit.

Pomona draws a blank after last Saturday's battle with the University of Southern California aggregation and Coach Eugene Nixon is glad of the rest. Jimmy Cline's Southern Branch gang entertains the San Diego State Teachers' College at the Vermont-avenue field. This game will serve as the first basis for estimate of the Cubs, as they have played nothing but practice scrimmages with their own frosh to date.

Occidental, with most of last year's team again in the fold, looks like the best bet for the pennant at this stage of the game. The Tigers have a good line, although not especially heavy, and a fast, steady backfield. Redlands is an unknown quantity. The Bulldogs have seven letter men from their 1922 team, but the Baptists finished in the cellar. If Kemper Taylor is out of the game their punch will be lessened about 20 per cent, although his understudy, McGilbra, is rated a very good boy.

Whittier and Caltech will no doubt provide the feature tilt of the day. The Quakers, after an exceedingly poor season last year, have knocked over the U.S.S. Arizona team and Loyola without having a point scored against them. Caltech started out strong against U.S.C., much in the same manner as she did last year. If the Engineers don't falter they stand a good chance of copping the title, as their line is stronger than Occidental's.

The Branchers are the mystery team of the conference. Coach Cline's lads have done nothing but tangle with their freshmen two or three times a week and, as a result, there is not much to go on in classifying the little Bears. The Bruin coach is counting on such veterans as Capt. Westcott, tackle; Peak, full; Haralson and Jones, halfbacks; Bressee, end; Hollingsworth, tackle; Thursby, guard, and Collins, center, to furnish the backbone of his machine. The San Diego team lost a 33-to-7 game to Occidental last week.

Cranberries raised in Oregon this year will fill 23,000 boxes.

CUDDEBACK IS CARDINAL AGAIN

Stanford Team Has Splendid Backfield Material

Meets Coach Pipal's Oxy Eleven Here October 20

Andy Kerr Points His Men for U.S.C. Clash

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 12.—The return of Murray Cuddeback to Stanford's backfield this week rounds out and balances perfectly Coach Andrew Kerr's kicking department, and makes it possible for the Cardinal leader to threaten any sort of an offensive attack, at any time, during any of the coming grid battles. The returned player, "the skipper," as he is known, is quite on a par with any of Stanford's lighter plungers. In addition he punts and passes well, and has one specialty, that of sharp-shooting field goals.

Against Santa Clara it will be possible for Coach Kerr to use a backfield of constant "triple threat" possibility. Cleveland, halfback; Nevers, fullback, and Cuddeback, halfback, are all average punters. All three can pass well, and each is adept at receiving passes. All three can plunge effectively into the forward wall when necessary, and all can run off ends or tackles with average effectiveness. Add to the trio Capt. Campbell, who passes, receives passes, and bucks the line as well, and Stanford has a backfield which constantly threatens anything in the way of advancing plays, for no matter what formation the men take they are in position to run pass, punt, or kick for a field goal. Of course, a try to score by the kicking route requires a special formation, but so many teams run fakes from this position that the various possibilities of attack always remain.

PLAYS UNDER COVER

Undoubtedly Coach Kerr will not uncover much in the way of fancy plays against Santa Clara Saturday. He will need all he has in this line a few weeks later against U.S.C., and he does not propose to lay out any more of his plans than necessary for inspection of one "Gloomy Gus." Kerr is interested in just two things Saturday, winning the game in the first place, and in getting the proper slant on his various backfield candidates in the second.

If the regular first-string lineup scores in the first period, scouts present at the battle will get an idea of what the Cardinal reserve strength is like, and they will know how well the Coach can play straight football. Outside of this little information will be given.

Compton Team Is Blanked by Orange Eleven

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ORANGE, Oct. 12.—On a windswept field here this afternoon Coach Davis's Orange High School football team won it's third victory of the season, defeating the Compton prep squad, 19 to 0. Battering the Compton line with a slashing attack, the Orange backfield started an early march down the field which netted the first touchdown just before the whistle sounded the first quarter. Kruger, quarter, packed the oval across on a buck from the six-yard line after a series of line plunges by Brubaker, burly Orange fullback, had brought the ball within the shadow of the goal posts.

The work of Brubaker and Kruger in the Orange backfield was the feature of the game. White and Ralls starred for the losers. Orange was playing without the services of Capt. Spencer, who was out of the game with the flu.

The line-up.

Orange (19.)		Compton (0.)
Crawford	L.E.R.	Randle
Lloyd	L.T.R.	Chappel
Warren	L.G.R.	Cunningham
Thompson (C.)	C.	Keyes

FULLERTON TRIMS POET PREPS, 13 TO 6

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WHITTIER, Oct. 12.—Fullerton High won a thrilling football encounter with the Whittier preps here this afternoon, 13 to 6, in the opening game of the Tri-county League. Each team scored in the first quarter, Edwards, Fullerton left end, scooped up a blocked punt and raced forty yards for the first score.

Whittier retaliated soon after, when Bigbee, Post half, lugged the leather across the Potato Pickers' goal line. Neither touchdown was converted. Blackman also carried the ball over the Fullerton line, but was called back on a technicality. The final score was registered in the third quarter on a 35-yard pass, Dowling to Lemke. The latter snagged the ball in mid-air and fell over the goal line under two Whittier tacklers. The game ended with Whittier rushing the Fullerton preps on the latter's 35-yard line.

Forester looked good for the winners, running back punts, while Barton scintillated with some classy line plunging. The long spiral punts of Tedrick were a prominent factor in the Poet's attack, while Tweedy at end smeared up everything that went around his side of the line.

The line-ups:

Fullerton (13.)		Whittier (6.)
Edwards	L.E.	Tweedy
Nelson	L.T.	Partridge
Hoverstreen	L.G.	Cole
Dowling	C.	Horton
Salters	R.G.	Johnson
Healey	R.T.	Tedrick
McDermott	R.E.	Blackman
Forster	Q.	Barmore
Kluver	L.H.	Nimmell
Lemke	R.H.	Bigbee
Barton	F.	Pendleton

Substitutions: Whittier, Knox for Blackman, Stringfield for Barmore, Mendenhall for Pendleton; Fullerton, Rapp for Nelson, Courtney for McDermott.

CUBS TRIPPED BY WHITE SOX

Pale Hose Win Third Game of Series, 4 to 2

Red Faber Pitches His Team to First Victory

American Leaguers Chase Vic Keen Off Mound

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—The White Sox turned on the Cubs today in the third game of the city series and hung up their first victory of the fall championship.

The series now stands two games for the Cubs against one for the Sox. The score was 4 to 2.

The veteran Red Faber informed the Sox manager that he was right and he was sent to the slab. Opposed to him was Vic Keen, one of the northsider's young aces.

CUBS TIE COUNT

The Sox started by scoring one run on four pitched balls. Strunk and Hooper singled, Collins hit a sacrifice fly and Falk got a single that went for naught.

The Cubs tied the score in the third on a single by O'Farrell, a sacrifice by Keen and a double by Statz.

Friberg's home run gave the Cubs their second run in the fourth.

The Sox passed the Cubs in the fifth frame on a double by Krouse, Faber's sacrifice, singles by Strunk and Hooper, and passes to Collins and Sheely. The latter's pass forced Strunk home. Fussell then replaced Keen on the mound for the Cubs.

INCREASE LEAD

The Sox increased their lead by scoring one run in the seventh on a single by Barrett, a wild pitch, Hooper's sacrifice and Collins's infield out.

NICK ADMITS HE FIXED SERIES

BY NICK ALTROCK

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1923, Christy Walsh Syndicate]

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—There is a lot of rivalry amongst the various two managers of the series enemies as to who thought up this idea about one club winning one game and then another. As both McGraw and Huggins are accustomed to spend all their spare time in the writer's apartment, why, friends, I am at liberty to say that your Uncle Nick Altrock thought up the idea. But let them take the credit, as I don't seem to be able to get any credit, especially at the chewing-tobacco stores of New York.

What a tough game for Sam Jones to lose. What a hard game tougher than Kid Gleason's hide. Harder than Nero's heart. It happened as I predicted, so I have lost the friendship of Col. Ruppert and he went around last night denying that we went to Yale together. He thought I said "jail."

When Kelly tried to complete a double play on Dugan at first, the ball knocked off the umpire's hat. It was one of the hats that was given to Ruth for making a home run in the second game, and it got a lot of mileage as it was kicked around in the dirt.

Ruth had to play first, and I sent out a special glove made out of a mother-in-law's tongue that I know. So it is guaranteed not to wear out in any climate, especially a very hot one.

It was at last revealed that McGraw wouldn't pitch Nehf in the first game of the series, but that he would pitch him in the third. This was confided to the writer after the third game was closed like an oyster's eyes. The reason there was so many double plays was that all the boys were on their toes except Pipp and Stengel. Wally was on his ankle, Stengel was on his bum heel.

I have advised Bush, manager of the Washington club, to hire Stengel, as he is a team in himself. Also, the unions have signed up Babe Ruth to be their walking delegate. McGraw started out by ordering his hurlers to pitch to Ruth. But if they pitched to him today, why they must have mistaken a fan in the upper tier boxes for the Babe.

I can't understand yet why the Yanks didn't win, and McGraw refused to tell me. But I guess it was just another one of the mass signals that worked. I saw Connie Mack in the stands and he said to me that if it was what us newspaper boys has been calling a contest of mind against matter: "Why, Nick," says he, "then something must have been the matter."

HUGGINS WANTS A SQUARE DEAL

Protests Against Snyder's Ticking Bats

Will Insist That Umpires Watch Giant Catcher

May Use Ruth at First in Today's Game

BY MILLER HUGGINS,
Manager of New York Yankees

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1923, by Christie Walsh Syndicate.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Helnie Groh beat us today in the Yankee stadium in the third game of the world's series. He stood between us and at least three runs, which if scored would have won the game. However, although the Giants again hold the edge and are playing on their home field once more I insist that the Yankees will carry on and win tomorrow when the teams meet on the Polo Grounds. Another thing I insist upon is that the umpires make Snyder, of the Giants, stop ticking bats. He ticked Ward's bat in the ninth inning and caused him to strike out. Under the rules Ward should have gone to base for interference. I don't know, and no man knows what would have happened if Ward had gotten on. No one can tell what would have happened if Ward had swung. Any time a hard hitter swings a home run is in the making.

ICE PITCHER

Arthur Nehf pitched a wonderful game. He was cool as ice and had good stuff. We did not hit him hard but at that had it not been for the marvelous work of Groh in knocking down those smashes along the left field foul line the entire complexion of the game might have been altered. The break of the afternoon came in the seventh inning when Scott drove that ball down the third base line. It looked like a sure single. It might have been a double. No one can tell what might have happened but Groh was there with a spectacular diving stop that killed the ball, and then h eleaped to third headlong and forced Ward as the last named slid in.

I have an idea that the Giants appreciate the fact that Ruth is something of a hitter. Twice he walked this afternoon and strangely enough those two walks were handed to him in pinches. Nehf might have put more than the ball would stand on those several services, but it looked very familiar to me. The big fellow drew his passes.

Sam Jones was the victim of luck that makes men sad. Sam held the Giants to four hits, one of which was a splendid bunt for Frankie Frisch, who raced in ahead of the throw by Jones. The other was a clean home run by Casey Stengel, and it won the game. Stengel has moved up even with Babe Ruth in the number of home runs hit. It was just too bad that his wallop had to send Jones down to defeat, but on the other hand Nehf can thank the veteran for deliverance. I am infinitely more concerned over Wallie Pipp than I am over the loss of a single ball game.

RUTH AT FIRST

If Pipp is unable to play tomorrow, I will have to rearrange my team considerably. Ruth will be brought in from right field to play first, and with a right-hander pitching for the Giants, either Elmer Smith or Gink Hendricks will play right field. This substitution will not hurt our attack to any perceptible or appreciable degree, but it will affect our defense to some extent. Pipp is a better first sacker than Ruth and Ruth is a better right fielder than any other man we have.

But regardless of whether Pipp plays or not, we are going right into the game to beat the Giants. All disguise is off now. If rules are bent and codes are codes and both are scraps of paper, then we will take up the game as it's played. It is no greater breach to say one thing than another. But ticking is a violation of the rules. When seen by the umpires it should be called and the batter sent to first base. I shall insist in the game tomorrow that the officials watch Snyder closely. If we are beaten squarely, I'll be the first to congratulate the Giants. But I'll guard the rights of my ball club to the last inch.

My choice of pitchers for tomorrow's game rests between Waite Hoyt and Bob Shawkey. I will not decide until I see them warm up before the game. If Hoyt has his stuff, I shall use him for, despite the fact that the Giants got to him the other day, he is a good pitcher and is more than likely to turn the trick this afternoon. Shawkey has had a good, long rest recently and his arm is strong.

How BOBBY JONES became golf's greatest genius

by O. B. KEELER

This is the sixth installment of a remarkable sporting biography; the life of the national open golf champion. Through it runs the thread of his technical methods, often described by himself. The author is the foremost student of the young title-holder and has watched his advancement from the earliest days.

[Copyright, 1923, U. S. and Great Britain by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved.]

The year 1919 forces on our consideration an odd factor in the golfing career of Robert T. Jones, Jr., and one that, had he not eventually overcome it, and in the stoutest-hearted fashion imaginable, never would have been let out into print by this chronicler. It is difficult to give this factor a name; we may as well term it the Jones Jinx. The reader may be incredulous of jinxes, or of the operation of fate in the destinies of golfers. Unless he has followed Bobby Jones in as many major championships as the writer, I decline even to debate the matter with him, or to admit it as a debatable question.

In a remarkable editorial tribute to Bobby Jones as the new national open champion, The American Golfer said:

"Bobby Jones learned the bitter lessons of defeat before he came to victory, an important factor in any career . . . Although only 21 years of age, success came to him only after many heartaches, many crushing disappointments many vain attempts to scale the heights."

And if you decline the somewhat flippant term of jinx, I am ready to substitute for it and with perfect sincerity, the dignified title of Fate, which kept Bobby Jones from many a title he seemed on the verge of winning though he was plentifully good enough to win at the time.

NEVER CRABS

I have been close to Bobby Jones in eight national golf championships, open and amateur, and many more sectional affairs, and in special matches. And I never have known Bobby Jones to offer the slightest semblance of an excuse or an alibi for a defeat and only under pressure to essay an explanation—in which invariably the blame was placed squarely on Bobby Jones' himself.

It required an accumulation of circumstances to earn the title of Fate, so that even at the beginning of the season of Bobby Jones's triumph not a few of the critics were saying:

"He's the greatest golfer, all right—but he can't win."

Let us regard the southern amateur championship of 1919, at the...

New Orleans Country Club, where Bobby in the qualifying round, not being as sure as he should have been concerning the rules, stood up precariously on a wheelbarrow just off the first green and with his niblick played out of the barrow a large shoe containing the golf ball that had dropped into it on his pitch from the tee. As I recall it, Bobby played the shoe itself well on to the green, the ball rolled out, and he just missed his putt for a three.

There was the national amateur at Oakmont, when Bobby for the third time that year was runner-up, and somebody yelled "Fore!" through a big megaphone just as he was swinging for a shot that seemed certain to win him back a hole from the margin Davy Herron held over him, toward the end of the match.

Bobby had defeated two brilliant youngsters and two fine veterans, Jimmy Manion, Rudy Knepper, Bob Gardner and W. C. Fownes, Jr., and in the lower bracket Quimet had beaten Chick Evans and worn himself out doing it, and had fallen before Woody Platt on the thirty-eighth green next day. And it seemed that Bobby's year had arrived.

But Bobby was pretty well down to Herron before the megaphone blast and—well—I heard Bobby talking to a friend the other day, who was saying he deserved to win at Oakmont.

"Not I," said Bobby. "I was lucky to get as far as the finals, because I was playing bad golf."

"But Herron went out early the next year," objected the friend, "and he failed to qualify the year after that at St. Louis."

"Can't help it," rejoined Bobby. "He was playing the best golf in that tournament at Oakmont and that's the one we are talking about. He outplayed me, that's all."

Bobby himself can't see any coincidence in Herron's being right at the crest of his game at the very time Bobby got through to the finals to meet him. I didn't either, at the time. But in the next three years, when it always was somebody right at the crest of his game that reached Bobby, I began to revert to the old Presbyterian doctrine of predestina-...

MICHIGAN VS. VANDERBILT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—With the exception of Chicago, every team in the Western Conference will engage tomorrow in contests which will provide a basis for championship comparison.

The Iowa-Purdue and the Northwestern-Indiana games are the only ones involving the "Big Ten" title, but interest probably will center in Michigan's clash with Vanderbilt at Ann Arbor and the tilt between Colgate and Ohio State at Columbus.

Michigan will attempt to wipe out last season's scoreless tie with Vanderbilt. Wisconsin and the Michigan Aggies will meet at Madison. Minnesota will play the Haskell Indians at Minneapolis.

As a result of its victory over Nebraska a week ago Illinois figures to score a decisive victory over Butler which provided one of the surprises last season by trimming the Illini.

Northwestern is figured to defeat Indiana, while Iowa, in the opinion of experts, has the edge over Purdue.

PIONEERS HOP ON FRANKLIN

overanxious Pioneers having been a notch off-side.

The final score came near the close of the game. In a desperate attempt to advance the ball Franklin opened up with a passing game of her own, only to have Pabst, a tall and hard-plunging back, wrap his long arms around the oval, shake off a couple of would-be tacklers, and romp some sixty-five yards to a touchdown. Again he missed fire on the goal try.

Franklin was completely outclassed, only the lack of drive in the Blue and White backfield preventing a score in the first half. The two-touchdown score doesn't tell half the story for the Pioneers made a grand total of fourteen first downs from scrimmage, while the Kitefiyers didn't get one until the last two minutes of the game, when a pass to Fusco advanced the ball eighteen yards. At this time the Pioneer eleven was made up largely of substitutes.

The Romans may not have a world-beating team this year, but with the raft of material the coaches have on hand, the Pioneers are going to make someboly's club hump to cop the city title.

The line-ups:

I. A. (12.)		Franklin (0.)
Beck	L.E.R.	Kammerdiener
Sanders (C.)	L.T.R.	Tyler
Butte	L.G.R.	Stephens
Raner	C.	Nosell

RAINBOW ANGLERS GET TROUT LIMIT

Many a limit of good-sized trout has been taken from the stream of the Rainbow Angling Club this week, declares Manager Leigh Garnsey.

In the last few days, the following Rainbow club members have returned to the city with limits of fish: George W. McIntyre and party, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Eaton and party, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Twining, George C. and J. H. Wents, S. P. Kraemer, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gracey, John H. Doane and wife, A. G. Gibbs, his wife and party of friends. Charles W. and Thomas B. Brown, Dr. Ben Frees and party and Mr. and Mrs. Olin Wellborn.

Wages and Prices Are Climbing Again

Now that the coal strike is out of the way, temporarily at least, and the Miners' Union has obtained a ten per cent raise in wages, comes the announcement that the four railroad brotherhoods—engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen—are behind a movement for increases in wages approximatly equal to the peak wages of 1920. It is but a month ago that the ten-hour workmen in the employ of the United States Steel Corporation were granted a straight ten per cent increase in wages as part of the plan to eliminate the twelve-hour day.

While these wage increases have been going on, the purchasing power of the American dollar as compared with the purchasing power of the same dollar in 1913 has been from 60 cents to 70 cents, according to government figures. At present, it is in the neighborhood of 65 cents. According to figures compiled by the National Industrial Conference Board, there were four reductions in wages throughout the United States in the six months ending May 14th last and 544 increases. Since that date, there have been two reductions in wages and 523 increases.

CASEY'S HOMER IS ONLY SCORE

manager of the club, shook his head pessimistically.

WOULD SWITCH RUTH

"I can't tell until tomorrow whether Pipp will be able to get back into the game or not," declared Huggins. "His ankle is swollen, and giving him much pain, of course, but it may be possible to work it around into condition tomorrow. In event he is unable to go in, I will switch Ruth to first where he finished today's game and probably use Harvey Hendrick or Elmer Smith in right. Or I may send in 'Hinky' Haines who took Babe's regular post for the last few innings this afternoon."

For eight innings, Jones, hero of a no-hit performance this season, baffled the Giants, save Stengel, with a marvelous change of pace and superb control, yielding only four scattered hits while Nehf was being found for six. Except for Stengel, only one Giant got as far as second base, but that mighty wallop of Casey's wrecked the Yankee twirler's masterpiece just when it seemed close to completion.

DISPLAYS METTLE

Coming back in the eighth inning after that crushing blow, Jones displayed his mettle by striking out Bancroft and Groh in succession, but he was withdrawn in favor of a pinchhitter in the Yankee half of that inning when Huggins directed his last desperate, but futile attack. Joe Bush, victim of Stengel's homer in the first game, held the Giants hitless in the ninth.

Facing the first real crisis of the series, John McGraw played his ace, Nehf, and the nervy little southpaw came through with flying colors. His work was only slightly less effective than that of Jones. Three times he faced serious threats by the Yankees, and on each occasion he rose to the emergency and turned back his foe. In only one inning, the fifth, did the Yankees gather more than one hit off Nehf. He issued three passes, two of them purposely to Ruth and each time the strategy, unpopular though it was to the crowd that wanted to see the Babe "bust 'em" was vindicated.

For today, the elemental encounter between "brute force" and "master mind"—typified by Babe Ruth and McGraw—was in the background. It was McGraw's turn to apply the punch again with Stengel to decide a pulse-throbbing duel, but the Babe, hero of yesterday, was largely eliminated from the picture, though not of his own choosing.

ELIMINATE BABE

Ruth was ready to carry on where he left off in the second game, but he was given scant opportunity.

Such of McGraw's strategy as came to the surface today was designed to eliminate Ruth from the danger zone and it was done by Nehf with neatness and dispatch. Twice the Babe came to the bat with prospective runs on the base, once in the fourth inning when Joe Dugan started the inning with a double and again in the eighth inning with Dugan again on base. But knowing what one devastating clout might do to a game such as Nehf and Jones were twirling, McGraw ordered the Babe passed intentionally and both times Bob Meusel fell down miserably in the emergency.

PIPP EASY OUT

In the fourth inning, Meusel drove into a double play, eliminating Ruth and himself, while advancing Dugan to third, but Pipp was an easy victim for Frisch and Kelly for the third out. Again in the eighth inning, with two out and Dugan on first by virtue of a force-out of Whitey Witt, Ruth was walked and again, with two men on base, Meusel failed. This time he filed out to Stengel to end the inning.

The inning before, the seventh, saw the most dangerous rally of the Yankees, a sortie that was checked by a sparkling play by Heinie Groh, the most brilliant bit of defensive work of the game. With Meusel out, Pipp walked, but on Ward's shot to Bancroft the first sacker was forced at second, the play in which he twisted the ankle which had kept him out of the game for ten days prior to the series. After a delay in which the ankle was bandaged and he limped from the field, Schang sent Ward to second with a single to left..

CLUTCHES BALL

Scott caught one of Nehf's curves for a wicked smash down the third-base line, Groh dived, somehow clutched the ball and then lunged for Ward, fielder and runner reaching the bag simultaneously, it seemed, but Groh was there first by the fraction of a second necessary to make the putout and end the inning.

Ruth's only hit, a single to center, went to waste in the first inning while two bingles by the Yankees counted for naught in the fifth. Ward opened the latter inning with a hit to left. He was forced by Schang, who advanced to second on Scott's infield single, but a Giant double play again nipped the rally, Jones hitting to Frisch, who completed the two-ply killing by way of Bancroft and Kelly.

Except for these few spurts the Yankees were helpless before Nehf's sweeping curves. Four were retired on strikes, Jones and Witt fanning in succession in the third, Ruth letting a third strike cut in sharply on him in the sixth, while Ward was whiffed in the ninth.

The story of the Giant attack is the story of Stengel's home run. Only two hits were garnered off Jones in the first six innings; only five got to first altogether. Bancroft walked and Frisch singled in the sixth, but the rally was shortlived.

NONE PREPARED

No one was prepared for Stengel's mighty stroke in the seventh except perhaps Casey himself. Fans seemed to have forgotten his feat of two days before while to Jones and Yankees he was just another Giant to mow down. But Jones took one chance too many and when he shot an in-curve down Stengel's groove, there was a crack, a roar, and Casey, in his uncontrollable glee, danced rather than trotted about the bases with the run that won the game. Where he had won a race with throwing arm and ball in his first great victory, he had a triumphal procession today.

GAME IN DETAIL

FIRST INNING

Giants—Bancroft went out on a high fly to Bob Meusel. The first crack in the Yankee's stonewall defense occurred on Groh's hot grounder to Scott which the Yankee shortstop fumbled, and Groh was safe at first on the error. Frisch hit a towering fly to Witt and Groh was held at first. Witt grabbed Young's screaming liner for the third out.

No runs, no hits, no error.

Yankees—Witt's grounder was easy for Frisch, who tossed the Yankee centerfielder out at first. Bancroft threw Dugan out at first. Bush hit a low single over second base. Bob Meusel hit a fly to his brother Emil for the third out.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

SECOND INNING

Giants—Bruther Ehmil returned the compliment of the previous inning by hitting a fly to Brother Bob for the first out. Stengel's high fly went directly into Witt's hands. Kelley popped a high fly to Scott.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Nehf pitched three straight balls to Pipp and then two strikes, whereupon Pipp fouled out to Kelley. Both pitchers were hurling airtight ball. Ward popped up to Snyder. Schang filed out to Bancroft.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING

Giants—Scott took Snyder's grounder and threw him out at first. The batters for both teams were "waiting out" the pitchers, seldom striking at the ball until two strikes had been called on them. They were waiting for the pitchers to weaken. Nehf struck out. Ward threw Bancroft out at first.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Scott shot a wicked grounder over second, which Bancroft grabbed by a desperate effort and then threw to first ahead of the runner. It was a nice play. Nehf squared accounts with his rival Pipper by striking Jones out. Nehf seemed to be improving and struck out Witt, a dangerous batter.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING

Giants—Scott threw Groh out at first. Frankie Frisch beat out a bunt by fast running. It was the first Giant hit of the day. Young's fly to Witt trapped by Ruth and Frisch held at first. Meusel hit a high fly to Ruth.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Yankees—Dugan got hold of the first ball pitched and knocked it into deep right field for two bases. Ruth was walked on four pitched balls. The wisdom of this move was apparent when Meusel hit into a double play, Bancroft to Frisch to Kelley. Dugan went to third. Frisch threw Pipp out at first.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

FIFTH INNING

Giants—Stengel teased Jones for a free walk to first. The Yank infield worked like a charm on Keller's grounder to Jones, which he threw to Scott at second, Scott throwing the ball to first to complete a double play. Snyder's grounder was easy for Scott.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Ward opened the hostilities with a slashing drive into left field. Schang forced Ward at second, Groh to Frisch, but Schang was safe at first. Scott beat out a grounder for a single, Schang going to second. The Giant infield strangled the promising rally with a fast double play on Jones's grounder, Frisch to Bancroft to Kelley.

No runs, two hits, no errors.

SIXTH INNING

Giants—Pipp took Nehf's weak grounder and beat him to first base. Bancroft walked. After hitting four fouls, Groh finally hit another that Dugan caught by a hard run back of third base. Bancroft went to second on Frisch's short single to right. Ward made a nice play on Young's grounder, throwing him out at first.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Yankees—Groh tossed Witt out at first. Dugan filed out to Young. Babe Ruth struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING

Giants—Emil Meusel filed out to Brother Robert. Casey Stengel hit a searing homer into the right field stands for the first run of the game. The crowd went crazy. Kelley filed out to Bob Meusel. Ward tossed Snyder out at first base.

One run, one hit, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING

Yankees—Meusel hit a high fly to Young. Pipp walked. Wally Pipp at second and Pipp was injured as he attempted to slide into the bag. The doctor examined his ankle, which had been injured several days ago. Pipp limped badly leaving the field. When play was resumed Schang hit a single to right. Ward failed to recover. Groh took Scott's grounder and touched third, forcing Ward.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING

Giants—Ruth went to first base in place of Pipp and Shalen played right field in place of Ruth. Nehf singled to left on the first ball pitched. Bancroft flanied out. Groh struck out. Jones took Frisch's grounder and tossed him out.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Yankees—Hofmann was sent in to bat for Jones. Hofmann's effort was a weak pop-up to Frisch. Witt hit a screeching single through the pitcher's box. Groh took Dugan's grounder and tossed to Frisch, forcing Witt at second. Ruth walked. Meusel filed out to Stengel.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

NINTH INNING

Giants—Bullet Joe Bush went into the box for the Yankees. Meusel took Young's long foul after a hard run. Meusel sent up a deserted fly, which fell into Scott's hands for the second out. Stengel grounded out to Ruth unassisted.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Groh threw Haines out at first. After hitting six fouls Ward struck out. The Yankees kicked vociferously at the third strike which was called by the umpire. The umpire refused to allow any claims and ordered the American League players to their bench. Groh then took Schang's grounder and threw him out at first.

CITY'S DESTINY IN LITTLE HOUSE

Henry Huntington's Dream More Than Realized

Future Development Rests in Vision and Thrift

Contented Worker is Found Under His Own Roof

Keep your eye on the little house that is built on the rear of the lot!

According to Henry E. Huntington, multimillionaire railroad man, art connoisseur and owner of the famous Huntington library, who recently returned from an extended visit in the East, the little house on the rear of the lot is Los Angeles' "little gray home in the West," and upon it the future happiness and development of the city largely depends.

Seated in his office in the magnificent library out at the Huntington estate in San Marino yesterday, the man whose remarkable vision and untiring labors have made him one of the outstanding figures in the development of Southern California talked of the things that have made Los Angeles what it is today. He also talked of the factors that are going to make Los Angeles one of the great cities in the world. And he talked of men and their wives and the thing that enables some people to save.

VISION NOW REALITY

It was in the nature of a man enjoying the living realization of dreams he had years ago that Mr. Huntington discussed the Los Angeles of today. He was reminded of an interview of his printed in the Los Angeles Times of April 8, 1906, in which he pictured the city as he wanted to be. At that time he was quoted as saying:

"I want to see Los Angeles quoted as the ideal city for the wage-worker, the city where the fairest wages are paid and the squarest treatment accorded; where contracts between labor and capital are inviolable; where labor has the confidence of capital and capital the confidence of labor; where strikes and boycotts and lockouts are known for what they are—the last resource of desperation; where, in short, an example is set of industrial freedom and prosperity in their highest form. That is worth struggling for.

LITTLE INDUSTRIAL STRIFE

Laying aside the paper from which he read the above quotation and in response to the question put to him, Mr. Huntington smiled and said: "Yes, I should say very readily that my dreams of Los Angeles in this respect have been more than realized. Where can you find a big city as free of industrial strife as in Los Angeles?

"For that matter," he added, with a shrug of the shoulders and a wave of the hand, "where can you find a city comparable to Los Angeles at all? There is absolutely nothing like it. Here we sit, as it were, in the lap of nature. And on top of the bounties that fall to us from her hands we have builded a city that is fulfilling our fondest dreams. Let me say right here that in my opinion one of the greatest factors in the upbuilding of Los Angeles has been the freedom that has been accorded labor here.

"You know, I don't hold anything against labor unions themselves. I believe that the men have a right to organize. What I do object to and have objected to all along is the way in which the unions have been run by a few unscrupulous leaders.

RANK AND FILE IGNORED

"The great difficulty is that the men themselves—the rank and file—do not attend their meetings and vote. I was talking to a big New York contractor the other day, who told me that the majority of the laborers working for him were union men, but that very few or them ever attend the union meetings.

"It is as I say, Los Angeles never could have become what she is today without the freedom that her labor here has enjoyed. I want to say, too, that Gen. Otis of The Times was one of the great figures in making this fight for the freedom of labor and the upbuilding of this city."

Mr. Huntington pointed out that in his experience as head of local railways he has had fifteen bouts with the labor unions and won out in every one of them.

"Why did I win each time?" he asked. "Why, simply because I was in the right. I never could have whipped them if I had been in the wrong. You know, I have always believed that a man never could succeed unless he is in the right.

PRAISES TROLLEY MEN

"And in my relations with my employees I have always tried to give the employee the benefit of the doubt. What is the result? Take the Los Angeles Railway, for instance. We are like a big family, all working together for the same purpose. I might point out that I have raised these men's wages five different times without their asking for it. I am frank to say that I believe they are the best lot of men I have ever seen working for anybody. They give the service and they give it with a will."

While discussing the street-car men who work for him, Mr. Huntington paused to remark about the fares in Los Angeles, pointing out that while fares in a great many cities throughout the country have been increased to 6, 8 and even 10 cents, the fare on the Los Angeles Railway system has remained at 5 cents. Why? "It's the psychology of the nickel," Mr. Huntington declared.

"It was good business to keep our fare at 5 cents. For two reasons. First, because we retained the good will of our patrons, and that is something that I consider as priceless. And, second, because we got more money, I believe, with the 5-cent fare. It may sound odd, but it's a fact. More people will ride on a 5-cent fare than on a 10-cent one.

PREACHES SAVING

"There's not much difference between 5 cents and 6 cents, except up here," pointing to his head. "We undoubtedly could have collected an increased fare if we had asked for it, but we decided against it. It cost us a lot of money at first, but the results today vindicate our course of action."

Turning to people and their daily lives, Mr. Huntington revealed himself as a keen student of human nature, wide awake to the problems of his fellow mortal. He preaches the doctrine of "save your money" to people in all walks of life. For instance, he even interests himself in the financial habits of the staff of servants and employees on the Huntington estate.

"Are you saving anything, Anna," he will ask of a servant about the house.

Well, Anna is trying to save, but somehow the little dribs and drabs she gathers together seem to slip through her fingers before she knows it. Whereupon this man of millions says: "Anna, when you get $25 together, bring it to me, and I'll put it away for you and pay you 5 per cent on it. Bring me more money and when you have saved up $100 I'll buy a bond or some stock for you."

And before Anna knows it she's the owner of a gilt-edged bond bought with the money that used to slip through her fingers.

NOT WHAT YOU EARN

"The great trouble with the average person and his savings is that he doesn't realize that it is saving on the little things that counts. He lets a dollar go here, fifty cents there and a dime somewhere else. It is remarkable how soon the amount piles up and then we wonder where the money has gone. There is nothing truer than the old saying that it is not what you earn, but what you save that counts."

Then came his comment about the "little gray house in the west." "Have you noticed," he asked, "the great number of small houses that are being put up on the rear of lots in many districts of the city? A friend remarked to me one day that he hated to see them going up. But I don't hate to see them. Do you know what those houses mean? They mean that they are being put up by their owners who cannot afford at this time, perhaps, to build a big house in the front of the lot. And for every one of those little houses in the rear, some time in the not far distant future a big house is going up on the front of the lot. And this will mean much to the continued growth, prosperity and happiness of the city. It is the man who owns the roof over his head that makes the happy citizen and the contented worker."

TOOK FUN IN ANNOYING WIFE

Complaint States Husband Kept Spouse Awake All Night, and Otherwise Acted Badly

The perverse delight Charles Edward Jones seemed to take in annoying his wife and family won Mrs. Thow Jones a divorce yesterday in Judge Clock's department of Superior Court.

He sat up all night in his rocking-chair, rocking on squeaky boards and stamping his feet on the floor, just to keep everybody awake, she said; when he tired of this he played ball with the dog all over the house, upstairs and down, and causing the animal to bark for joy.

He told her she was too liberal with the potatoes and reduced her to an allowance of two to feed a family of four for one meal, she said.

He took his boy's new shoes when the youngster wanted to wear them to church and said the old ones would do for Sunday and the new ones had better be saved, according to the complaint.

He brought candy home and waited till the children were abed before he produced it. Then he ate it himself. Mrs. Jones said she endured this for sixteen years. Judge Clock said that was long enough and gave her a decree and custody of the two children.

Damages Given on Accusation of Film Fraud

Charging misrepresentation and fraud, Emerson Edward Stumpf yesterday won his suit before Judge Charles S. Crail against Bob Horner and H. Charles Anderson, doing business under the firm name of the Bob Horner Productions. The court awarded him $550.

Stumpf charged that Horner and Anderson advertised in local newspapers for young men who were desirous of entering the film industry. He answered the advertisement, he testified, and the pair persuaded him to invest $500 toward the promotion of a film entitled "The Midnight Hummer," agreeing to pay him 10 per cent interest and employ him as an actor at a good weekly salary as soon as production of the film began.

Alleging that since the date of the agreement, November 25, 1922, sufficient time had elapsed to prove that production of "The Midnight Hummer" never would begin, and that Horner and Anderson had no intention of ever employing him in any capacity, nor of returning his money, Stumpf brought action on fraud charges in the Superior Court.

James A. McFarland of Dalton, Ga., national commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, is coming next week to Los Angeles to look into the hospitalization situation in California. He will arrive Thursday and expects to be here for several days.

TAXPAYERS TO GET BAD NEWS TODAY

Collector Prepares Bills for Annual County Levy for Mailing

Citizens of Los Angeles county will begin making their annual tax payments Monday. As a result the office of W. O. Welch, County Tax Collector, was a scene of activity yesterday. Tax bills were being prepared by thousands, and early today the first of the 500,000 envelopes will be mailed to property owners. Yesterday was Columbus Day, but it was not a holiday for the clerks of the mailing division.

On account of many new buildings and other changes in valuation the tax rolls were late in being prepared by the Assessor. The exact amount to be collected has not been figured, but officials estimate the sum will be larger than any previous year. One-half the tax on real estate and all the personal property tax becomes delinquent December 3. The second half of the real estate tax becomes delinquent April 28, 1924.

A penalty of 15 per cent will be added to taxes becoming delinquent December 3. It was declared yesterday it will take several days to mail all the bills.

Museum Offers Children's-Hour Entertainment

A program of special interest has been arranged by the Southwest Museum for the children's hour at 10:30 a.m. today. Markham F. McLin of the Children's Book Store will speak of the activities of the "Woodcrafters," an international organization, with a view of organizing a tribe to meet on Museum Hill. He will also outline some of the late books for boys and girls.

Games will be played and stories told under the supervision of the story-telling division.

William Gray Purcell, architect, will deliver a lecture in connection with the first annual exhibition of modern American handicrafts at 3 p.m. today.

Columbus is Paid Tribute in Southland

Los Angeles and all California paid tribute to Christopher Columbus as the discoverer of America yesterday. Being a legal holiday, banks, city and county offices, the stock exchange and many Italian business houses closed for the day.

Joining in the general observance were 104 California councils of the Knights of Columbus. The Los Angeles council celebrated last night at Columbus Hall, 612 South Flower street. James M. Mahoney, Grand Knight, delivered the address of welcome.

Heavier Bail Demanded in Liquor Cases

A new schedule of bails required for various offenses under the Wright Act was announced by Police Judge Sheldon at University Police Court yesterday, raising the amount considerably from that formerly required.

For manufacturing liquor $2000 bail will be requested; for sale, possessing a still or conducting a nuisance the amount is to be $1000; for transporting liquor and for possession of more than one gallon, $500, and for possession of a smaller amount, $250.

PLANE FIELD ESTABLISHED

Airways Corporation Leases Site on Terminal Island From Harbor Board; Will Increase Fleet

Establishment of a large airplane field on Terminal Island, Los Angeles Harbor, was announced yesterday by the Pacific Marine Airways Corporation, after action of the Harbor Commission in granting the company a lease on 380 acres. The lease is on a yearly basis and will be continued until the Harbor Commission requires the land for other commercial purposes.

With the granting of the lease the company is expanding its incorporation to $150,000, and will increase its fleet of huge seaplanes from two to five immediately. The planes are of the navy HS2L type, equipped with 400-horsepower Liberty motors and capable of flying to Catalina Island in twenty-two minutes.

The company will inaugurate an hourly service at the opening of next summer's tourist season between the harbor and Avalon, with a carrying capacity of more than 200 daily.

The field possesses landing facilities for both land and seaplanes, and it is understood a move is on foot in Los Angeles to obtain transcontinental air service, with this landing field as its local terminus. This would permit urgent messages mailed one afternoon to reach New York the night of the next day.

The Commercial Aircraft Corporation of Southern California will sublease a share of the field for its land planes. Army and navy plane will be allotted landing space also.

A number of hangars will be built at once, and the new field will be occupied by the Pacific Marine Corporation by the first of the coming year, the old field on Twenty-second street being too small for the expansion program. The moving figures in the enlarged company are Ellard A. Bacon, manager; Wallace C. Curtis, trustee, and Foster Curry, director.

ORSATTI CASE DATA SOUGHT

Dolley and Federal Prosecutor Preparing for Trial of Bribery Charges Here on 30th inst.

Harold H. Dolley, in charge of State prohibition agents, and Asst. U. S. Atty. Mark Herron, will go to San Francisco today to interview witnesses, and arrange for other matters in connection with the coming trial of Morris Orsatti.

Orsatti, a Spring-street business man, and J. R. Johnson, a former operative of a local detective agency, are jointly charged with attempting to bribe Dolley, as agent in charge of the local prohibition force at the time, in connection with the management of certain cases involving violations of the prohibition law.

The acts complained of in an indictment containing twenty-one counts, took place in July, 1922, it is alleged.

Another point to be cleared up on the visit to San Francisco, is the establishment of the legal status of Dolley as a prohibition officer, it being asserted by the defense that no such office as prohibition enforcement officer is known in the statutes. In overruling the demurrer to the indictment, brought on these grounds, Judge Bledsoe held that it made no difference whether Dolley was a legally recognized officer of the government or not, and that if an attempt was made to bribe him in the interest of certain defendants to the end that the law should be subverted it mattered not if he was an officer at all. It is the contention of the government that Dolley at the time, was a duly recognized officer in the internal revenue service.

There has been for some time a doubt as to the sufficiency of the bond of $25,000 given by Orsatti, and it is understood that the sureties will be before the Federal authorities today, to ascertain officially, whether they are eligible under the law to qualify for so large a sum. The sureties are C. Lotito, who gives his residence as 815 Cleveland street, and Cono Maechiavalo, living at 120 Santa Ana street. The latter surety signed by making his mark on the bond.

If it is shown that $25,000 cannot be realized quickly in cash on the property listed by the bondsmen, in case the necessity arises, it will be necessary for Orsatti to get new bondsmen, or be surrendered to the custody of the United States Marshal.

Judge Bledsoe will make a special trip from San Diego to try the Orsatti-Johnson case. The latter is at liberty on a bond of $5000, but it is understood that he will not really be a defendant in the trial except in an official sense, as he will be a witness for the government. Judge Bledsoe will be in San Diego, on the 29th inst., but he will remain there but one day, coming especially to try the Orsatti case the next day. There has already been so much delay in the hearing that it is the determination of the court to push the matter.

It is believed the trial will last two or three weeks.

COLLEGE BUILDERS TO MEET

Advocates for Palestine University Will Convene Here Two Days to Discuss Fund Raising

The Palestine University Builders will convene on the 20th and 21st inst. in Los Angeles and an extensive program is being arranged by the committee. There are nine chapters of the organization, which is composed of Hebrew students from universities and high schools. The purpose of the association is to raise funds to complete the Hebrew University in Palestine.

A banquet will be given in the Paulais Cafe on the first day of the convention. Prominent speakers and entertainers will be present. Among the entertainers will be the Kleiman Sisters, Lillian and Lucile. Lillian is a singer and Lucile is an exponent of dancing. Carmel Myers motion-picture star, will also be present. The methods of aiding in the work of raising the funds will be expounded.

Sunday morning will be devoted to committee meetings. At 3:30 p.m. a musical program and meeting will be held in MusicArt Hall. In the evening a dance will be held in the same building.

Work of building the Hebrew University in Palestine commenced in 1918. A committee of physicians raised funds for the medical division of the school but it is now desired to erect buildings for the fine arts, engineering and other branches. Dr. Chaim Weitzman, head of the Zionists' organization, who is noted as the inventor of the explosive, T.N.T, will come to the United States in November to organize a committee of the most influential Jewish people who will work toward completing the university.

Lecturer on Constitution Will be Heard at Annual Dinner Monday

The annual dinner of the Better America Federation, which will be given at the Elite banquet rooms, 633 South Flower street, on Monday,, the 15th inst., at 7 p.m., from reservations already made promises to be one of the large affairs of the season.

Miss Hermine Schwed, author and lecturer of the National Association for Constitutional Government, Washington, D. C., who comes to California under the auspices of the Better America Federation for a tour of the State, is to be the honor guest. She will speak on "Playing With Fire."

John G. Mott, vice-president of the Federation, will be the Toastmaster. Mrs. Lyman R. Stookey, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who entertains Miss Schwed at a special D.A.R. meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the Biltmore, will briefly respond to a toast—"Daughters of the Revolution," and there will be short talks on subjects of special interest. A musical program will be given by the Vassar Girls Quintet.

FOR NARCOTICS STUDY

Ministerial Union Indorses Work of Education Association

Declaring that education alone is the method to stop the spread of the narcotic addiction evil, and that the education should be undertaken by the educational department of the churches and of the public schools, the Congregational Ministerial Union yesterday announced the adoption of a resolution in which it declares the peril of narcotic addiction is threatening the foundations of society.

The resolution adopted by the ministers follows:

"Resolved, that the Congregational Ministerial Union of Los Angeles, Cal., alive to the narcotic menace that threatens the foundations of society, and recognizing the power of the truth to make men free and the healing value of narcotic education, hereby indorses the work of the International Education Association and recommends that, so far as possible, this work be taken care of by the educational department of our churches and by the public schools."

HOUDINI LECTURES

TO SHOW UP THE SPOOKS IN SERIES OF TALKS

By Grace Kingsley

Now the spooks had better look out!

Harry Houdini, hand-cuff king, who guarantees to be able to get out of anything in the world except the income tax, is keeping his promise—or threat, depending on which side of the question you happen to be on—to expose the tricks of the so-called spiritualistic mediums in a series of lectures to be delivered in various large cities of the country.

"I have signed," writes Mr. Houdini from Chicago, "to deliver twenty-four lectures on 'The Negative Side of Spiritualism' after closing my Orpheum tour. I am also planning to make a picture from my book, 'Miracle Mongers,' which will be an out-and-out stunt picture.

"It may interest you to know that I have lectured at the University of Illinois, Champaign, Ill., and at the Marquette University in Milwaukee on the subject of 'Psychology of Mal-Observation of Audiences and Spiritualistic Seances.'

"I am playing the Middle West and the Interstate time, with the picture playing the picture houses at the same time, making a wonderful tie-up for me. My new picture, 'Haldane of the Secret Service,' is being released by the Film Booking Office, and has opened up well. Gladys Leslie is the heroine and she certainly is making good."

Edward Phillips Signs

Edward Phillips, the brilliant young actor who is doing notable work in "Fog," at Cline's Broadway, has signed for a leading role in an independent production to be made at the Hollywood Studios.

Narwhal Is Heard From

Reports that the Narwhal expedition to film pictures in the South Seas has broken up are not true, according to word just received from Murry N. Fay, organizer of the expedition. The letter details some of the happenings on the trip. The letter was written aboard ship, in latitude 16.55 South, longitude 180 east.

"I don't think any man has ever had a better glimpse of the Samoan Islands than I did," writes Fay. "I visited nearly all of the islands. I went on on a trip with the New Zealand Governor of Upolo. We visited native villages along the shores of the island, and were feted at each village. I was able to make some wonderful pictures of Samoan celebrations that have never been on the film. We lived with the natives in their grass huts. The Narwhal left me at Apia and I went over to Pago Pago as the guest of Gov. Pollock of American Samoa on the U.S.S. Ontario.

"I went on two trips with Gov. Pollock, one to the Manua group of Samoan Islands, where we lived with the natives for a week, and it was on these islands that I saw the Samoan at his best, the reason being that the white man seldom gets to these islands and the native lives his own life. Morally I think these people far ahead of the white man. There are also some wonderful looking people among them. They never seem to tire of the same old food. They eat twice as much as a white man, and they eat as if their life depended on it. Yet, if you give a man a can of salmon or anything to eat, he will not sneak off with it, but will divide it with some one. They do not worry about money, as a man's wealth is judged by how many fine mats he owns, some of these mats being the work of years.

"The other evening we were dangerously near a hidden reef. If we had hit it, we would have lost our ship. It was very dark and those on watch were told to watch out for this reef. They seemed to be the only ones concerned about it, though; the rest of the men were singing and writing letters, and all were happy. It just goes to show how men will change. When we first left San Francisco, every man on the ship would have taxed up all night in a case like that.

"We are now amongst the Fiji Islands. We passed the one hundred and eightieth meridian today, thereby losing a day. We are now on our way to Noumea, New Caledonia, and will probably spend a couple of weeks in Noumea, then will go to New Guinea where the real adventure starts.

"I am going to take a party 600 miles or more up the Fly River. There have been five expeditions go up this river and so far none has returned. There are several things a man has to watch out for, the worst being the hostile natives and the many diseases. We have a very fast power boat and have taken all sorts of precaution to guard ourselves from danger. I expect to be in this country for at least three months. If I get out, I expect to have a wonderful story on film.

"There have been rumors spread about us, one that we were breaking up at Pago Pago, another had it that several of the men had left the ship on account of it being unseaworthy. None of these reports is true. There has only been one man leave the ship. He proved to be the wrong sort for this kind of trip, and had to leave us. The rest of the men are all with us, and they are as fine a group of men as could be found any place in the world. We have men from all over the world. Some are just out of college, others are grandfathers. We all have the same spirit, and there is no trouble or friction amongst us. We avoid subjects naturally that may lead to an argument. When a fellow is blue, we leave him alone until he sees the light. We knew this would not be a school boy's picnic when we were sailing, and we were ready for the hardships."

Christie Busy

The Christie Studio is busy these days. The Christies have scheduled an active program for the 1923-24 season, which will keep their four featured comedians very busy. In the twenty pictures that are to be made during this season, Bobby Vernon, Neal Burns, Jimmie Adams and Dorothy Devore will be starred in five each. Supporting players will include Jimmie Harrison, Vera Steadman, Charlotte Merriam, Babe London, Natalie Joyce, Tom Murray, Ward Caulfield, George French, Bob North, George Burton, Felix Valle, Bud Fine and Roy Weston.

Charles Christie returned from Europe just in time to view activities on the elaborate western set. With him from the British Isles came John H. Taylor, managing director of the Christie Film Sales, Ltd., and John Maxwell, owner of a chain of theaters in Scotland.

Not Beautiful, But Dumb

Louise Lovely, appearing at the Orpheum, is going to return here for pictures next January. She has been away on tour for two years.

The youngsters at the matinees are causing a lot of laughter in Miss Lovely's act. One little boy was having a very hard time acting, the other day, when Miss Lovely tried to instruct him.

"Can't you do anything?" Miss Lovely asked him.

"Yes," answered the small boy imperturably, "my mother says I can look dumber than anybody she ever saw!"

Ann McKettrick In It

Ann McKettrick, formerly with "Six Cylinder Love," has just arrived from New York, and has been engaged by Al St. John for his current Fox comedy, "Highly Recommended."

Owen Moore In It

Just before departing for New York yesterday, M. C. Levee announced his engagement of Owen Moore to appear in Maurice Tourneur's next production, "Torment."

Mr. Moore will be the featured player in this production heading a cast of prominent players.

SULLIVAN'S ABILITY WINS RAY'S PRAISE

STAR OF "MYLES STANDISH" PLEASED WITH WORK OF DIRECTOR

"A great student, a fine actor and director, and above all—a loyal friend."

In these words Charles Ray describes Frederic Sullivan, who directed his production of "The Courtship of Myles Standish," which is now showing at Grauman's Million Dollar Theater.

The man who has been wielding the megaphone in the picturization of the great drama of colonial days is a nephew of England's celebrated composer, Sir Arthur Sullivan, of Gilbert and Sullivan fame, and for several years he lived with the genius. The energy and ability of Mr. Sullivan is producing big pageants and his experience as a veteran of motion-picture endeavor has enhanced his ability as a director of big productions. His enthusiasm and genius helped to make "The Courtship of Myles Standish" one of the super-productions of the year.

JAIME OVERTON IS RECEIVING OVATION

Jaime Overton, concert master and assistant conductor of the Criterion Symphony Artists, is receiving an ovation from musical admirers for the brilliancy of his performance during the "Orpheus" overture, which Adolf Tandler conducts at the Criterion Theater. Overton, in compliment to Tandler, has written a special cadenza for this overture which he plays during the daily performances. He has mastered the eccentricity of the difficult passages and his tone and brilliancy of playing has evoked no small comment.

Mr. Overton is a young violinist of serious intentions. He demonstrates his ability to overcome difficult passages during the rendition of the "Orpheus" overture and during the presentation of "A Woman of Paris," the score of which is an exceptionally intricate one.

WHITEHILL AMONG NEW ARRIVALS

Baritone and Accompanist Here; Will Sing With Orchestra

Clarence Whitehill, the American baritone, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday morning and with his accompanist registered at the Biltmore. Last night he sang in Glendale. He will sing here as one of the soloists of the opening of the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra on Monday, the 22nd inst. During the time intervening between his appearance in Glendale and with the orchestra, he will fill an engagement in San Francisco.

Mr. Whitehill might well have been a farmer or a real estate man, "a butcher, a baker or a candle-stick maker." Not that he isn't a good singer. But some musicians carry their temperament on their shoulder, as it were, like a chip. Mr. Whitehill is just a big wholesome fellow you can't help liking.

He is interested in much beside music. He knows all the players in the baseball teams by their front names, and expressed surprise that such keen interest should be shown so far West as is evidenced by the crowds here.

With a few days comparative leisure he is planning a game or two of golf and other jaunts in and around Los Angeles.

"HER REPUTATION" AT METROPOLITAN TODAY

May McAvoy comes back to outshine her memorable role in "Sentimental Tommy," in Thomas H. Ince's latest production, "Her Reputation," which opens at Grauman's Metropolitan Theater today.

The picture, an Ince special, features Miss McAvoy in the role of an innocent girl who unwittingly becomes the victim of a series of scandal stories in which an overzealous reporter makes her the center of a love-suicide triangle after a lover has shot and killed her guardian and then taken his own life.

The production was directed by John Griffith Wray, from the novel by Talbot Mundy and Bradley King. The supporting cast includes Lloyd Hughes, Casson Ferguson, Eric Mayne, Winter Hall, James Corrigan and other character players.

CHANCE TO SEE HOW YOU LOOK ON SCREEN

Not only will those who come upon the stage next week at the Hillstreet Theater to appear in Louise Lovely's film, which she will photograph at every show, have an opportunity to see themselves on the screen the following week in the film, but they will also be eligible to win the contest which will entitle them to a one-week engagement at the Universal studios.

In her desire to furnish the screen with new faces Miss Lovely has interested the Universal officials and they have agreed to give to any person Miss Lovely and two Universal stars, whose names will be announced later, agree to be suited for the screen, a week's work with every opportunity to stay at the studio.

REINHARDT TRAINED POLA FOR HER WORK

Pola Negri, whose new picture, "The Spanish Dancer," is now enjoying a run at Grauman's Rialto, was just starting her dramatic career in Warsaw when she attracted the attention of Max Reinhardt, greatest of all European stage technicians. He immediately engaged her for the leading role in "Sumuran," a pantomime play in which she was enthusiastically received.

One of Miss Negri's chief characteristics is gratitude to all who have helped her to success and she pays Reinhardt this tribute:

"I can never overstate my debt for the training I received from him in Warsaw. He is indeed the fountain head of contemporary dramatic art in Europe and it is from him that I learned to act."

COOGAN PICTURE EAST

After six months of intensive work of filming and editing Jackie Coogan's production of Mary Roberts Rhinehart's story, "Long Live the King," Jack Coogan, senior, who supervised the picture, is dispatching Larry Weingarten, publicity director for the Coogan Company to New York with a master print of the film. Weingarten left yesterday, and before returning to the studio will exploit Jackie's most ambitious effort in all of the large cities of the country.

GRAVE MONETARY PROBLEM IS CONFRONTING MEXICO

Adjustment of Finance Must Precede Rehabilitation; Stable Banking System Needed

This is the fourth of a series of articles on Industrial Mexico, written by Timothy C. Turner of the Los Angeles Times staff, who has just returned from a tour of Mexico, made in view of the vast possibilities for trade and industrial expansion, created by the recent recognition of Mexico by the United States government.

BY TIMOTHY G. TURNER

Adjustment of finance in Mexico, both public and private, must come before definite rehabilitation begins. Wherever and however you look at things down here that seems certain.

And adjustment of finance depends on many things. The recognition of the Obregon government by the United States in itself cannot bring it. It has brought a certain encouraging optimism that is reflected in some business activity and in a reduction of the depreciation of the silver peso. But looking beneath the first flush of optimism, foreign and native, at recognition we see that more important things to capital must be adjusted.

"To go on the basis that mere recognition is sufficient will bring a repetition of what we had in 1917; it would do inestimable harm to Mexican commerce and industry," one of the best-informed Americans at Mexico City told me.

The actual condition is optimistic enough and business is benefiting by it, but a false flush would bring its reaction, and Mexican business should not suffer any more reactions. Business will improve, but there probably will be no great investment of foreign capital, the one thing needed, until after the claims conference has finished its work, and that will be some months yet, or until the terms of recognition become known.

That fact sticks out everywhere. American and other foreign investors will wait until they know more or less the conditions under which things will proceed.

One must strike some average between optimism and pessimism. The American pessimism is intense in proportion to the time the American has been in Mexico and according to his sufferings in the various upheavals. Often that pessimism seems to overshadow fact; but it is a natural feeling, for many of these business men have been bled white by revolution. But among them there are many who feel sure that the Harding-Coolidge administration can be trusted and that the Mexican administration can be trusted, at least, to do its best. There is considerable faith in Obregon and some do not fear the coming elections.

WILL BE NO BOOM

This confidence has been growing for the last year as Obregon definitely has put things in better order. But your correspondent has not met one American experienced in the game down here who ventures to predict that there will be anything like the boom that should come to Mexico, that treasure house packed with waiting resources, until the claims conference has finished its work, and perhaps not until after the national elections next year. In the meantime, however, there will be a steady improvement, a growing confidence—but no boom.

Finance is so interwoven in the political question, international and domestic, that it is hard to disentangle them. There really is no use trying to, for it is all one.

The Mexican-American relations problem is just this: The United States has capital and executive ability to exchange for Mexico's labor and raw products.

Capital comes first, as it does in the development of any country. The Mexicans, even the most radical politicians, are coming to see this more and more. There must be American capital and there must be Americans to aid in operating large industrial operations; Mexico can supply the materials and the labor and, to a great extent, supplementary engineering and business skill.

When the time comes the harvest will be great. American capitalists are keen to loan money to Latin America. The recent loans to several South American nations evidence that. With a feeling of security the gold will be placed at the back of Mexico's waiting resources. And it may be well that this will not be done too quickly.

The first effect of recognition was in the bettered depreciation of the peso. Under Obregon, Mexican currency has been stabilized by use of the gold and silver coins. The peso, theoretically, is worth just half of the American dollar, as it was under the Diaz dictatorship. The day of the billimbique, that flat paper without any sure backing, is past. Mexico wants no more paper and is even timid of the look of American currency, the native business man preferring to see the $20 gold pieces. Only one thing is lacking to put Mexican domestic finance in order, and that is a new banking system, as we shall see later on.

The depreciation of the silver peso before recognition was 5 per cent. With the announcement of recognition it dropped to 3 per cent, and just now is fluctuating between 1 and 2 per cent. That was a purely sympathetic effect.

COUNTRY NEEDS MONEY

But Mexico is still suffering from a lack of money for investment, and very greatly suffering, and this probably will not be remedied until big money in New York enters into the game. The domestic scarcity is due to several things, the bad banking conditions and a timidity of investors generally, due to fear of the political situation.

American bankers will be startled at this: With perfectly safe security one can get usurous rates that are not usurous except because of the actual scarcity. Money is loaned at Guadalajara at 1½ per cent per month—18 per cent a year; at Mexico City at 15 per cent a year. Mexico City is having a home-building boom. This is due in large part to the fact that the capital city was underbuilt because of stagnation during the revolutionary period, now several years past; but it is due in a large extent, bankers told your correspondent, to a feeling that it is the safest and handiest form of investment.

But conditions are so much better than they were that one can afford to be hopeful, to say nothing of the promised good effects of recognition. One private banker, who is a financial leader in his community, informed me that while four years ago he did business on a 2 per cent margin, he now did it on a ¼ per cent margin. This margin, or more or less the same, has been applied to business. It was made necessary by the risk of doing business in revolutionary times. It slowly has been reduced because of the stability of the Obregon government. Now the banker and the grocer operate much as in the States. Good crops, which will be dealt with in a subsequent article, still more will improve matters.

Indeed, banks are needed. Since the revolution that wrecked the old Porfirista banking system Mexican banks have been private. Each community has its banks, run by American or European capital, usually locally invested. There is no hard and fast security. Americans will remember the danger of banks before the reform laws in the States, so there is small wonder that there have been failures and that banks have become more financial agencies than depositories. People, especially the natives, keep their money in a chimney niche,—after the fashion of the vice-regal period.

STABILIZING MONEY

That, of course, must be remedied. The government already has taken the step. It is proposed to establish a "banco unico"—only bank—which would be something like our national banks. But it is proposed to issue paper money with a metallic backing. Most foreign and Mexican business men seem to think this will never do; there is not the confidence in the government—in any Latin-American government—that there is in the government of the United States, and also the very idea of paper money, however backed, makes one tremble in Mexico.

The government thus may be forced to retain the metallic system, the very chink of the gold, silver, nickel and copper coins makes for business confidence. But handling metallic currency is a difficult business; it is more like the system under the Caesars than modern banking. Relatively small amounts of money must be handled in sacks on trucks.

The present system is this: The gold coins are almost at par—fifty-fifty—but the silver pesos weigh considerably less than 50 cents worth of silver. It is a proof of confidence in the government, therefore, that the depreciation is not greater than it is.

Under the Diaz regime the Mexican banks issued paper currency with metallic backing. This, perhaps, could be done again. But the lack of confidence in paper of any kind—by the ignorant, even of United States bills or Bank of England notes—will make it difficult to establish any paper system. Another way out, of course, would be to have the Mexican banks backed by foreign capital, but that is something at present very difficult to do in Mexico, because of the fear of foreign interest in domestic affairs.

EXPORTS INCREASE

There are many other things that indicate a steady improvement in the last twelve months or so, now further improved by recognition. The Department of Commerce figures show that in the seven months' period ending in July American exports to Mexico were increased by 8 per cent—up-to-date statistics, American or Mexican, are not available, so slow is their assembling and compilation. Mexican exports to the United States during the month of July totaled nearly $10,000,000 gold, and imports from the United States into Mexico amounted to a little more than $10,000,000.

In fact, Mexico for some time has been keeping to a favorable trade balance, but of course oil is included in the export figures, and oil is a tremendous thing in itself that has little directly to do with other industrial efforts in the republic, except as its fluctuations may affect finance and confidence. The guaranty for capital in Mexico, which was the crux of the diplomatic negotiations preceding and following recognition, is two-fold: the satisfactory adjustment of the agrarian law which affects agricultural operations in which foreigners are heavily interested, and of the clause in the new constitution pertaining to the nationalization of oil fields. They have no direct connection, but together they form the question at hand, and all other industrial business and financial operations depend on them.

The national government is aiding in the revival, while some State governments are hindering it by radical legislation (in some cases not much more radical than some legislative experiments in the United States.) More often it is an improper application of existing legislation, particularly of the agrarian laws; this will be taken up in another article.

The Federal government estimates that its revenues for the next calendar year will be $10,000,000 pesos. If foreign investors neither rush in pell mell and invest carelessly, nor stand off entirely; if small investors take the tip from the big ones, who have the best means of ascertaining the conditions, industrial and political, all soon will progress as it should, and many steps will be taken toward that wonderful exchange for mutual benefit between Mexico and the United States, a relation that is fixed arbitrarily by nature and from which neither nation can afford to deviate.

BUSINESS NEWS OF BUSY MARTS

Thirty-five National Banks in Fifty Million Class

Auto Sales Show Heavy Local Gain Over Last Year

Real Estate Bonds Offered; United Eastern Report

Thirty-five leading national banks in the United States reported deposits aggregating $5,013,849,000 as of September 14, representing a decline of $43,205,000 from June 30, allowing for the omission from the list of the Commonwealth-Atlantic National of Boston.

Of the thirty-five banks in the $50,000,000 class the subjoined tabulation prepared by the Wall Street Journal shows that twelve are in New York City and have deposits totaling $2,665,376,000. This is about 6 per cent of the total deposits of all banks in the United States and 15 per cent of the total deposits in approximately $250 national banks.

Los Angeles is represented by the First National Bank, which reports a slight decrease from June 30 of $994,000.

The decline in deposits was smaller than had generally been expected. At this period funds normally flow to the interior and to smaller banks, not in the $50,000,000 class, to pay for crops. Consequently, little banks are usually flush with money at this period, while the big city institutions show a declining tendency.

Of the first ten banks, seven are in New York City, two in Chicago and one in Boston. The National City leads with $459,962,000. This is a decrease of $2,238,000 since June 30, but an increase of $15,824,000 since a year ago.

Chase National stands second with deposits of $390,789,000, a loss of $5,397,000 since June 30 and a loss of $43,318,000 since a year ago.

Continental and Commercial of Chicago lost $1,250,000 since June 30 and $15,431,000 since September 15, 1922.

First National of Boston has gained $5,847,000 since June 30, the largest gain of any of the thirty-five banks. Mechanics and Metals also made a conspicuous gain.

AUTO SALES GAIN

Sales of automotive vehicles in Southern California turned decidedly downward in September, the data published by the Automobile Publishing Company showing decreases in both passenger cars and trucks. Sales of passenger cars totaled 9668, representing a decline of 14 per cent from August, but a gain of 255 per cent over September of 1922.

New motor trucks purchased in September amounted to 966, a loss of 37 per cent from August, and a gain of 1 per cent over the same month of last year.

New motor vehicles delivered to Southern California since the first of the year totaled 148,656, according to the figures supplied by the Automobile Publishing Company, of which 98,146 are passenger cars and 10,510 trucks.

The First Mortgage Corporation is offering $140,000 Frandora Apartments 7 per cent first-mortgage real-estate bonds at 100 and interest to yield 7 per cent, and $900,000 Security Apartments 7 per cent first-mortgage serial coupon bonds at 100 and accrued interest to yield 7 per cent.

The first issue is secured by a first mortgage on the land, building, rental and equipment of the property located at No. 622 South Serrano avenue, and the second offering is based on the land, building, rental and equipment at Ivar avenue, near Hollywood Boulevard.

UNITED EASTERN

Published reports from a New York curb brokerage house state that the United Eastern Mining Company, operating principally in the Oatman district of Arizona, has acquired the Moss and Dicky mines in that district, in which quantities of low-grade ore exist. An offer is said to have been made for the property of the Ontario Gold Company where high-grade shipping ore is reported available.

PRODUCE MARKET

FILIPINOS CLAIM TAX IS UNFAIR

Merchants Again Seeking Discontinuance of C.O.D. Parcel Post System

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MANILA, Oct. 12.—Recent cables from private sources are to the effect that a determined effort is to be made by the Bureau of Internal Revenue in the United States to collect from Americans in the Philippines income tax for the five-year period subsequent to the passage of the Revenue Act of 1916, during which no exemption from assessment on income derived from the islands was allowed.

The present legislation provides no machinery for such collection and a very great number of individuals are quite unable to pay the amount, which represents the difference between the American assessment and the amount paid into the Philippine treasury under the local income tax law.

The Governor-General has been requested to take up the matter with Washington, and the American Chamber of Commerce of the Philippine Islands is preparing data to show that the levy is distinctly unfair. The basis for such a claim is found in the fact that Filipinos and foreigners, with whom the American business man comes indirect competition, are assessed in the islands only.

"You Can Win"

How do you tackle your work each day?
Are you scared of the job you find?
Do you grapple the task that comes your way
With a confident, easy mind?
Do you stand right up to the work ahead
Or fearfully pause to view it?
Do you start to toil with a sense of dread
Or feel that you're going to do it?

You can do as much as you think you can,
But you'll never accomplish more;
If you're afraid of yourself, young man,
There's little for you in store.
For failures come from the inside first,
It's there if we only knew it,
And you can win, though you face the worst,
If you feel that you're going to do it.

Success! It's found in the soul of you,
And not in the realm of luck!
The world will furnish the work to do,
But you must provide the pluck.
You can do whatever you think you can,
It's all in the way you view it.
It's all in the start you make, young man;
You must feel that you're going to do it.

How do you tackle your work each day?
With confidence clear, or dread?
What to yourself do you stop and say
When a new task lies ahead?
What is the thought that is in your mind?
Is fear ever running through it?
If so, just tackle the next you find
By thinking you're going to do it.

GREY HUNTING BEARS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Oct. 12.—Novelist Zane Grey and a party of friends, after return from the Kayenta-Rainbow bridge section, have gone on to northern Tonto basin, for a session of bear hunting.

CROP VALUES INCREASE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL PASO, Oct. 12.—The value of farm crops in the valleys under the Elephant Butte dam will reach $6,000,000 this year, compared with $4,500,000 last year according to L. M. Lawso, manager of the project.

BY HOWARD C. BEGLEY

The "cracking" process and other improved methods of treating crude oil to extract gasoline from it have increased the amount of gasoline recovered from California crude 4 per cent in less than three years.

This remarkable fact has just been brought to light by G. M. Swindell, secretary of the Chamber of Mines and Oil. According to Mr. Swindell's estimates, California is now getting 19 per cent gasoline from a barrel of crude oil. In 1920 the percentage was 15.

During August of this year the refineries of California ran through 567,210,000 gallons of crude oil, making 108,145,000 gallons of gasoline, 323,676,000 gallons of gas oil and fuel oil, 7,072,000 gallons of lubricants and 16,400,000 gallons of kerosene.

In August, 1920, the California refineries ran 309,284,000 gallons of crude, making 46,699,000 gallons of gasoline, 9,999,000 gallons of lubricants, 17,661,000 gallons of kerosene, and 238,926,000 gallons of gas oil and fuel oil.

From these figures it is apparent that western refineries are yielding more gasoline per barrel of crude as mechanical methods improve and affording proportionately less gas oil and fuel oil. In 1920 the refinery runs showed 66 per cent gas oil and fuel oil to the barrel of crude, while this year they show only 57 per cent gas oil and fuel oil to the barrel.

Newport Leasing Active

Oil-land leasing in the vicinity of West Newport, where heavy-base oil was discovered several weeks ago, indicates that considerable drilling in that section may be expected during the next few months.

It was reported yesterday that D. R. White and L. B. Swarts of Huntington Beach have just obtained control of fifty-two residence lots in the vicinity of the Fulkerson well, which is now yielding about sixty-five barrels as asphaltum per day. These men are reported to be interested in several wells at Signal Hill and Huntington Beach, and are said to be planning developments on their new lease.

Some time ago the Standard Oil Company took leases on the flats lying between Huntington Beach and Newport Beach, and it is now reported to have renewed another big lease in that region at a cost of $16,000.

The Fulkersons, who brought in the discovery well at West Newport, are planning to put up a refinery there in the course of a few months. They are now working on a drilling program which calls for nine more wells.

Big Gas Blowout

The Anthony Oil Company's No. 1 well in Kern county, located one mile south of McKittrick wells, is down 1320 feet, and is reported to have experienced a gas blowout which blew the tools of the standard rig more than 100 feet in the air. Company officials expect to reach oil sands at about 1500 feet.

The Gilbert Oil Company, which recently drilled a dry hole in the Santa Fe Springs field, plans to try for oil on its holdings adjoining the Anthony well in the event the latter encountered producing sands.

Completion Delayed

Completion of Fackler No. 1 in the Signal Hill field, located west of Cherry street at the junction of Hill, is expected today, according to President J. W. Henderson of the Henderson Petroleum Syndicate, owners of the well. The Fackler was expected to come in Monday, but owing to difficulty in drilling out the cement, completion was delayed several days.

Near Completion

Three wells of the Union Oil Company in the Santa Fe Springs field are nearing completion.

CHIEF APPEALS TO PEOPLE IN BUILDING POLICE FORCE

Vollmer Says Hands Are Tied if Aid Is Denied; New Buildings Deemed Vital

The rehabilitation of the Los Angeles police department is up to the people of Los Angeles. The people have a right to demand the kind of a police force they desire, but they must know what they need before they can act. And Chief Vollmer, for one, is going to see to it that they know, even if he has to shout it from the housetops.

This, in brief, is what Chief Vollmer had to say yesterday regarding his plans for the future of his department and the accomplishments of the last few months. The Chief is after results, but he is after facts first. Considerable study must be made before the needs of the department are finally determined, he declared in an interview, but certain things have been established and all the machinery has been set in motion to learn what the people primarily desire.

NEEDS NEW HEADQUARTERS

Incidentally, the Chief disclosed, he is going to ask the people of Los Angeles for a new police headquarters building, to be located somewhere in the proposed civic center, and at least ten additional buildings, to be built or leased, new division headquarters to be established as a part of the reorganization plan. The present headquarters building will soon be large enough to house the city jail and re-equipped department that must be built, from time to time, to take care of the growth in the West and a population that is going to be housed in five years.

"I do not know if you realize it, but I know that I do, and my study of needs of your department and my city has convinced me that we must build for the future and that we have no time to lose. The plan made some time ago, to rent to the city space in the new county building now under construction are out of date. By the time they give us the space there will have grown so that we will be hanging out of the windows and on the roof, and the county itself will need every inch of space," the Chief said.

The Chief's request for the new bond election is to be submitted to the people in the form of a bond issue, and will be based on a survey now being completed from reports of division commanders on their needs for the next five years. The detective bureau is the Chief said, must be placed in take care of a force of 250 men.

"I believe that the people of Los Angeles want to know the facts regarding their police force and I am going to strip all the red tape and mystery from police work and place it on the basis of business," Chief Vollmer concluded. "Before we tackle a problem we are going to know all the facts in it, and we are going to do the job, one thing at a time, and do it well. It is my business to tell the people exactly what I find, and I have no doubt that the people can determine then what they need and will have what they want."

INDUSTRIAL FARM URGED

An important part of his plan, Chief Vollmer declared, is an industrial farm, of not less than 3000 acres, equipped to handle every type of human activity for the social rehabilitation of criminals now in custody by police. "Of course," Chief Vollmer said, "this is a general proposition. The details are not so easily worked out, but I have confidence that before

RANCHER IS KILLED BY BRUSH FIRE

District North of Santa Paula Swept; Blaze Now Under Control

One fire fighter was burned to death yesterday in a brush blaze that, fanned by a strong east wind, swept the low hills north of Santa Paula. The fire, which had been burning for two days, assumed alarming proportions yesterday afternoon, but last night, with 600 men fighting it, was believed under control.

The dead man is Frank C. Foster, 67 years of age, a rancher. He was overcome by smoke and heat and succumbed before aid could be administered.

Several hundred acres of valuable pasture and timber land were burned over, the fire making a patch several miles wide. Foster was a brother of E. P. Foster of Ventura, donor of two parks to that city and of Foster Mountain Park, the scene of the fire.

WIND DIES DOWN

It was reported at first that a ranger had lost his life also, but this was found later to be untrue.

The wind died down when dusk fell and this lightened the work of the fire fighters, who, it was said, would win their battle by daylight if favorable weather conditions continued.

Foster's body was found by Duncan McMillan.

Fires yesterday threatened Camp Chaffee, near Ventura, and the California School for Girls, in Canada Larga, but both were got under control.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

VENTURA, Oct. 12.—When a high-power electricity line to Santa Barbara broke on the Waterhouse ranch in the high wind that raged this morning a fire was started that for a time threatened to sweep a great wooded area. It is now virtually under control. The Waterhouse ranch is about six miles from Ventura. Men were rushed from Ventura to fight the blaze.

SEIZED GOODS ARE SOLD

United States Marshal Sittel yesterday sold at public auction eleven cases of cotton cloth seized about four years ago for violation of the customs laws. It was imported originally from Japan. J. J. Sugarman bought nine cases, each containing from 800 to 1400 yards, for $917. Irving Newman bid one at $175 and David Tepdesky another at $170. About 1 cent a yard for the cloth was realized.

MILLIONS TO BE USED IN MEXICO

Southern Pacific Planning Costly Improvements

West Coast Development is Sought With Program

Ice Plant for Benefit of Growers Under Way

The Southern Pacific Railway of Mexico will spend $5,000,000 in the next two or three years on improvements of its existing lines, and some important phases of the work already are under way. One of these is installation of an ice plant, which the railroad is building to supply the West Coast agricultural interests with ice, now scarce and dear. By this far-sighted policy the Mexican West Coast will feel the good effects of the railway's effort even before the connecting link is opened to the interior of the republic, which will end the district's isolation.

H. B. Titcomb

H. B. Titcomb, president of the Southern Pacific of Mexico, made these projects known yesterday before he left for his headquarters at Tucson after a few days' visit to this, his one-time home. Mr. Titcomb formerly was vice-president of the Pacific Electric Railway.

FOR AID OF GROWERS

The ice plant already is under construction at Empalme, Son., and should be finished by December 15. It will cost $210,000. The railroad is building it solely as an aid to the West Coast growers, who lose much produce through lack of proper refrigeration. Since the railroad will derive no direct benefit from the investment, this novel idea evidences the extent to which American enterprise is aiding in the development of Mexico's most neglected and yet most promising district.

Mr. Titcomb reports that the first allowance of the general improvement budget, $150,000 for reballasting and otherwise improving forty miles, already has been received. The improvement of the existing lines will be pressed to a completion about the time the Tepic City-Guadalajara cut, now being made, is finished some two years and a half hence.

An important phase of the improvement is the substitution of oil fuel instead of coal and wood, which always have been used on the West Coast. The first unit of the oil-burning sections, between Nogales and San Blas, will be installed shortly. Mr. Titcomb reports. Other parts of the road will be equipped with oil-burning locomotives as rapidly as possible. This will greatly improve the efficiency of the operation, and with the roadbed improvements, the railroad will be converted from a pioneering road, battered by the revolutionary armies, to a perfectly equipped railroad. All of the wooden trestles are to be replaced by steel or concrete structures.

The cut of 103 miles between Tepic City, in the State of Nayarit, and a point on the National Railways, near Guadalajara, which is one of the most important railroad engineering projects on the continent, has been delayed by heavy rains. At the Tepic end of the work, there was sixty inches of rain from June through September. But the rainy season is now over, and the railroad construction will be pressed in the winter months in an effort to catch up for the lost time.

At present there are 1200 men and 350 mules at work on the cut. Mr. Titcomb says that in the next thirty days there will be a total of 4000 workmen on the jobs. Already several of the total of thirty-three tunnels have been blasted and nine miles of road constructed from the Tepic side and three miles from the Guadalajara side have been finished. The work was started only last April. The whole railroad construction project will cost some $12,000,000.

OFFICERS TAKE PAIR NORTH

In Addition to Killing San Bruno Official, Suspects Confess Many Robberies in Bay City Area

When questioned by Sheriff Lankin of San Mateo county, two of his deputies, and Detective Sergeants Bonner and McLaughlin of San Francisco, Floyd Hall and Frank Rollins, prisoners in the City Jail at Redwood City, admitted the murder of Thomas Meehan, city marshal of San Bruno, and a score of burglaries and robberies in San Francisco and vicinity, according to the officers.

The two youths—they are only 17 years of age—will be taken to San Mateo at 7 a.m. today.

The officers said Rollins's real name is Frank Tanko and that his father, under arrest at Redwood City, made a detailed confession which implicated the two prisoners in the murder and other crimes.

Hall and Rollins, or Tanko, have been serving a ninety-day sentence here for carrying concealed weapons. The felony charges take precedence over this and they will be required to serve out the term.

According to reported admissions of the prisoners, they committed several robberies in San Francisco previous to slaying Marshal Meehan, and were on their way through San Bruno on a motorcycle when the murder occurred. They stopped in San Bruno long enough to commit two holdups of residences and had started on when the marshal began to question an automobile.

A pistol battle followed in which Meehan was shot, eRollins also was shot in the leg. Escaping, they made their way south to Los Angeles. Then police arrested them.

Robberies of more hold-ups in San Francisco and vicinity are attributed to the pair by the San Francisco detectives. In none did they get a great amount of money, officers said.

Submarine Sets Record in Full-Power Trials Here

Commander, Crew and New Craft Praised

NEW WAR DIVER WINS FAME

S-36 Passes Rigid Naval Tests With Feats Described as Wonderful by Inspection Board

The fish can take a few lessons about deep-sea sport from the submarine S-36, underwater fighter which in her full-power trials yesterday gained widespread interest by remarkable performance.

"Wonderful" and "most satisfactory" were the least of the phrases which Lieut. L. O. Alford and his deep-sea crew wrung from the tight-lipped officers of the Pacific Board of Inspection and Survey. As a result, the S-36 yesterday joined the United States Fleet with the highest performance record ever hung up by any submarine afloat.

She went into commission at San Francisco on April 4, last, and immediately started things by negotiating several 200-foot dives in San Francisco Bay. The U.S.S. Beaver, tender of Division Sixteen, and her flock of giant S-type submarines were then getting ready for a cruise to Alaskan waters. It was decided to send the S-36 along. She made that 9000-mile cruise under the Arctic Circle, and returned to Los Angeles Harbor without a single mishap to her yet stiff machinery.

The S-type submarines, built at the Union plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, San Francisco, are accepted by the Navy on six months' conditional terms. At the end of that period they are put through rigid tests by the Board of Inspection and Survey. The performance of the S-36 yesterday was termed perfect.

"The S-36 has the finest crew I have ever seen on board a submarine," said Capt. E. W. Blamer, the senior member of the board, in congratulating Capt. Alford.

He then ordered the entire enlisted personnel of the craft lined up while he and fellow members of the board shook hands all around—an unusual procedure.

Lieut. Alford, commanding the S-36, is a veteran submarine man. He was formerly torpedo officer at the Los Angeles Harbor Submarine Base and previously served on several American submarines, during and since the World War. Other officers on duty aboard the S-36 are Lieut. F. L. Worden and Ensign H. A. Tellman.

The S-36, a unit of Division Seventeen, is one of the largest and most modern submarines under the American flag. She is 219 feet long, with a submerged displacement of 1062 tons. She carries twelve torpedoes, is equipped with four 21-inch torpedo tubes and has a 4-inch gun above decks. Her propelling machinery consists of

CITY SCHOOL LIST SHOWS HUGE GAINS

Increase of 67 Per Cent Since 1920 is Recorded by Board

An increase of more than 67 per cent in the number of children enrolled in the Los Angeles schools this year over 1920 was announced yesterday by the Board of Education, following the taking of the school census. According to the census figures, there are 176,157 pupils this year, 70,742 more than in 1920. Of the total number of children attending the schools, 58,-710 are in high school and 115,-438 are in the elementary grades.

Because of the large increase in the number of pupils, it was found necessary to employ 427 new teachers to handle the work.

The increase in the number of school children the last two years is shown for the first month of each school year: 1921, 130,337; 1922, 146,665; 1923, 176,157.

VETERAN'S HOME ROBBED

Five war medals, two revolvers and $2000 in cash were taken by burglars from the home of N. H. Woodcock, a British war veteran, at 1301 Montana avenue by burglars, he reported yesterday to the police.

NAVAL COMMANDER TO CONFER WITH DENBY

Commander A. H. Woodbine, director of the Los Angeles Naval Reserve, will leave for Washington today to attend a conference of naval reserve directors with Secretary Denby of the Navy Department, which takes place the 22nd inst. Navy legislation will be considered. Commander Woodbine planned originally to go to the American Legion convention at San Francisco with two eagle boats of reservists. The trip will now be made without him.

CONSULS FETED BY ROTARY

Representatives of Eleven Nations Honor Guests at Luncheon; Mexican Music Heard

Eleven foreign consular representatives, located in Los Angeles, were honored guests at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Biltmore Hotel yesterday when a program of American and Mexican music was given under the auspices of the Civic Music and Art Association of Los Angeles.

Henry C. Niese, chairman of the international section of the association, was chairman of the day, introducing the consular agents, the musicians and his committee on international music, which is composed of members of the twenty-eight nationalities in Los Angeles.

Consuls and vice-consuls present were: Hons. G. A. Fisher, British consul; Jorge D. Albarts, representing Bolivia; Leandro Gara Leal, Mexican consul; Charles Winsel, Belgian vice-consul; Louis Sentous, consular agent for France; Dr. Jose S. Saenz, consul from Cuba; Cavalieri Enrico Plana, Italian consular agent; Arturo Pallais, consul from Spain; Henry C. Niese, Argentina vice-consul; Grant McGartney, vice-consul from Panama, and F. J. Zeehandelar, consul from Holland.

Applause greeted every number of the musical program given by Rosell's Mexican Typical Band and group of artists. To the accompaniment of the soft strains from salterios, guitars and violins, Donna Emilia Lovealli sang several favorite Mexican classics; dances of Mexico and old Spain were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Luis Ojede.

"There are two fundamental ideals upon which international fraternity and good will are based, and when I talk to my people who are foreigners in a foreign country, I always try to emphasize

LEGION MEN ARE WELCOMED

Delegations on Way to Bay City Convention Given Entertainment as They Pass Through City

Contingents of the American Legion from many sections of the country passed a gala day yesterday as they saw the sights of Los Angeles, their principal stopping place on the way to the fifth annual convention at San Francisco, opening the 15th inst. Most of the parties will remain at least two days in this city.

Following the close of the convention, the 20th inst., other parties going to San Francisco by northern or central routes will make the return trip by way of the south in order to avail themselves of the same opportunity.

As parties from various sections of the country are arriving at the several railway stations at all hours of the day and night, the program here is largely impromptu. The general plan is to escort the visitors to the headquarters of the reception committee in the Chamber of Commerce, where refreshments are served. From there they are taken on an automobile tour of the beaches, Pasadena, Hollywood and the Fairbanks-Pickford studio, where they are presented with souvenirs.

Yesterday the band of the Boston Legion gave several serenades, opening with one in front of the Chamber of Commerce Building. The Texas contingent, due at 1:45 p.m. today, includes the famous Gray Mare Band of Brownwood, which, it is said, promised to play in Pershing Square in the afternoon or evening.

The reception committee, headed by Col. Andrew J. Cobb, is composed jointly of members of the Legion, the Ladies' Auxiliary and the Women's Overseas Service League. Among those entertained yesterday were nurses from Pittsburg and parties of legionnaires from Missouri, New York, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, Maryland and Georgia. Contingents are expected today from Texas, Michigan, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana and Florida. The Arizona party is due Sunday.

Going to and returning from the convention, approximately 5000 legionnaires will be entertained here.

OFFICIAL IN APPEAL FOR MORE PARKS

Mrs. McCann Sees Possible Life Saving in Purchase of Recreation Grounds

Parks, parks and then more and more parks!

Martha Nelson McCann, chairman of the City Park Commission, made this plea last night to more than 100 persons in the Bovard Building, University of Southern California. The speaker, who recently returned from a convention of city-planning experts in Kansas City, said if for no other reason all big cities should have ample park space for the purpose of safety, citing the Japanese earthquake and the San Francisco disaster as outstanding instances where parks saved the lives of thousands.

Mrs. McCann was introduced by Judge Bowen, former park commissioner, who declared Los Angeles' representative at the convention was the only woman present among the experts from large cities of the nation.

"Buy the land for more parks now," urged Mrs. McCann. "Buy far out where prices are low. But buy, buy and buy. Taxation for parks in eastern communities reaches $1.45 per capita, while in this city the toll exacted from taxpayers reaches but 57 cents."

Mrs. McCann showed pictures of Exposition Park and pointed out the need of entrances. She declared all parks in larger eastern communities have imposing entrances with magnificent monuments. In Kansas City, she declared, more than $2,000,000 is being spent for a memorial to American war dead.

"Parks are the chief source of recreation, rest and social activity outdoors," said Mrs. McCann. "They help upbuild city morale. They aid the citizens to contentment; they provide health and recreation for youngsters. In Kansas City there are ninety-five miles of parks and park boulevards."

PALMS CHAMBER IS FOR ANNEXATION

SUIT TO ANNUL ELECTION IS OPPOSED BY RESOLUTION

Going on record as being in favor of the annexation of Palms to the city of Los Angeles, the Palms Chamber of Commerce adopted resolutions pledging assistance to the Los Angeles authorities in opposing a suit to be brought by a Palms citizen to dissolve the annexation brought about by an election some nine years ago. The resolutions are as follows:

Whereas, permission has been given by the Attorney-General to start action to declare invalid the annexation of the Palms district to the city of Los Angeles reviewing an election held about nine years ago; and

Whereas, while the suit was started by an individual, the impression has been given the public that the residents of the Palms district favor the said suit; and

Whereas, to properly place the matter before the public the Palms Chamber of Commerce representing the annexed district in meeting assembled on Thursday, the 11th inst., resolves as follows:

Resolved, that we are not in favor of the suit to dissolve the annexation of the Palms district to the City of Los Angeles and believe that the best interest of the Palms district is served by the annexation to the city of Los Angeles, and we hereby pledge ourselves to assist the city authorities in maintaining the said annexation.

SHIP BLOWS UP, FOUR ARE HURT

Seamen Hurled Twenty Feet in Air by Blast

Two May Die as Result of Severe Burns

Captain and Friend Thrown From Deck to Dock

(Illustration on Picture Page)

Four fishermen were blown twenty feet into the air and two of them, John Brozovich and Jacob Kasternicich, probably were fatally burned when the Van Camp fishing tender Columbia blew up at Terminal Island at 11 o'clock this morning. The two most seriously injured were terribly burned about the face and body and were taken to the Hillside Hospital, Los Angeles Harbor.

The tender, estimated to be worth $15,000 by Manager Gilbert Van Camp, is believed a total loss.

BLAST CAUSE UNKNOWN

The cause of the explosion is unknown, according to Slaveo Ivancich, captain of the craft. The tender had just returned from the fishing fleet at Turtle Bay, 500 miles south, and was taking on 2600 gallons of gasoline at Van Camp's service station for a return trip.

The ship suddenly split wide open, catapulting the whole forecastle skyward. Capt. Ivancich and a friend, Peter Kerr, were thrown into the air as if on a magic carpet, landing twenty feet away on a dock entirely uninjured. Ten chickens also on deck were hurled 100 feet into the air, effecting a feathery hail as they came down and ran away.

SECOND EXPLOSION

A few minutes later, while the crew was fighting the fire, a second explosion occurred, enveloping Brozovich and Kasternicich in a sheet of flame, and covering the dock with flaming liquids.

Manager E. Hipple of the service station, with the help of others, fought the fire on the dock, but the tender was enveloped in flames by the time the fireboat and Terminal Island engine company arrived. The fireboat pushed the flaming craft a half mile seaward and then beached her near Deadman's Island, where unexploded drums of gasoline were removed and the last sparks extinguished.

DAVIS MEETS HOBSON

Secretary of Labor Praises War Against Narcotics

James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, who is a member of the advisory committee of the International Narcotic Education Association, yesterday, in conference with Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, president of the association, at the Biltmore Hotel, reiterated a former statement that he believes a man who unlawfully dispenses narcotics is worse than a murderer.

Secretary Davis told Capt. Hobson that he believed the activities of the association were good. He said he had become a member of the advisory committee because of that belief.

CRUSHED TO DEATH BY TRUCK

Jose Fernandez, 35 years of age, living at Eleventh and Maple streets, was crushed to death yesterday on the Ninth-street bridge. He was caught between the bridge structure and a truck of the Innes Truck and Transfer Company, the police report, of which the driver was Philip Garrett.

CONSIDERATE OF GUESTS

Prisoner "At Home" to Relatives Regrets They Must Pay High Car Fare to Visit His "Residence"

Is jail a place where a bootlegger may repent his sins, or where he may receive his friends? Is a court bound to save a prisoner's relatives all the car fare it can, or should it make trips as expensive as possible for them?

These questions, and more, are raised by a case which came yesterday before Judge James of the United States District Court, who is used to having strange reasons advisement.

given him why this, that and the other thing should be or should not be done and to giving quick decisions on them. But the judge had to look up to the authorities and consult the Supreme Court opinions before passing on the demand of Albert Merritt that he be removed from the County Jail at Santa Ana to Sheriff Traeger's overpopulated, if not overpopular, institution here.

The Federal Court sometimes humors the whims of prisoners about their place of incarceration and sometimes not. Riverside county, Orange county and San Bernardino county cuartels all have their friends among the prisoners, but for various reasons of which Sheriff Traeger and others have spoken at length at various times, the Los Angeles County Jail is not often requested.

But Merritt is a social cuss and Santa Ana doesn't suit him.

In the first place, Merritt complains, Sheriff Ryan of Orange county only has one visiting day a week at his hotel, while Sheriff Traeger permits two.

And in the second place the fare to Santa Ana is $1.40 and Merritt doesn't see why all the accumulated profits of the bootlegging business should be absorbed by the Pacific Electric.

A "Used Car" Ad 42 Years Ago

When the Los Angeles Times was about a month old, there began to appear in its columns certain want ads which, in the course of years, were to develop into the mammoth used-car department of the Los Angeles Times of 1923. The first "used car" ad ever printed by The Times ran—

For Sale—Top buggy, nearly new. Inquire at Wickersham's Stables, corner First and Spring.

Far back in 1881, The Times made itself felt as the most vigorous advertising medium in Los Angeles. By instilling this knowledge into the minds of each year's new arrivals, it has built up the stupendous audience which today reads

FAMOUS BISHOP TO SPEAK

Head of Swedish Church Will Join Anniversary Celebration at Immanuel Tomorrow

Rev. Nathan Soderblom, Bishop of Upsala, Sweden, and primate of the entire Swedish Church, will bring greetings to the congregation of Immanuel Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning in celebration of the seventh anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. Herbert Booth Smith.

"Seven is the perfect number" said Dr. Smith, in speaking of the occasion, "and while the work has been far from perfect yet it has been a pleasant and profitable seven years to me and I trust not entirely unprofitable to the church. The occasion finds us possessed of two valuable properties, one at our present location, worth $500,000, and another on Wilshire Boulevard worth perhaps $250,000.

"We may decide to build our new temple on one of these sites," said Dr. Smith. "The building committee will meet soon to decide. Our membership is about 3000, making us the third largest Presbyterian Church in the United States. About 2500 members have been received during the present pastorate."

At the morning hour tomorrow, the quarterly sacramental service will be conducted and a large class of new members will be welcomed. Infants and adults will receive the sacrament of baptism. In the evening, Rev. Harry Rimmer, lecturer and preacher, will give his illustrated sermon on "The Seamy Side of Evolution."

"OUR MEANEST MAN"

"Who is the meanest man in Los Angeles?" Rev. G. A. Briegleb, pastor of the Westlake Presbyterian Church announced yesterday that he will describe our meanest citizen in his sermon tomorrow evening. Among other questions which Dr. Briegleb will discuss are the following: "Shall we permit a third-rate police commission to ruin the work of a first-class police chief?" "How much of a grafter must a man be to be removed from the Los Angeles police force?" "Shall we permit our Lincoln Heights black hole of Calcutta to continue?" The subject of the morning sermon is "How Shall We Define the term 'God'?"

VOLLMER TO SPEAK

The following program is announced for the Temple Baptist Church tomorrow: At 11 a. m. Mrs. A. T. Robinson, Fellow of the Royal Scottish Geographical Society, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Passion Play of Oberammergau"; Rev. A. T. Robinson will speak on "Prosperity's Law" and Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher will give an address on "Millionaires, Here and Hereafter." At 7:20 p. m. Mrs. Robinson will speak on "The Japanese

RADIO EXTENDS CHILD WELFARE

Great School Organization Reveals Its Works

Discovery of America Gives Theme for Program

Soloists and Ensembles Put Spirit in Playing

BY K. G. ORMISTON

"Children are our tomorrow—as we mold them today, so will they deal with the world then."

Radio was enlisted in the service of child welfare last night, and exerted its mighty and far-reaching influences for the love of childhood, of home and country. Its voice made a strong appeal for closer relations between the home and school, the two institutions where the tomorrow is molded today.

The Parent-Teacher Association presented a program in The Times studio, having for its object the enlightenment of Radioland as to the child welfare work being carried on by the association all over this country, as well as the entertainment of the listeners.

The speakers who explained in detail the purpose and work of the organization included Mrs. J. F. Eaber, membership chairman of the Los Angeles Federation of the Parent-Teacher Association; Mrs. Sara Dorsey, Superintendent of Schools; Mrs. McRoberts, president of the Los Angeles federation, and Mrs. C. C. Noble, State chairman of membership of the P.-T.A. The value of the association to the schools and to the city was outlined generally and in detail.

"AMERICAN'S CREED"

In commemoration of the one hundred and thirty-first anniversary of the discovery of America, the program opened with the reading of "The American's Creed," followed by the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the Lincoln High School quintet.

The Lincoln High School Quintet is composed of Sihnon Carrasco, first violin; Lyllie Partsman, second violin; Karl Roosner, 'cellist; Harold Bailey, viola; Gordon Odger, bass, and Lillian Frank, pianist. In addition to their spirited playing of the National Anthem, they favored with other splendid numbers during the evening, including "Declaration of Love," by Ross, "Berceuse," by Schumann, and "Pizzacato Gavotte," by Latann. Directed and sponsored by Walter H. Potter, this youthful instrumental ensemble displayed remarkable ability.

"P-T. A.," a song composed by Allen Spurr, who has been blind since birth, was read by Uncle John, and artistically played on the Knabe by Mrs. F. J. Schwankovsky. The song was dedicated by the composer of Parent-Teacher associations everywhere.

SOLOS ARE WELCOMED

Robert S. Maile of the faculty of Manual Arts High School sang a number of tenor solos, "Sunshine of Your Smile" and "Tommy Lad" being two of the numbers he chose. The piano accompaniment was played by Mrs. Sarah Crane.

F. J. Schwankovsky, baritone, and also a member of the faculty of the Manual Arts High School, favored listeners with a number of solos. Mrs. Schwankovsky furnished the accompaniment for her husband, and entertained with piano solos.

George Devern, violinist, and pupil of Christian Timmner, gave artistic interpretations of Kreisler's "Caprice Viennois," and "Perpetuum Mobile," by Reis. He was accompanied by Dean Mauka.

Following the Parent-Teacher program, Art Hickman's Orchestra, the Jamison Singing Quartet, and Leo J. McMahon entertained. Radioanders until midnight. The wonderful dance music which nightly comes over the telephone line from the Los Angeles Biltmore and is broadcast by KHJ is proving extremely popular.

GIRLS OFFER HARMONY

The Jamison Quartet is composed of Jean Colwell Houghton, soprano, Hazel Bryson Anderson, second soprano, Edna Churchill Voorhees, first alto, Daisy Littlefield Prideaux, second alto, and Abbie Norton Jamison, director and accompanist. These artists form a quartet which is well balanced vocally, and evidenced that poise and harmony which come only through long training together.

Leo J. McMahon, who was heard during the dedicatory banquet at the Los Angeles Biltmore, entertained last night with some of his Irish dialect stories. His impersonation would be complete by viewing, were it not for his good Irish name.

Virginia Lucille Reed, a talented young concert pianist, appeared on both the noon and matinee programs. The fine interpretation and finish of the playing evidenced unusual ability. Her choice numbers included "On the Mountain," by Grieg, and "Concert Etude," by McDowell.

SOPRANO AT MATINEE

The matinee vocalist, Easter Sunder, sang a Scotch love song, "My Laddie," by William Thayer, and "The Lass With the Delicate Air," by Arne. Miss Richards is a fine soprano, and her choice of song and presentation were pleasing.

Pearl Meade Barry, who also appeared on the matinee program, favored with several humorous readings.

Little Helen Pirie, screen juvenile, was the guest of the radio audiences at the bedtime hour. An original verse dedicated to the anniversary of KHJ, "Radio Kindergarten," was read by Helene, also one entitled "Foolish Flowers." The bedtime story, "Jimmy and the Owls," was told by Jimmy's maid. For the rest of the period the operator switched on the First Methodist Episcopal Church and broadcast an organ recital by Arthur Blakeley.

PARENT-TEACHERS USE KHJ

Mrs. Susan Dorsey Outlines Purposes and Benefits of Organization for Radioland

Mrs. Susan Dorsey, speaking over the Times radiophone last night, in behalf of the Parent-Teacher Association, outlined the purposes and benefits of the organization.

Mrs. Dorsey said in part:

At this season of the year the great Parent-Teacher Association of Los Angeles conducts its annual roll call and starts out to enroll recruits. The function of this organization, namely to associate more closely the schools and the home, is very generally understood but the great work it has done in Los Angeles in furthering many of the school activities is little understood and not half appreciated. From the beginning, the Parent-Teacher Association has been a bestower of practical benefits; it has reasoned that if its mission is to bring the home school together, it is to bring all homes to the school, those of the poor and the foreign as well as the favored and well-to-do.

GIVE AID TO POOR

"So the branch associations in the more fortunate parts of the city have made it their business to look after the school children in the less fortunate districts; the hungry have been fed, the disabled have been assisted through the Parent-Teacher Clinic, the poor have been provided with scholarships, for those to whom Christmas joys would have been unknown Santa Claus has become a reality.

"The greatest benefits, however, of the several branches of the Parent-Teacher Association have been conferred upon their respective schools. Fortunate indeed is the principal who has a "live" Parent-Teacher Association working with him to expand the scope of educational possibilities by helping to secure those equipment accessories, such as motion-picture machines and incidental materials for visual instruction and other desired accessories which the ordinary school funds cannot always compass.

THE GREATEST BENEFIT

"None of these things fittingly represent the real significance of Parent-Teacher activities. It is the help given by parents in interpreting the schools and their work to the general public that is most truly a benefit. A strong group of parents, who know what the schools are doing and who speak for the schools as interested and fully informed citizens, is of the greatest service in promoting good understanding in the community.

"It is to be regretted that every school, especially junior and senior high schools, does not have this strong right arm reaching out into the community and bringing to the school a consciousness of the helpful support of citizens.

"In the extension of the Parent-Teacher clubs this year, it is most earnestly hoped that schools which have not heretofore organized will delay no longer to form a Parent-Teacher Association, and that the membership campaign may add hundreds of new names to the list of members. No parent surely can afford to remain outside the Parent-Teacher group while those members not parents have often proven most appreciative of the service rendered by the schools and most alert in understanding public school needs."

"PEG O' MY HEART"

Communion services and reception of new members will mark the program at the Wilshire Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning when Rev. J. A. Eby will preach on "Sir, We Would See Jesus." Dr. Eby will also preach in the evening and the picture "Peg o' My Heart" will be shown.

"THE SHORT CUT"

The anniversary of Columbus Day will be recognized at the Wilshire Methodist Church tomorrow morning when Rev. Benjamin Haywood will preach on "The Short Cut in Finance, Education and Religion." The subject for evening is "The Man Another Man Won" and a feature of the service will be a program of songs by the men's gospel chorus.

"LUKE, THE ARTIST"

Rev. Dr. Theodore Kemp, for ten years president of the Illinois Wesleyan University, will preach tomorrow evening at the First Methodist Church. In the morning Rev. E. E. Helms will preach on "Luke, the Artist." Beginning next Wednesday evening Dr. Helms will give a series of Wednesday evening addresses on "Luke, the Man."

"THE MECHANIC'S PRAYER"

Rev. Dr. Frank Hale Touret, Episcopal bishop of Idaho, will be the preacher tomorrow evening at the Scottish Rite Auditorium, headquarters for the members of St. Paul's Cathedral pending the completion of their new home of worship. At the morning hour Rev. William MacCormack, dean of the cathedral, will preach on "The Mechanic's Prayer."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" is the subject of the lesson-sermon at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning at each of the fifteen Christian Science churches of Los Angeles. First, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Tenth and Thirteenth churches will repeat this service in the evening at 8 o'clock and Second Church at 3 p.m. All churches have Wednesday evening meetings, which include testimonies of Christian Science healing.

"THINKING CROOKED"

Rev. Cortland Myers, who will supply the pulpit of the Church of the Open Door every Sunday this month, will preach tomorrow morning on "Thinking Crooked," his topic for evening being "What Kind of Clothes Does the Devil Wear?" Rev. W. P. Nicholson, who has concluded his evangelistic campaign at the Bible Institute, will conduct meetings every evening this month at a tent at Jefferson and Cimmaron streets.

"WHAT IS RELIGION?"

"We need a fresh definition of religion which will be inclusive of that outside the church as well as in it," says Rev. E. B. Backus, pastor of the First Unitarian Church, who will preach tomorrow morning on "Religion Outside the Church." "Many a man who never goes near a chudch is decidedely more religious than many another man who never misses a service," said Mr. Backus. "In the man outside the church there is often a spirit of devotion which it would well for the churches to recognize—and to emulate."

DIVINE POWER CHURCH

"What all the world is seeking is a healthy body, enough money to live on comfortably, joy in the home and love life, and the satisfaction of being useful. This represents in the mass the average desires of man, and when man seeks all these things in the right way the unrest and sordid problems of today inevitably disappear." This will be the theme of Lila Simon Castberg's lecture on "What All the World is Seeking," at the first fall service of the Church of Divine Power at the Morosco Theater tomorrow at 11 a.m. A dramatic Bible interpretation will be given. The sacred community singing begins at 10:45 a.m. and the Sunday-school at 10 a.m. The violin soloist is Sol Cohen.

FIRST BAPTIST

Rev. Rufus Keyser, formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church of Stockton, and now assistant pastor to Rev. J. A. Francis of the First Baptist Church of Los Angeles, will be in charge of services at the latter church tomorrow. At the morning hour Mr. Keyser will preach on "We Would See Jesus," the subject for evening being "The Multiplying Power of an Obedient Life." On the evening of the 19th inst., Mr. Keyser will be the guest of honor at the monthly banquet of the church brotherhood.

RAPS HIGHER CRITICS

"Are our young people in the college taught the true doctrine of life that the Christ taught upon the hillside?" This question is asked and answered in the negative by Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor of the Angelus Temple, who announced yesterday that at the service tomorrow afternoon twenty-four jurymen from various denominations will be summoned to hear the case of "Jesus Christ Versus the Modern Higher Critic." Mrs. McPherson will preach tomorrow morning, afternoon and evening, and she will also preach this evening, her subject being "The Lord for the Body and the Body for the Lord." Selections by the Swanee Jubilee Troupe of colored singers will feature the program tomorrow evening.

Belt-Suspender War Is Urged as Issue for Hiram

Suspenders or belts as a campaign issue for Hiram Johnson is urged in a letter received yesterday by The Times, the writer asserting the Senator's ability would permit him to take either or both sides of the question.

Here's the letter:

I. M. A. Phaque, in care of The Times, Los Angeles.

In regard to a campaign issue for Hiram Johnson, I would suggest that he take up the question of whether a man should wear suspenders or a belt. The Senator could take either side of the question he might desire as it furnishes opportunity for extensive abuse of all persons on the other side as well as an outlet for his particular brand of oratory.

A man of his ability could easily label either side "Progressive" and get away with it.

Please send me the 30 cents.

Film Comedian in Fight Scene Struck by Auto

Lige Conley, film comedian employed by the Fine Arts Studio, suffered minor injuries yesterday when he was knocked down by an automobile at the intersection of Hillhurst avenue and Prospect street, Hollywood.

Conley and others were filming a fight scene when M. S. Malloy of San Fernando, drove along, according to police reports. In attempting to avoid the "fight" it was said, Malloy struck the comedian.

Conley was taken to a private hospital, where it was said his injuries would not prove serious.

IRISH BENEFIT TO AID REPUBLICAN PRISONERS

Preparations are being completed today by Los Angeles' colony of Irishmen and women for a mass meeting in the Knights of Columbus Auditorium, 612 South Flower street, Sunday, in behalf of the drive for funds to be expended in relief of the dependents of 18,000 Irish Republican prisoners held in the jails in Ireland. The Rev. Martin Hanley and Rev. Dr. Yorke will be speakers at the meeting. In addition, there will be a program of song, instrumental music and Gaelic dances. The drive for funds is being conducted under the local branch of the Irish Republican soldiers' and prisoners' dependents' relief fund.

AN UNHAPPY TWO, YCLEPT FONTANA

Will Go Their Own Ways for All Manana; a Bust-up Ended Sale of Bananas

"Oh, list to the woes of the two Fontanas,

"Sellers of groceries, nuts and bananas."

Judge Burnell of the Superior Court has turned poet.

And bananas are the gulding light of his muse.

For two days Judge Burnell sat in his chair of justice and listened to yarns of the domestic difficulties of Jack Fontana and Francesca Fontana. Mrs. Fontana, who had sued Jack for divorce, testified her spouse hit her with a bunch of bananas. Then Jack took the stand and attempted to prove his wife had been associating with other men. He also questioned the paternity of a minor child.

When court closed for the day, Judge Burnell lolled back in his chair and thought the matter over. "Fontanas and bananas," he mused. "They go well together." Mrs. Fontana got her decree.

And a few minutes later the judge submitted the following version of the affair:

Oh, list to the woes of the two Fontanas,
Sellers of groceries, nuts and bananas,
Dealers in cabbages, beans and potatoes,
Purveyors of plums and chard and tomatoes,
Walnuts and pecans and all kinds of greens—
String beans and onions, lettuce and peas.

One love was strong in the hearts of the pair—
Jack worshiped Francesca and thought her quite fair;
Francesca for Jack, so stalwart and bold,
Had a love full as strong as the onions he sold.
Thus life sped along for a whole year or more
And happiness reigned in that small grocery store.

But, alas and alack, as the months sped along,
Came a rift in the lute, a break in the song;
At first just a trifle, a cross look, a word—
Which happens with all married couples, I've heard—

But one word breeds another like mites in a cheese,
Or worms in a cabbage, or weevils in peas.

The quarrels grew frequent—Francesca with scorn
Forthwith at his wife Jack directed the hose
And soaked his beloved from head unto toes.
And then to get even she went to a dance
And with gallants unknown proceeded to prance.

Of this he accused her; she said 'twas a lie,
She pulled out his hair and blackened his eye.
A bunch of bananas he threw at her head—
Tomatoes and cabbages through the air sped.
Oh, the cheese hid its head and the corn closed its ears,
And the eyes of the spuds were all misted with tears

At the sights that they saw and the sounds that they heard.
From which family troubles alone were inferred.

And the love that once reigned in that small grocery store
Was banished forever, to return nevermore.
But then came a baby, a little wee mite,
Jack sought to disown it, then came the real fight.
Like a tiger aroused, Francesca then swore,
"Not a day that goes by but I love it the more."

So this is the story they told to the court
When, aided by lawyers, its justice they sought;
And the wee God of Love was heard sadly to say,
"But, yes, sir, we have no Fontanas today."

Divorcee Weds Man Who Was Her Lawyer

Mrs. Ethel Lee Bliss, who was granted a divorce from Dr. Frederick Bliss, Pasadena physician, on September 28, was married yesterday to Attorney Ralph Hoyt, who represented her in the divorce proceedings. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Edwin Pond Parker, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Pasadena.

Mrs. Hoyt is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Lee of Pasadena. She is a graduate of Stanford University and a member of the Pasadena Junior League. Hoyt is a graduate of Yale University and a member of the Pasadena Bar Association.

Isabel Mushet Is Betrothed to Hollywood Man

Councilman W. C. Mushet yesterday announced the engagement of his daughter Isabel to Otto Bollman of Hollywood. No definite plans have as yet been made for the wedding, but it will take place early in the new year.

Miss Mushet, who is an attractive and popular debutante, is a graduate of the Girls' Collegiate School and is at present studying art at the University of California, Southern Branch. Her mother will be remembered as prominent in club circles and holding several high official positions.

TWO ARE INJURED IN STREET-CAR CRASH

P. A. Peasley, 30 years of age, of 1125 West Thirtieth street, and Jack Creighton, 9, of 1365 West Thirty-Seventh street, were both cut by flying glass last night when a Pacific Electric car took a half-opened switch on the west end of the Eleventh-avenue track and smashed into a freight car loaded with rock. They were treated at the Pacific Hospital. According to I. Christy, conductor, and E. E. Russel, motorman, some boys playing near by, probably accidentally sprung the switch.

BOOSTING THE PRICE

At an auction of relics the other day the British plan for the fighting at Bunker Hill brought $970. That is a lot more than it was worth in 1775.

SOUNDS LIKE BIG STUFF

The German Reichsbank is printing notes in the denomination of 100,000,000,000 marks. This is for the benefit of those who do not want to carry a valise full of bills when they wish to buy a nickel cigar.

THE VISIBLE SUPPLY

Looks as if the country would have to worry along on a measly 1,000,000 pounds of walnuts a week. According to the experts the crop of English walnuts in California will be 52,000,000 pounds this year and the California growers virtually supply the whole nation. Think of the vast army of men and women eking out existence on eleven walnuts a year.

PENNSYLVANIA POLITICS

Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania is reported as declining to be considered as a candidate for the Presidency. This is not so much of a sacrifice, at that, as Gifford's chances for the nomination were not overly bright. If he wants to run for Vice-President he might be able to work up more interest. Yet Pennsylvania is too solidly Republican to interest the men who make up the ticket.

MOONLIGHT BY DAY

Camera experts are said to be now able to photograph night scenes by sunlight. Between the Klieg lights and our brand of sunshine the filming of day scenes can run all night. Now the night scenes can run all day. The picture industry is certainly a continuous one and it is possible for the cameras to grind to good purpose at all hours. We can turn day into night or night into day with a twist of the wrist.

THE BETTER WAY

While the wheat farmers in some sections of the Northwest are crying hard times and looking to Congress for relief the farmers in Ventura county are forcing the soil itself to solve their living problems. Thus in the last six months the Ventura farmers have lifted three mortgages off their properties to every one they have put on. This is more sensible than sticking around and waiting for George to do it.

"PINKS" MAKE TROUBLE

The United States Department of Justice keeps a long list of "Reds" in this country whose activities will well stand watching. We suggest this should be supplemented with a list of "Pinks" who are also potential trouble-makers. It is the Pinks who are furnishing a great deal of the cash that keeps the Reds active. They are found in society, among the literati, sometimes in colleges and churches, often among women. Some flirt with radicalism to help pass away the time, some handle it ignorantly, not distinguishing between a stick of sugar candy and a stick of dynamite, not perceiving how the Reds are playing on their sentimental propensities. Their mentality is subnormal, so that they are easily influenced by the abnormal. By all means let us list the "Pinks" that we may know the ladies and gentlemen in the United States who are supporting the dangerous radicals.

ANOTHER BIG BORE

According to certain pioneers the excavation for the Second-street tunnel was begun in the days of Rameses, Vitamines or some other of those ancient pelicans, but now that the citizens are able to see through the bore with the naked eye they are wondering what it is to be used for. One group contends that it is merely a short cut for joy riders going northwest. Another asserts that it must be used to the best interests of those dwellers in the assessment district who are paying for it. Still others insist that it is a general civic improvement and must be devoted to the larger public good. Most of this discussion centers around the question whether street-car traffic will be permitted to pass through the tunnel. The plans as worked out by the contractors did not contemplate the laying of car tracks in the tunnel. The bore was a sort of a speedway for automobiles to get them through Bunker Hill in a hurry. Of course, there would be a sidewalk for pedestrians, but mostly the tunnel would be a channel for buzz wagons. But there are a lot of shop-owners along Second street on both sides of the tunnel who think that street-car traffic should be provided in the bore. It would help in getting access to the new high school at First and Belmont and it would be important in handling the crowds in and out of the Crown Hill district. The motor folk want the tunnel pretty much to themselves and aver that if street cars are permitted it will virtually nullify the importance of the tunnel as a short cut for the Hollywood and Glendale autoists. The progress of the future depends upon the separation of motor traffic from the red and yellow cars. There is a fight over the use of the tunnel in which the City Council, the Board of Public Utilities, the Board of Education, the Automobile Club and the Second Street Assessment District are inclined to take a hand.

A THREAT AND A PROMISE

Under an eight-column headline Hearst's Los Angeles Examiner on Wednesday devoted some two-thirds of its editorial page to what purports to be a defense of the Municipal Bureau of Power and Light. As a defense it is merely a reprint of the meaningless generalities of Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood of the bureau, together with some loose charges of a "plot" by the "power barons" against the "people." The real meat of this typically-Hearst pronouncement is contained in this paragraph, which the Examiner printed in black-face type for greater emphasis:

> The Examiner here and now serves warning that it will promptly expose any and all officials who attempt to serve the power barons at the expense of the people.

An examination of the editorial discloses the fact that the Examiner's definition of "serving the power barons at the expense of the people" consists in attempting to get at the real truth about the Power Bureau and its stewardship of a publicly-owned enterprise into which some $30,000,000 of public funds have already been sunk and for which $50,000,000 more is shortly to be asked. The efforts of heavy taxpayers to get some kind of an answer from the Power Bureau to sixty-eight specific questions covering as many separate changes of incompetence, waste and mismanagement against the Power Bureau are referred to as a "fusillade of false newspaper charges" and part of a "shameless and shameful plot" prompted by "vicious motives" and "directed against the pocketbooks of the people."

The "plot" being thus defined, the Examiner's "warning" is thus obviously directed against any public official who may have the courage to insist that the truth about the Power Bureau shall be told. It is a "warning" to City Auditor Myers, in whose hands has been placed by the City Council the task of uncovering that truth. It is a "warning" to Councilman Mushet, who more than once has stood alone in the Council in a sturdy demand that the Power Bureau shall account for its past expenditures of millions of the people's money before more shall be given it to spend. It is a "warning" to any city official to oppose at his peril anything the Power Bureau may do or say. It is a plain effort to intimidate these officials from doing their sworn duty on pain of a bludgeoning in the expert hands of Hearst newspapers.

These tactics are familiar to Los Angeles citizens. It is well remembered that this is the same Los Angeles Examiner which in 1921 similarly dealt with public officials and taxpayers who dared to oppose the secret sale by the Power Bureau and the Council of $13,500,000 power bonds to a syndicate headed by Irving H. Hellman at a discount of $1,535,000. Despite the menace of the Examiner, spokesman for the Power Bureau then as now, Councilman W. C. Mushet, chairman of the Council's Finance Committee, and taxpayers denounced the sale, suits were begun in the courts attacking the legality of the deal, the California Supreme Court set aside the transaction as illegal, the Council sold the bonds under open, competitive bidding as fought for by Councilman Mushet and the taxpayers, the bonds brought par and a premium of $450,495 and $2,000,000 was saved to the people of Los Angeles. And yet, during the period from August 2, 1921, when the Council, with Councilman Mushet alone opposing these secret discount sales, attempted to put through the deal, until January 14, 1922, when the California Supreme Court set aside the transaction as illegal, the Examiner played the same game it is playing now. It attacked everyone who dared question the actions of the Power Bureau officials and Public Service Commissioners who arranged and sponsored the deal and defended those Councilmen who put their official "O.K." on the plan to throw away $2,000,000 of the people's money. The tactics of the Hearst paper then are vividly recalled by its similar tactics now in this renewed abuse for those who dare inquire into the administration of the Municipal Bureau of Power and Light.

Examination of the files of the Examiner shows that day by day in its news columns and editorially the Hearst-Power Bureau organ defended the secret bond sale and abused Councilman Mushet and all others who opposed it. On August 2, 1921, the day the Council approved of the secret sale, the Examiner defended the action of the eight Councilmen who favored the transaction, saying "Councilman Mushet was the only man who opposed the sale, however, the rest of the Council lining up solidly with Councilman Criswell in declaring that the offer was the most acceptable to be had at the present time." The Examiner in its news columns and editorially then began a campaign to rush through the bond sale and the delivery of the securities to Mr. Hellman. A long article in the Examiner of August 5 quoted Special Counsel W. B. Mathews of the Board of Public Service Commissioners, who later unsuccessfully defended the secret sale before the courts as saying, "Open bids impossible." The article said further that "$150,000 a month would be lost to the city if the bond deal does not go through."

The Examiner attempted to show that the Hellman discount would be more than offset from the profits from the distributing lines to be purchased with the bond money. On the front page of the Examiner of August 6 was Mr. Hellman's photograph with a long statement from him defending the bond transaction, which was followed by an article in the Examiner of August 7 declaring that Mr. Hellman's statement had "silenced" the opponents of the deal. On the same day the Examiner editorially denounced the "outrageous and vicious attacks against city officials because they accepted the power-bond offer of Mr. Irving H. Hellman." In this editorial the Examiner said: "Wild lying and reckless statements have filled the air to the effect that there is something sinister about this deal and that the city has lost a lot of money on making the deal." In defense of the Public Service Commissioners and Councilmen who were attempting to hand over to Mr. Hellman Los Angeles bonds at cut-rate prices the Examiner in this editorial said: "Los Angeles is to be congratulated on having certain officials who are striving to save the city from the grip of the power barons." Note that: the "power barons." On September 5 the Examiner said:

> "The (Hellman) bond sale is not costing Los Angeles a loss of $2,000,000 or any loss at all. On the contrary, it cannot fail to be the biggest money-making deal for the city of Los Angeles that has ever been made for it."

This statement was elaborated on by the Examiner in an editorial published on September 9.

And then on January 14, 1922, came the decision of the California Supreme Court setting aside the Hellman sale as illegal and the immediate resale of the bonds under competitive bidding at a figure netting the people $1,985,495 more than was received under the Hellman deal.

Now come the same old threats and denunciations, identical even to the language with the denunciations of two years ago. It was the "power barons" who opposed the Hellman deal then, the Examiner said. It is the "power barons" who are plotting again now, the Examiner says. To the unprejudiced observer it would appear that, if this be true, the city would be better off for a few more "power barons" and a few more "plots" of the same ilk that saved the people $2,000,000 in 1921.

As to the Hearst threat:

The Times here and now declares that the taxpayers shall know the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth about the Power Bureau, in spite of the obstructive tactics of the Public Service Department officials and employees, in spite of the weak-kneed and spineless Councilmen and other city officials and in spite of the threats of the absentee publisher, W. R. Hearst.

The Setting Sun

SELECTIVE IMMIGRATION

America's restrictive immigration laws are about as popular in Europe as a tax collector. Hardly a newspaper comes to this country from any of the European states that does not contain a tale of woe about the hardships inflicted on those who have been turned back at Ellis Island.

Gone are the days when the sign was displayed at New York Harbor, "Free Admission; No Reserved Seats." America was then advertised as an asylum for those suffering from religious, political or economic oppression in other lands. Where once we had received the best we began getting the worst. Our hospitality was abused until tolerance ceased to be a virtue. So many undesirables arrived that our asylum threatened to become a sewer into which should be poured the human dregs of Europe.

Immigrants coming a generation ago were willing to work. The majority of the arrivals since 1918 wanted only to shirk. They interpreted a free country to mean free lodgings, free food and free transportation. Many desired promptly to possess themselves of that which they had not earned. So many mentally defective were coming that the asylum for liberty began to take the appearance of a lunatic asylum.

Then the bars were put up. The Statue of Liberty has come to resemble the angel with the flaming sword guarding the entrance to Paradise. At least it so appears to the immigrants.

And Europe does not take kindly to the new national policy which places a premium on American citizenship. Their peoples call us proud, cold, dollar-mad; accuse us of making capital out of their distress.

If Congress were to repeal the Restrictive Immigration Act in December it is very probable that the number of immigrants would leap to 1,000,000 a month. Yet there are interests in this country working to bring that about. Their representatives will point to the labor market, asserting that there are not enough workers to man our industries; and the farmers are asking for more men to harvest their crops.

Free immigration means cheap labor and perhaps a slight decrease in the high cost of living. But what does cheap labor mean? It means the abandonment of the American standard of living. There are too many in Europe desiring to come to America. The immigrants, accustomed to a lower standard of living, would be willing to work for less than the wages now paid to American labor. Life for the workingman is not entirely ideal under present conditions. Many a wife and mother spends agonizing hours trying to make the pay check go 'round.

What have those European peoples done for us that we should deprive our own of necessities to make a place for them? It is well to remember Herbert Spencer's assertion that "Pure altruism is suicide."

Overpopulation is a problem that we must consider seriously if we are to keep America from following in the footsteps of India and China. The social and economic problem of the future is to preserve the choice sections of the earth from overpopulation.

We are moving steadily in the direction of selective immigration. The present law is a means, but not the end. Our first duty is to our own. Europe is suffering now from a complication of mental maladies. Men have gone mad over misunderstood human rights. The poison gas of Socialism in its most radical form has polluted the European atmosphere. The masses know not restraint. They seek to bring about changes in political institutions through force. They are not willing that the voice of the majority shall rule.

The immigrant class brings this pollution to the United States. Inspectors can examine their baggage for contraband at American ports of entry; but they cannot discover the contraband the immigrants carry in their heads. We passed through two years of unrest and attempts to overthrow our government through violent means immediately after the World War. Through the strict application of restrictive immigration laws and deportation of known radicals already within the country this menace has passed.

But there are more dissatisfied radicals in Europe now than ever before. Socialism is on the wane; but those who were its leaders have not been converted. No longer able to dominate in the countries of their birth they seek by every possible means to emigrate to America and continue their agitation here. We want none of them. We are able to conduct our affairs without the advice and co-operation of European Socialists and Communists. We have enjoyed a fair measure of prosperity during the last 100 years and feel that we are still able to manage our own affairs.

Yet we are not aiming at absolute isolation. Our object is to impress upon the European people that we want no one residing here who is not worthy to become an American citizen. We are proud of our nation, proud of our position in the world, and we are not prepared to compromise it through the admission of millions of undesirables.

Selective immigration will come in its due time. The present is only a transitory period. There can be made places in this country for 10,000,000 workers and their families from Europe, but not in a month or a year. Their admission must extend over a generation; and we want only those who are willing to earn their living by honest labor, who will obey the laws of the land during the period of probation before they are admitted to citizenship and permitted to collaborate in the making of the laws by which the people as a whole are governed.

America is no longer an asylum. It is a workshop; and at present we are not looking for managers but workers.

POOR JUDGMENT

Walter Sayles, alias Black Hawk, bad negro of Houston, Tex., has just received a total sentence for eleven highway robberies that will keep him in the penitentiary for 165 years, according to the strict letter of the law. Black Hawk admits that he is the victim of his own overpowering ambition. He tired of doing day labor and wanted to take a course in electrical engineering. To obtain the money needed for books and instruments he resorted to highway robbery. When the police interfered with this arrangement he was in no way disheartened. He says he would just as soon finish his course in the penitentiary. Time evidently doesn't mean much to Walter Sayles. According to the length of his sentence he will have lots of time to become an efficient electrical engineer. It's unfortunate for him that his judgment was not as good as his ambition.

THIS IS THE DAY

Molly Pitcher, heroine of the Revolution, was born at Carlisle, Pa., in the year 1744. She was the daughter of John George Ludwig, a German settler. In 1769 she was married to John Hays, a barber. At the battle of Monmouth she carried water for the soldiers in action. Her husband, a gunner, being wounded in action, she dropped her pitcher, seized a rammer and continued to operate his gun till the end of the engagement. For this act of heroism George Washington commissioned her a sergeant. After the war she was retired as an officer on half-pay.

The corner-stone of the President's house—the "White House"—was laid at Washington, in the year 1792.

WORK

BY DOROTHEA MOORE

In those far, far Ohio days of my early adolescence—days full of humidity and nights full of June bugs—there wasn't much to do "of evenings." And so the young people went not unwillingly to Wednesday evening prayer meeting. There we had a favorite hymn in which we yellingly adjured the universe to work through the hours because, if they didn't, the night was coming when man worked no more. We loved it and used to put the most emphatic emphasis on the word work. As for ourselves—life was a simple affair of easy good living, with big raspberries at 5 cents a box. School, too, was simple, and foregathered on her front porch with my chum, whose name was Genevieve, I rushed through some twenty lines of Virgil—unknowing and uncaring that it was connected with literature—a chapter of "Ten Weeks in Astronomy," a half-page of memorized geography and a detested thing called Paley's Natural Theology—to get at the real business of the afternoon, the reading of Wilkie Collins's "Woman in White."

It was much later on in life when it occurred to me that if, as some think, there's some trick in this game of living, that the gospel of work is one of its most obvious points. Isn't this shibboleth just something put over on us, like the discipline of children and the good behavior of wives? But it requires courage to say that one hates it and does it only under compulsion.

It is considered out of the mode to reflect upon the younger generation and comparisons are particularly malodorous. Yet if the young folks are the same they are the same with a difference. Their attitude toward work is so definite that the whole pedagogic world excites itself in the effort to turn it into play or to make the boy think it is. For instance, if order is any law of heaven at all let alone its first one, no modern boy knows it. If, as in my day, he had to "put his things away" before joining the gang there would be a revolt that would shake the neighborhood. He leaves his room—when most fixed up—as follows: One tie over the back of his chair, book-case doors half open, on his bureau strange fauna and flora, on the floor books, boxes, maps, papers and on his desk everything he might need from the cradle to cremation. To him—and he is typical—everything that is not play is work to be evaded, deplored, endured and when done accompanied with self-laudations reaching skyward. I came down in the elevator of a city building the other day with four husky boys bearing each several piled-up boxes of pasteboard to put into a delivery wagon. One looked so overbearingly set up that I could not help murmuring audibly—"noble boys working so hard!" and in perfect good faith with charming smile he replied, I should say!"

One Man with a Wide Influence

There is a man in Europe whose influence is said to be a potent factor in a half-dozen countries of Europe. He is Sir Basil Zaharoff, who lives in Paris. He is the personal friend of Lloyd George. He was born in Constantinople, but his parents were Greek. He's been active in Russian and Armenian affairs and is the Standard Oil's rival in Russia. He is the Royal Dutch Company, which is probably as powerful as the Standard Oil.

Sir Basil is the Royal Dutch Company. He has been referred to in the House of Parliament as the world's richest man. He is largely Europe's richest man. He controls the destinies of half a dozen countries of Europe at this moment. He has financed them all. He was a muffin man on the streets of Paris a day the potentates of Europe call him and pay tribute to him. He has patronized many persons and movements of one kind or another and yet but few persons know of him. He declines to make use of automobiles or typewriters.

[From the Martian "Observer."]

It is amusing to note that, among Earthites, the women continually are clamoring for "equality," while the men as habitually assert that "Women have all the best of it." While, from the Martian point of vantage, it appears clear that perfect equilibrium is maintained between the Earth sexes, each sex having a great deal the best of it in some things and a great deal the worst of it in others.

A few recent happenings on Earth can better illustrate this than any theorising from the viewpoint of our superior intelligence, so we will merely set before our readers a few radiograms.

In Japan for centuries the popular form of conveyance, for those too aristocratic to walk, was in jinrickshas. These vehicles were pulled through the streets by coolies, or men of the lowest order, creatures accustomed to be more or less trodden down and to consider it their due. But now motor cars are coming into use to such an extent that jinrickshas in Japan are as scarce as jin-rickeys in America. But the jinrickshas manufacturers were cleverer than the gin-rickey-makers. With oriental calm, philosophy and wisdom they merely began making the jinrickshas smaller, putting less material in them and marketing them as baby buggies. So now the places of the rickshas coolies are naturally being taken by husbands and fathers—creatures accustomed to be more or less trodden down and to take it as their due.

Another radiogram, from Los Angeles, tells that a man there has been given a divorce on testimony that his wife had the swearing habit. How can men assert that women have all the best of things in a country in which that could happen?

In Chicago recently a number of ladies have been on trial for murdering their husbands, some of them as many as four or five. In every case the verdicts showed that there are times when it is of considerable advantage to be a woman.

On the other hand, a young man is much less likely than a young lady to lose social standing if picked up by the "purity squad."

The most convincing illustration in today's budget comes from Chicago, where a girl masquerading as a man married another girl and continued to keep her secret from her "bride" until overcome by a yearning to go back to her own husband and be a woman again. For a couple of years she enjoyed all the rights and special privileges of a man, but now is glad to be herself. Especially was she glad to be a woman again during the trial, in which she was acquitted. Had she been a man, poor thing, she would at the very least have been soaked for alimony!

DOUBT MURDER CONFESSION

Order Test of Would-be Suicide's Sanity After Hearing Story of Michigan Killing

Leonard Rogers, who told the local police an amazing story of participation in a brutal murder in Michigan, when questioned yesterday after he had attempted suicide earlier in the day by slashing himself with a razor at the Stowell Hotel, was committed to the General Hospital for observation of his sanity.

Rogers was also booked as a fugitive pending the receipt of information from Chicago, where authorities believe, he may be wanted on a fictitious check charge.

SLAIN BY HIGH-JACKERS

Dowiatt was slain in January, 1923, by four liquor highjackers, who had represented themselves as prohibition enforcement officers. They demanded the right to search the fish peddler's truck, and he objected.

Two men are serving penitentiary sentences for the crime. Two others, Melvin Brown and Homer Fielding, pleaded guilty and were sentenced to serve from fifteen to twenty years at Marquette prison. Leo Sauerman, the third man, proclaimed his innocence. Brown attempted to exonerate him, naming another man [illegible] Sauerman, as the [illegible] one. A motion for a new trial in Sauerman's behalf was denied.

CLINE IS DOUBTFUL

Rogers's story was partly corroborated, Detective Lieutenant Herman Cline does not believe he was a participant in the [illegible].

"I say leave the gang members [illegible] at the time and let them know the details of the murder, but I do not think he had a part in it," said Cline. "The man's story is not a rational one. At times he talks incoherently of the affair. For that reason I have sent him to the General Hospital for observation of his sanity."

The fugitive charge was lodged against Rogers following the discovery of several letters in the man's pockets. They were written in the vernacular of the underworld by some person in Chicago and indicated to the investigators that, though Rogers may not have taken part in the Dombrowski murder, he is probably wanted by the Chicago police on a fictitious check charge.

TO BE HELD TEN DAYS

A letter containing all the details and impressions of Rogers's fingerprints was sent to the Chicago authorities by Captain of Detectives George Home. Rogers will be detained for ten days. If, at the expiration of that period, no information is forthcoming that he is wanted elsewhere he will be released.

Rogers, in his story, denied any part in the actual killing of the fish peddler. He admitted that he was the "sucker" chosen by the murderers to dispose of the weapon with which the crime had been committed. He explained that he was in a bootleggers' rendezvous in a little town near the scene of the murder when the four men entered and related the details.

DISPOSED OF GIN

"One of the men, known as Brownie, gave me a .45 caliber automatic pistol to sell," said Rogers. "I finally sold it to a man known as Whitie, a lookout for a bookie in a bootleg joint in Detroit, known as the Dutchman's Place. The money I got from the sale I gave to Brownie. Then I took him and his wife to Columbus, O."

When questioned about the fourth member of the gang, the one who was never captured, Rogers displayed nervousness and garbled his statements. He declared he had no knowledge of what had happened to him.

"Brownie's wife tried to hang it on me," he said.

Rogers stated that he had also assisted the same gang at a previous date when he drove a car filled with high-jacked liquor out of a cache belonging to the gang near Detroit.

ACTED AS "FILLER-IN"

"During this time, I was working for newspapers around Detroit and across the Canadian line," he added, "but I was only a filler-in for the gang. I also gave them suggestions for their high-jacking raids."

As a "filler-in," Rogers explained, he had been hired to give the appearance of a prosperous business man as bait for the victims.

Rogers arrived in Los Angeles last Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steinke of Chicago. They had made the trip by automobile and occupied adjoining rooms at the hotel. At 3 a.m., Steinke was aroused by poundings on his door and the exclamation, "I want to die in Frank's room!"

Steinke found Rogers saturated with blood from his slashed wrists and throat. The police questioned Steinke and, not satisfied with his answers, held him at Central Station for further investigation. He was released several hours later.

these ideas," said Consul Leal. "First, I consider it our duty and privilege to assimilate in our own thought and lives the best that this country has to offer and, secondly, I think that we should contribute to the progress and happiness of this country the best that we have to give.

"We Latin-Americans have a reverence for music," continued the speaker. "This music you have heard, and the dancing you have seen are not the product of jungle savages, but represent the flower and fruit of one of the oldest of civilizations. Like the Greeks of old who pictured their gods listening to the music of Apollo, and like the ancient and modern Christians who paint their angels with harps in their hands, so do we Mexicans revere the goddess of song—for to us music is life and love and beauty. The opening of the railway into the interior is a real pioneering effort, like the railroad construction in the Rocky Mountain States in the early days in the West. The native labor has proved efficient.

MULES ARE COSTLY

One of the greatest difficulties is in getting animal power at fair prices. Mules, which are the best beasts for the work, are hard to find and costly in Mexico. The Mexican mules, which are smaller than the American ones, but good workers, cost the company $125 gold. The lowly burro, which can be owned in Arizona and New Mexico by those that merely catch him, costs 30 pesos down the Mexican West Coast.

Mr. Pitcomb reports that the agricultural industry is flourishing. The rains about Tepic have aided the growers there and the garbanza crop in Sonora will be good this year. The garbanza is raised in Sonora almost exclusively for exportation to Spain. The United Sugar Company of Los Mochis, Sin., just off the Southern Pacific line, has just completed construction of a new plant which will have a capacity of 20,000 tons of sugar for the season. This company is operated by American capital and besides supplying a large part of the Mexican demand, exports some sugar into the United States.

CHIEF OF POLICE SOUNDS APPEAL

long we will have the situation in hand."

Somehow one feels, after looking Chief Vollmer in the eyes while he is talking, that he is exactly the man to do the job, no matter what it is.

"You ask me what progress has been made in the reorganization of the police department," Chief Vollmer said fingering a voluminous report. "Well, I could tell you, for example, that major crimes have fallen off 25 per cent. That may not mean anything, according to one's point of view or inclination. Some may call it luck. Some may say this will not keep up. I am not interested in anything but essentials, and the essential things, to my mind, are accurate analysis, efficient methods, and good morale."

And then Chief Vollmer proceeded to outline what has been done and what he still plans to do.

A study of divisions and activities of the department was made, he explained, and the following was decided as necessary and placed in operation:

The property clerk's office, where millions of property are handled each year, was created into a separate division. "We found that there was room for leaks of all kinds. The office handles money, valuables, liquor, evidence. So we stopped the leaks, created a division and placed the responsibility where it can be traced. This office is now in charge of a captain.

MAKES VICE DIVISION

The next step, Chief Vollmer said, was to create a vice division. Every form of vice, including the narcotic work, was placed into this division for regulation and detection, and the work was so centralized that one head is to be responsible. Acting Captain Massey is in charge of this division.

"Incidentally," the Chief remarked while discussing the vice division organization, "while it is true that I consider major crimes to be of primary importance, I intend to see that gamblers and our most prominent and prosperous bootleggers get a full measure of true southern hospitality. We may not be able to get to them right away, but we will give them all the attention they deserve, and when we hit them, they will know they were hit. You can state it for me that I am going to break up the ring. The gentlemen in question will know just what I mean."

Step number three in Chief Vollmer's program, although first in chronological order, was the organization of a mobile division now known, and properly so, he said, as the "crime crushers." The records of stolen cars alone will show the great value of this division. "We are going to use this force where it is most needed, and we are going to know where and when it is most needed from the statistical bureau of our record division," the Chief explained.

The Statistical Bureau and the record division are numbers four and five in the Chief's plan. The most efficient machinery for handling enormous volumes of records it to be placed in this division. The accounting records, correspondence, personnel branch records, pawn shop reports, identification records, license records and the printing departments will be included in this division.

DETECTIVE BUREAU

The detective bureau, the backbone of the police department so far as the suppression of major crimes is concerned, is one of the big items in the Chief's plan. Special squads will be organized and placed in commands of assistant captains. Extreme specialization and efficiency is to supplant the old hit or miss way of doing things, the Chief indicated. "Our statistical bureau will give us the needed facts. We then will be in a position to study our problems with a sure background and know when and where to concentrate our efforts," he explained.

Another function of the records division will be the study of the police courts and the results obtained there. The police department will be able to tell what happens to their cases, and why. "We will know," Chief Vollmer put it, "how many continuances were had, why they were granted, who the bondsmen for certain bootleggers are, and who their attorneys are and many a 'coincidence' will become significant in the light of these records. Then, knowing the facts, we will be able to shift our tactics and keep up with the professional law violators."

Chief Vollmer also went into details of his plan for placing the police department on a basis of immediate availability through the use of alarm horns, located in specified places and operated through central switchboards, in turn controlled through headquarters. Special switchboards have been installed, and are being placed in commission.

"When anything of importance happens we will be able to hear from every officer, whether on duty or off duty, in a few minutes from the time the signals are blown, he said.

The Central station switchboards have been installed for several days. The substations are now being given necessary telephone equipment.

Chief Vollmer realizes that all this is no small job.

"The people must be told about my plans. Without their support nothing can be accomplished. I have appeared before all sorts of organizations and unfolded in part my plans. Next month I will go to the different stations and talk to the men. It is their co-operation that I need as much as the general public's support. I want to know all my men and to have them know me. When we understand what is wanted we can work in better harmony. Every man on the police department will be given a chance to do his best and those who have the ability will be rewarded accordingly. Every man will be given a chance to learn more than he knows. I intend to have schools for all. But those who do not want to to hit the ball will have to go. This business is too serious to be cluttered up with a lot of people who don't want to do anything."

After talking to Chief Vollmer there remains no doubt that he knows what he wants and that when he gets through with his job the people of Los Angeles will know what to expect from an efficient police department. Nor does there seem to be any doubt that those who are with Chief Vollmer are going to have a lot of work, fun and opportunities, and those who are against him are slated for "grief." It is an old word at the police headquarters, but for the first time in the department's history it is going to have a new meaning.

For August Vollmer is a new type of Chief of Police.

BANDIT CAR FOUND

Battle-Scarred Auto Thought Used in Gang Fight

A battle-scarred automobile, believed by police to have been one of the cars used by the hijackers or bootleggers with whom Chief Investigator George Contreras's men had a gun fight in Cahuenga Pass Saturday, was found abandoned yesterday by police in a lonely spot near the corner of Fourth street and Loma Drive.

The car, a Packard, had blood stains on the front seat, a hole in the windshield and several bullet holes through the top and in the back.

The vehicle was registered, the police declare, to Mrs. R. M. Falconer of the Cartwright Hotel, San Francisco, and is assumed to have been stolen. It was turned over to Investigator Contreras.

PLEDGES TO BOOST BODY ARE RAISED

All-Year Club Backers Renew Subscriptions in Larger Amounts

Increased subscriptions from former subscribers again marked the reports of workers in the campaign of the All Year Club of Southern California for a minimum working fund of $350,000, at the regular luncheon meeting yesterday at the Alexandria. Pledges representing increases of from 50 to 200 per cent over former pledges were turned in by many of the volunteer workers.

The increase of 200 per cent was pledged by a firm which had formerly subscribed $100 a year to the All Year work. In signing up for 1924, the firm's head stated that his business had increased 200 per cent in the last two years, and he was therefore signing up a new pledge for $300, the advance being for the same amount as the increased volume of his business.

With the reports that are expected today, it was estimated that the club's 1924 fund will total more than $200,000 by tonight. This does not include large amounts that are in prospect, and which, according to the reports of the workers as made yesterday, require only formal action by the directing boards of various firms and organizations before being listed in the roster of pledges. A number of those assisting in the campaign have already announced that they intend to continue their efforts next week.

Subscriptions reported yesterday include the following:

Andrews Talking Machine Company, Associated Rubber and Manufacturing Company, Allen Arnold, Burroughs Adding Machine Company, California Camera Hospital, A. L. Davies & Company, E. A. Dorsa Oil Company, Charles S. Dudrick Company, Harry L. Hazard, Coulter Dry Goods & Co., Kellawy Ice Company, Earl W. Lewis Company, Newbery Electric Corporation, Olive Leaf Press, Pacific Coast Biscuit Company, Pacific Engraving Company, Parker, Stone & Baird Co., Penner Engraving Company, G. J. Reardon, Rosenberg & Co., Mary A. Rothwell, Sanford Engineering and Construction Company, H. W. Scott, Sebastian Stationers, Smith-Barnes Corporation, Southland Publishing House, Story & Clark Piano, Treister-Tatum Company, Van de Kamp Bakery Company, C. G. Viscoi & Co., Wallace Bonrath Company, Weber & McCrea

Japanese Name Reconstruction Board Officials

Members of the Japanese reconstruction board to direct the work of rebuilding Tokio and Yokohama have been named, according to information from Commercial Attache Julian Arnold.

This commission will have charge of the devastated area in Tokio and Yokohama; the remainder will come under the work of the Department of the Interior.

Viscount Goto heads the board as president. Other members are S. Miyoa, chief of land adjustment bureau, former Governor of Hokkaido; K. Matsuki, chief of material supply department, former director of the Tokio electric department; H. Ikeda, chief of plans bureau, former deputy mayor of Tokio; R. Sano, chief of construction, former Tokio consulting engineer; R. Naoki, chief of civil engineering bureau; S. Sogo, chief of finance bureau, former counselor and chief accountant financial bureau, Imperial Railroads.

There are no queues in Shansu, China, for the Governor of that Province has enforced the no-queue law, it is said.

Last Day of the Toy Circus, Saturday, Oct. 13---Everybody Welcome

New Frocks at a Low Pricing, $45

ALL of them possess that indefinable yet easily recognizable quality that places them in the coveted top rank among frocks.

Some of these frocks are for those who believe that wool is the fabric most congenial with this season, and who are justly confident of Robinson's readiness to satisfy their beliefs.

Or Silk—including the smooth, rich velvets and fine satins—these frocks having the quality of their texture to combine with the skill of their designers to make them creations of rare distinction.

Every design and intent fits them for the adorning of those who respect the mode.

At the uniform pricing of $45.00.

THIRD FLOOR

Winter Top Coats Exceptionally Priced $47.50, $57.50, $67.50

SO soft and warm and of just the right weight for winter are these big, comfortable sports Coats. Some of them sharply reduced—others very new, and specially low priced.

Their tailoring and style commend them to all who demand the mark of newness in their street apparel.

Shadow plaids, stripes or supple camels' hair fabrics and, often, their fur collars, make them fully as appropriate to the semi-formal occasion as to the strictly sports.

They are in grays, browns, tans and mixed shades, similar to heather mixtures.

At three amazingly low prices —$47.50, $57.50 and $67.50.

THIRD FLOOR

Matrons' Hats, $10 and $12.50

SO DISTINGUISHED A GROUP OF HATS TO PRESENT TO WOMEN OF DISCRIMINATING TASTE. WOMEN WHOSE DIGNITY IS NOT SO MUCH A MATTER OF YEARS AS OF POSITION—MATRONS WHOSE STYLE IS ALWAYS A CRITERION. AND ALL OF THE HATS AT THESE TWO EXCEPTIONAL PRICES.

Many of them are small of brim, quite close and tailored. Of the favorite fabrics for Winter, Velvets and Hatters' Plush predominating, and in combinations of the season's colors.

And in every type of silhouette to which the new lines will adapt themselves. Some with closely fitting ostrich feathers, or with cockades of uncurled ostrich, or with wide moire ribbon tilted at dashing angles.

Grouped at the two unusually low prices of $10.00 and $12.50.

THIRD FLOOR

Circus Day Again at Robinson's Today---Last Time

ANOTHER Circus Day—But the last day—Saturday, October 13th. The last time to see the toy wild animals in the parade—the monkeys—the trained dogs—the little black ponies—the fairylike little dancing girl—and the clowns.

The big Parade and the Performance will be at 10:00 in the morning, and again at 2:00 in the afternoon. Just the way it was last Saturday, but even better.

So everybody come! Boys and Girls, mothers and fathers. No one in Los Angeles should miss it,ss it, this Saturday. Complimentary Tickets may be ogtained at the ticket wagon—today.

ROBINSON'S FIFTH FLOOR—TOY SECTION

Toy Specials for Saturday

Baby Dolls, $1 and $1.75

BABY DOLLS—they are fascinating to put to sleep, with their sleeping eyes and beautiful long eyelashes. They are jointed and have wigs of mohair. Priced for Circus Day at $1 and $1.75.

Doll Buggies $4.50

THE Doll Buggies are just like real baby carriages, except for their size.

Of wicker body, in ecru color only, they have adjustable hoods, and rubber tired wheels. With the body and hood lined. At $4.50.

Horses and Carts $1.00

HORSES hitched to Carts, with complete harness, and with painted carts trimmed in red on Saturday — Circus Day — will be priced at $1.00.

Toy Automobiles $10.00

TOY Automobiles, as exactly like the big one daddy drives as rubber tires, head lights, bumper, motor meter, horn and a regular gear shift lever, can make one. Priced at $10.00 each.

FIFTH FLOOR

Flannel Shirts and Blouses

Flannel Shirts and Blouses, in sizes from 6 to 16 at $3.50 each. The Shirts in sizes 12 to 14 priced at $4.00 each.

FIRST FLOOR

Knicker Suits, $18.50

Boys' Knicker Suits of a fine quality of all-wool tweed, well tailored in the Norfolk style, in sizes from 7 to 18 years. At $18.50.

BOYS' SECTION—

Boys' Overcoats

BOYS' new Fall Overcoats, raglan type, of heavy worsted coating fabrics, in light grays or tans. With the inverted pleat, all around belt, and patch pockets, these coats have attended correctly to detail, and are priced at only $22.50!

Outing Flannel at 28c

3000 yards of white "Sealskin" Outing Flannel, of a firm, long-wearing quality which will retain its thick, warm nap for many a season; and Robinson's are fortunate in having this supply, specially large and specially priced for Saturday only at 28c a yd.

SECOND FLOOR

Girls' Sports Coats $19.50

COATS that use Polaire Cloth—the fabric of this season, the fabric—without a shadow of doubt, for girls' coats. If all coats could look as full of style, as warm and fleecy as these, there would be an end to competition.

There are 50 of these Coats for girls, in a choice of two styles, belted or mannishly flaring. With a fine quality of silk lining.

And they may be had in one of the desired shades of the season—tan or reindeer. In sizes from 6 to 16 years.

These coats are at the special pricing of $19.50.

FOURTH FLOOR

Girls' Hats for Fall or Winter

WHEN the younger girl is being outfitted for the winter, the importance of the trig, becoming hat is greater than any one other article.

And a hat from this group Robinson's presents, so early in the season and at such attractive prices, that may be worn for every day and for every Sunday, too, has its advantages. Especially when it is so unusual a value.

The selection includes hats of velvet, in the new browns as well as other shades; of velours, or of felt. These being for street and school wear and priced each at $7.95.

Other hats, at $10.95, are designed and trimmed along more elaborate lines and many styles are also of velvet or of velours.

FOURTH FLOOR

Drape Veils $1.00

200 Veils of hexagon mesh for draping over one's most recently acquired velvet hat. The embroidered borders on black or differently combined colors render them unusually distinctive.

They are in oblong, square and circular effects. And specially priced at $1.00 each.

FIRST FLOOR

Full Fashioned Silk Hose for Women $1.65 a Pair

ROBINSON'S special Silk Hose for women—full fashioned Hose at a price which hardly seems possible.

For they are of clear, lustrous, shimmering silk which gives long and satisfactory service—with no diminution of its beauty. Well-fitting and with linle feet and tops, they include these shades:

Beaver, fawn, gun metal, otter, Magdalay, African, cinnamon, beige, platinum, silver, pigeon, Congo, log cabin, Sahara, buck, putty, Copen, orchid, peach, nude, white and black.

At the extraordinary pricing of $1.65 a pair.

200 Brushed Wool Scarfs Greatly Reduced

SCARFS of which each woolly fiber works for the sole end of effectively warming the wearer in its angora or camel's hair folds.

There are 200 of them, all of the same soft wool—all of them reduced remarkably, now when they are specially needed for the colder weather.

Some with Roman stripes on the ends, some plain from one fringed end to the other. Prices of them at this time are $2.95 and $4.75.

FIRST FLOOR

Children's Shoes

A SHOE that children can wear and wear, for school and play, that seems to wear out only when it is outgrown.

DESIRABLE INCOME PROPERTY.
Four-family flat building on paved street lined with full grown trees, and a wealth of shrubbery. Each flat contains six large rooms, with three bedrooms, and is excellently planned with plenty of closet room and all possible conveniences. Two of these flats are fully furnished to rented tenants with a fine supply of linens, etc., and one has a baby grand piano in excellent condition.
On the property is also a fully furnished three-room bungalow, 2½ garages and a large store-room. The lot is 76 x 175 feet.
The owner is compelled to sell and has consented to take $45,000 for a quick disposal. There is nearly $20,000 mortgage at 6% which has four years to run. The monthly income is $350. For a cash investment, this $45,000 it is impossible to duplicate this proposition anywhere. The offering complete is worth fully $55,000 today. See Mr. Tyner or Mr. Morgan.

DON'T PASS THIS OPPORTUNITY
We don't believe it can be equalled in Southern California today. Those wonderful—
5 AND 10-ACRE GLEN AVON FARMS
$250 an acre and up. Terms $25 cash, balance over four years.
A few minutes' drive from center of Riverside, near excellent schools; gas and electricity available; sparkling artesian water for domestic use and abundant cheap water for irrigation. (Water rights go with the land.)

PROTECTED LOCATION
The land is ideally situated—a sheltered foothill beauty spot. Rich soil, free from sand, alkali or adobe; ideal for garden truck, grapes, deciduous berries, citrus and poultry raising.
Some of the land is already planted to grapes, lemons, peaches, etc., and can be bought for as low as $525 per acre.

MEN WHO KNOW BUY HERE
One of the strongest recommendations for GLEN AVON FARMS is that this land is being bought by men who know good land—who have traveled all over and have chosen GLEN AVON FARMS for their permanent home.
Buy here NOW. It will mean financial independence for you, as well as a beautiful home.

AUTOS WILL BE BUILT AT AZUSA

Paramount Corporation to Erect Huge Plant

Tract Bought for $1,000,000 Motors Plant

Contract is Made With City; Plan 2000 Employees

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

AZUSA, Oct. 13.—With the announcement this morning that the Paramount Motors Corporation had closed a deal for the purchase of 160 acres of land and will begin the erection of the first unit of a $1,000,000 automobile factory, Azusa was hit by a wave of excitement.

The deal has been pending for weeks, but the public knew little of the plans. The contract with the city was signed in Los Angeles last night. By terms of the agreement the corporation will deposit in the First National Bank of Azusa $250,000 as a guarantee of good faith in building its factory and $35,000 for extending water mains to the proposed factory site, which is a mile southwest of the center of town, on Irwindale avenue. The land was acquired by Azusa several years ago for industrial purposes. Ten thousand dollars of the money already is up and the $35,000 for water mains likewise has been posted. It is said the balance of the guarantee fund is to be on deposit within thirty days.

F. S. Lack, prominent Brawley and Phoenix financier, is fiscal agent for the company and has associated with him Los Angeles bankers and financiers whose names are withheld.

The company proposes to begin the manufacture of automobiles with 2000 employees and announces a plan for increasing this number to 5000 within three years. In its contract with Azusa it is said the company agrees to produce a minimum of 1000 cars a month. The Paramount car never has been built commercially, but its designers declare it is ready for manufacture now.

CONVICTION WILL COST DILLON JOB

Fresno Official Forfeits Post, in Opinion of City Attorney

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Oct. 13.—Charles Dillon, City Commissioner of Finance, convicted yesterday on all thirteen counts of an indictment charging falsification of public money records, automatically forfeited his office when the verdict was returned, according to a statement made today by City Attorney W. E. Simpson.

In view of the apparent conflicts in the city charter, however, Simpson advised that the City Commission prefer charges against Dillon and adopt such resolutions as it deems appropriate.

The commission voted yesterday to meet tomorrow morning to consider the Dillon matter. All other members of the body today stated that they will vote to remove him from office. It is expected that his successor will be chosen at once.

Most prominent among the names mentioned is that of Thomas E. Risley, civil engineer and large property owner.

Dillon, today remained silent and in seclusion. He was released last night from the custody of the Sheriff after providing $20,000 bond, set by Superior Judge J. E. Wolley when the verdict was read. Sentence is to be pronounced Monday. Defense Attorney Carl E. Lindsay gave notice that he will move for a new trial and today announced that if the motion is denied Dillon will appeal.

WATERWORKS HEAD SETS PRICE ON PLANT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 12.—President J. R. Williams of the Bakersfield waterworks has submitted a sale price to the directors of the Bakersfield water district for the holdings of his company, which, exclusive of certain possessions of the waterworks, amounts to $339,671. This appraisal, it is understood, does not take into consideration any depreciation on the properties or equipment.

PASTOR GOES TO ARIZONA

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 12. After being a resident of this city for the last three and one-half years, Rev. A. L. Baker left this week for Phoenix, Ariz., having been appointed at the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of this section as district superintendent of Arizona. Mr. Baker for about three years was pastor of the local church and a year ago was appointed to take charge of some of the good will work of this denomination in Los Angeles. He expects to make Phoenix his headquarters, and his family will follow him within the next month.

COTTONSEED PRICE JUMPS

Rate Per 1000 Kilos Goes from $24 to $30; Extra Profit Guaranteed to Growers

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CALEXICO, Oct. 12.—Imperial Valley's cottonseed market stiffened perceptibly today when the Globe Oil Mills offered $30 per 1000 kilos in Mexicali, an increase of $6 over the closing price of yesterday. The new figure is equivalent to $27.20 a short ton in Mexicali, of $40.90 a ton on the American side of the international line. The difference between the two prices on opposite sides of the line is represented by duties, cartage and brokerage.

The price made today practically guaranteed to the cotton planters of Imperial Valley, including the extensive growers in Lower California, an additional profit on this year's crop of $250,000. There are practically 40,000 tons of cottonseed still to be marketed, according to reliable cotton authorities.

Today's jump in the price of seed was the largest since the cotton season opened early last month. Buyers for the Globe Oil Mills were then paying $10.00 per 1000 kilos in Mexicali. When the condition of the outside cottonseed market was made fully known here, competing gins announced that $28.00 per 1000 kilos would be paid in Mexicali. The Globe Company came up to this price, which finally changed to $24.00, where it has hovered until today.

News of the sudden increase in the seed market caused much joy among the numerous Chinese planters of Lower California. Several of the oriental planters openly declared that they believed the price was going higher and indicated that they would probably hold their cottonseed and get the benefit of the rise. The effect of the new price was just as noticeable among the American planters, who declared it the best news received here since they started picking the crop.

WOMAN HIT BY BURGLAR RECOVERING

Victim Felled by Intruder Appears Little Worse for Experience

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 13.—Despite the fact that she was rendered unconscious by a blow at the hands of a burglar who was surprised in the act of plundering, Miss Margaret A. Cowan, 1113 Fourteenth street, is little the worse today for her experience.

A midnight marauder jimmied a window to effect his entrance and upon being discovered by Miss Cowan, produced a revolver and demanded money.

Though badly frightened, the young woman reached for a knife on a near-by table, whereupon the man struck Miss Cowan a blow on the head which sent her reeling to the floor.

The screams of the young lady's room-mate, who was awakened by the commotion, frightened the burglar away without any spoils.

Long Beach Now Planning to Run Auto Bus Lines

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Oct. 12.—With Long Beach going in for the municipal operation of industries in the public-service classification, a movement has been launched here for the city to take over the operation of the auto-bus lines which serve the residential districts. The bus lines, long a target for irate citizens who have demanded better service, will have to comply with these demands at once or take a chance of being put out of business by competing lines to be operated municipally, it was said here today.

Universal transfers, cross-town loop bus service, five-minute schedules and seating capacity sufficient to care for every passenger are included in the demands that have been made upon the bus companies from time to time, and these demands are now ready to go before the City Council with a demand that if they are not forthcoming the city of Long Beach go into the bus business, representatives of the Northeast Improvement Association, the organization behind the movement, declared today.

Seized Machines Will be Sold in Fresno at Once

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Oct. 12.—Immediate proceedings to dispose of forty automobiles seized here in liquor cases, under a law not heretofore used in that connection, were planned today at a conference here attended by Asst. U. S. Atty. Simpson of Los Angeles, Prohibition Agent T. E. Nicely, and Deputy United States Marshal S. J. Shannon. In the past cars seized in prohibition cases could not be forfeited under the dry law unless the owner was found guilty of illegal transportation of liquor.

Many defendants jumped their bail, never claiming their cars and left the government holding the machines, apparently without any right to dispose of them. But under Section 3450 of the Revised Statutes, any vessel or vehicle used as a place of concealment or deposit for any property subject to tax or on which tax has been imposed, with intent to defraud the government of such tax, such vessel or vehicle is subject to forfeiture.

RIVERSIDE FAIR EXPECTS CROWD

Record Attendance Forecast for Last Day

Kentucky Derby to be Race Card Feature

State Turf Association is Discussed at Meeting

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 12.—The biggest crowd of the year is expected to be in attendance at the Southern California Fair here tomorrow, the closing day.

A feature of the race card is expected to be the Kentucky Derby with several Kentucky two-year-olds entered. This race was postponed today because of a fear that the horses would be frightened by a wind which came up early in the afternoon. Today's crowd was said by fair directors to be unusually large for a Friday, but the attendance was smaller than yesterday.

MANY IN GRANDSTAND

Grandstand and bleacher receipts surpassed former days despite the lowered gate check.

Three important meetings were conducted last night in connection with the fair, one being a group of fifty California horse racers who discussed first steps toward the organization of a California racing association, and the second being the annual meeting of the National Bantam Association. The third meeting was that of the Southern California Pure Bred Livestock Association.

Rules and conditions for races in the State were considered at the meeting of horsemen and a proposal was made by S. H. Cowell of Santa Cruz, that a California stake of $3000 be made for bolt trotters and pacers at the Stockton fair. Election of officers and a general discussion of the display of the National Bantam Show here were the most important features of the Bantam Association meeting. Considerable praise was given Riverside and the Southern California Fair Association by eastern speakers because of the record bantam exhibition here with 1106 birds on display.

OFFICERS ELECTED

E. T. Hammond of Riverside was elected president of the organization. Other officers chosen were Mrs. Ben Davis Cucamonga, first vice-president; R. P. Kruin, Stafford, Kan., second vice-president; A. W. Huskins, Los Angeles, secretary. Herman Michel, Santa Monica banker and stock fancier, was re-elected president of the Southern California Pure Bred Livestock Association. George Thomas of Arlington was chosen vice-president, and W. Van Pelt, secretary of the Southern California Fair Association and organizer of the association, which was started in Riverside years ago, was elected secretary.

All awards now have been made and ribbons adorn virtually every exhibit at the fair.

STABS GIRL TO DEATH IN RESTAURANT

San Diego Suitor Then Plunges Knife in Self; is Not Expected to Recover

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 12.—A lovers' quarrel is blamed for a stabbing affray today in a Mexican eating house, resulting in the death of pretty Espineria Silva, 25 years of age. Leonardo Moreno, 30 years of age, after slashing his sweetheart, plunged the weapon into his abdomen four times, and is not expected to live.

Diners in the restaurant were thrown into a panic when Moreno, without warning, drew a large pocket knife and attacked the girl. Miss Silva screamed for help as she was struck to the floor, but Moreno threatened death to anyone who interfered. After striking the prostrate girl once more he turned the weapon on himself.

Miss Silva died soon after removal to a hospital. Moreno, physicians said, had cut himself so badly that his death was momentarily expected.

OPERATIVE HAS GOOD 'SMELLER'

Fresno Officer Tells if You Were Drinking and What it Was

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Oct. 12.—Cloves and coffee beans are in order when S. P. Rees, operative for the District Attorney's office is in the vicinity of an alcoholic breath. For Rees apparently qualified as a champion sniffer.

Testifying yesterday in Superior Court before Judge Stanley J. Murray he announced that he can tell the difference between a "jackass" breath and a wine breath and added that at a distance of two and a half feet he had sensed that James T. Mullins of Corcoran had imbibed both "jackass" and wine. That was on the occasion of Mullins's arrest on a charge of driving while intoxicated. A jury in Judge Murray's court found Mullins guilty.

DAVIS SEES OLD FRIEND IN AUDIENCE

Labor Secretary Points to Man Whose Shoes He Shined in Boyhood Days

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 12.—Catching sight of an elderly man in the front row of his audience as he was delivering an address here today, Secretary of Labor Davis suddenly broke off his discourse and said:

"There is a man who has known me from my boyhood days. He was a young business man in Sharon, Pa., when my family moved to that town from Wales. Many times I have shined his shoes for a nickel, and I used to sell him the Sharon Eagle when I was a newsboy."

Laying particular emphasis on his humble origin and the hardships of his youth, the Cabinet official and leader of the Loyal Order of Moose told his hearers, which consisted mainly of high school boys and girls, of the wonderful opportunities they were enjoying in comparison with the lack of educational advantages in former years.

"There should be a fourth 'R' added to the modern school course," Secretary Davis declared. "With 'reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic you should put reazion, for if you are going to make a success of life in the American way, you must have the fourth 'R.'"

Plane Squadron Will Leave for Legion Meeting

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 12.—Nine United States Army airplanes will take off from Clover Aviation Field early Sunday morning in battle formation, bound for San Francisco, where they will take part in the maneuvers in the Bay City in connection with the annual convention of the American Legion.

Lieut. C. C. Moseley, commanding officer at the local field, will be in charge of the squadron. Clover Field will be virtually deserted while the planes are gone. Planes from San Diego and other Pacific Coast stations will also participate, about fifty being on the program.

BRIDGE AGAIN FIRED

Catches Second Time When Man Tries to Burn Lizards Out

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VENTURA, Oct. 12.—A peculiar fate seems to hang over the Monteivo Bridge across the Santa Clara River. A short time ago it was set afire and almost destroyed by George Lukas, an Oxnard Greek, now in the insane asylum. Yesterday it was again set afire by one Seth Ballard, who has long made his home in the willows by the bridge and a living from the willow baskets, which he makes and sells. He told the officers that lizards had become such a torment to him that he fired some brush in an effort to get rid of them.

In a short time the fire was beyond his control and the Sheriff's office was notified. A telegraph pole by the railroad track was burned off and fell across the track narrowly missing a passing freight train.

W. H. RYAN, PIONEER IN GOLD SEARCH, DIES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Oct. 12.—William H. Ryan, one of the oldest residents of this district, died today at his home in Arroyo Grande at the age of 93 years. He was a pioneer of this State and was closely identified with its early history, and for more than half a century was a close friend of the late Chris Buckley of San Francisco. Born in Amesbury, Mass., April 25, 1830, he sailed around the Horn to San Francisco when 19 years of age, landing there in April, 1850. In the spring of 1860 he went to the Washoe gold mines in Nevada, where he remained until 1863, when he sold his business interests and went to Silver Mountain in Alpine county, Cal. At that place he built the Ryan Exchange Hotel, the building which is now used as the Courthouse, the town having changed its name to Markleeville.

PUPILS ARE OFFERED PRIZE FOR COURTESY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ONTARIO, Oct. 12.—Declaring that politeness and courteous behavior are rapidly becoming lost arts among the children of the present generation, members of the Parent-Teacher Association of the South Euclid-avenue School one of the largest of the city, announced today after their initial meeting of the year that at the close of the term the organization would present a medal to the child in each room who shows the greatest progress in these lines during the year. Mrs. G. T. Moody is president of the association and Mrs. H. V. Pond is secretary.

POMONA PRESIDENT OFF ON TRIP TO EAST

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLAREMONT, Oct. 12.—President James A. Blaisdell of Pomona College left today on an extended trip through the East to meet various committees and clubs in the interest of the college. He will stop over at Evanston, Ill., to meet with William S. Mason, donor of the new Mason chemistry hall, and while there will meet with the Pomona College Club of Chicago at Chicago. He will also confer with Dr. Nash of the Congregational Foundation for Education.

AUTOISTS BITE ON FIRE BAIT

Department Chiefs Set Trap for Drivers Who Respond to Alarms

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, Oct. 12.—Chief of Police Harry L. Barker and Fire Chief Charles F. Fergusson caught almost 100 automobile drivers in a trap used to prevent cars blocking the way of fire apparatus responding to alarms. Many of the drivers have been assessed small fines to remind them that there is an ordinance prohibiting the running of automobiles to fires in advance of fire apparatus.

The officials obtained permission from the City Trustees to set fire to a pile of brush in the City Park. As soon as the alarm was sounded and the reflection of the fire could be seen on the sky, hundreds of cars headed at full speed in that direction. Many of the drivers found when they started away again that the streets were blocked by officers taking car numbers and owners' names.

Revenues From City-Owned Oil Lands Increase

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Oct. 12—The city treasury of Long Beach has been enriched to the extent of $71,926, this amount representing the city's share of oil royalties accruing for the month of September from the sale of oil produced on city-owned lands in the Signal Hill field. From the Jergins Trust, operating several wells on city-owned property, the city received $64,711 in September, checks for that amount having been paid for the Standard Oil Company, purchaser of the crude oil. This was an increase of $17,347 over the month of August. Royalties from the Ramsey wells, also on city property, brought the city $6435.54. The Shell interests and others brought the total up to more than $71,000. The city's revenue from oil and gasoline since the beginning of the fiscal year July 1, now totals $132,134.94.

DRIVER HELD TO BLAME IN AUTO DEATH

Crash in Which Woman Was Killed Laid to Drunkenness on Part of Angeleno

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 12.—George Robinson of 717 Whittier street, Los Angeles, was today held responsible for the death of Florenz Duncan of the Hoffman Apartments, 1241 Ingraham street, Los Angeles, who was killed in an automobile crash near here Wednesday morning. Robinson, according to witnesses at the Coroner's inquest, was intoxicated while driving, so much so that two girl companions deserted the party at a roadhouse and returned to their homes.

The two girls, Beryl Lilluf of 840 South Flower street, and Blanch McLaren, also of Los Angeles, testified that Robinson's driving caused them to become frightened, and fearing an accident, they decided to seek safety in flight. Miss Lilluf testified that the quartet had several drinks in Los Angeles and then several more at the roadhouse.

Patrolman R. J. Rasmussen of the Sawtelle police force, testified that he found Robinson hiding in bushes after the tragedy and that he believed him to be in an intoxicated condition. He declared Robinson was shaking from the consequences of the accident and from the effects of numerous drinks.

E. J. Dennison, representative of the District Attorney's office, declared that a warrant charging Robinson with manslaughter would be issued and that he would be prosecuted immediately. Robinson is at liberty on $10,000 bail.

MISSING PASADENA GIRL IS ARRESTED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 12.—Thirteen-year-old Vivian Theisbaum of 696 North Raymond avenue, Pasadena, reported missing from her home since last Monday, was arrested here this afternoon. She is being held for Juvenile Court authorities on the request of her parents. Her companion, C. L. White, who says he is 23 years of age, but who refuses to give the police any other information, is being held on a felony charge. According to the police the girl was residing at the Prince Apartments, Ocean Park, under the name of Mrs. Charles Brown.
